 MANUFACTURED ICE.

For the information of the public and to correct erroneous ideas on the subject of artificial ice we give the following facts in regard to the manufacture of ice: Our manner of making ice is to distill the water by condensing steam, thus making it absolutely pure. Then we pass over charcoal to completely deodorize it and any remaining traces of impurity matter, after which it is filled with air and placed in brine chilled below the freezing point, and there it remains until it is frozen as clear as crystal and almost as solid as glass. This ice is longer than natural ice and has all the medicinal virtues of the high priced table waters of commerce

TARIFF TALK.
DISCUSSING THE MILLS' BILL BY SECTIONS.
Considerable Talking But Very Little Good Done in the House Yesterday.
 By Telegraph to the SUN.
 WASHINGTON, D. C.,—Johnston, of Indiana, offered a resolution setting apart Wednesday, June 13th, for the consideration of the bill, granting arrears of pensions. Referred to the committee on rules.
 The House then went into committee of the whole, on the tariff bill; the pending lines relating to flax.
 Buchanan, of New Jersey, threatened that laborers of this country would be heard from in no uncertain tone if the bill becomes a law.
 Mills defended the bill and deprecated the efforts made by the other side to distort every attempt at revision into an abuse of the poor.
 Lind, of Minn., a republican who has heretofore supported the bill, made a strong plea for the protection of the linseed oil industry which would be, he said, injuriously affected by the removal of the existing duty on linseed oil. He told the Missouri democrats that the success of their lead works depended in a great measure on the success of the flax industry.
 The motion to strike out the clause placing flax straw on the free list was defeated.
 The debate went on at length, occasionally touching upon flax, but taking in lumber, salt, glass and the general principles of the bill.
 Hemphill, of S. C., referring to his recent speech during the general debate, said that his remarks as to free trade and labor had been misconstrued. If he desired to hire men to perform work for him he would hire them as cheaply as he could, if he wanted to make money; but when it came to the introduction of Coolie, Italian and Hungarian labor there were other things to be considered besides the question of cheap labor. It would be very unwise to advocate the introduction of any set of people who had not and would not have the proper appreciation of the institutions under which we lived, or who would not be likely to assimilate with our people. That as to others who choose to come in and become good citizens, he could see no objections to them, if they simply chose to work more cheaply than some one else.
 Hopkins, of Ill's., asked if the gentleman (Hemphill) had been forced into a repudiation of his former statements by the result of the election in Oregon. There was no disguising the fact that the Mill's bill leaned towards free trade, and the gentleman's whole argument had led to that.
 Hemphill said that he had had no proper opportunity before to reply to Hopkins' criticisms; moreover he did not pretend to be a leader and did not believe that his utterances had any weight attributed to them. He further said that he did not favor Chinese immigration.
 Trusts also came for a good share of attention from Rayner, Cannon, Kelly, Reed, Dockery and Butterworth. Pending the debate the committee rose and House, at 4:55 p. m., adjourned.

Crop Report.
 By Cable to the Sun.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The Department of Agriculture says: There is a slight local change of the condition of winter wheat. Some improvement in New York and Pennsylvania, and a market decline in Missouri, and minor changes of states elsewhere, making the average 73.03, against 73.01 in May. The loss by the overflow of the Mississippi river, in Illinois, offsets in part the improvement in other countries. In Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Kansas the average condition is nearly the same as in May.
 The area of cotton appears to have increased in every state except Florida. The increase is larger west of the Mississippi, as usual. This preliminary survey of acreage makes the increases 2.09 per cent and brings the aggregate breadth close to nineteen million acres. State averages are: Virginia, 105; North Carolina, 100.05; South Carolina, 101.05; Georgia, 101; Florida, 99; Alabama, 101.05; Mississippi, 101.07; Louisiana, 102; Texas, 105; Arkansas, 102; Tennessee, 103.
 There has been an excess of rain in the cotton belt, with low night temperature.
 Now is the time to have your Sewing Machines cleaned-up, repaired and adjusted for the Spring and Summer work.
 Mr. W. H. Littleton, a practical Mechanic, is in the city and will do your work at your homes and save you the expense of sending your machines away to have them repaired.
 Mr. Littleton carries a line of good needles, shuttles, rubbers, bands and all the wearing parts to all machines.

New York Stock Market.
 By Telegraph to the SUN.
 NEW YORK, SATURDAY, June 9th, 1888.—The stock market closed up the week to-day with a dull weak market, though the volume of business was somewhat larger than the corresponding hours of previous days of the week. The opening was weak at declines extending to ½ per cent, and grangers were the only feature developed for over an hour. There was free selling of these stocks for western account, and Northwestern and St. Paul soon took the lead in the decline. London and commission houses were doing absolutely nothing and professionals were bearish to a man, on the unfavorable dispatches from the west and the late reduction in pig iron tolls, St. Paul, common, lost 1 per cent, preferred, 1½, and late in the session the movement reached Rock Island, which dropped 1¼. Transactions in the rest were entirely without interest, except in Oregon Improvement, which resumed its upward course and after opening up 2 per cent., gained ¾ more. There was more animation in the general list toward the close, but the market was dull throughout, and finally closed at 12 o'clock at lowest prices reached. Total sales were 80,000 shares. Oregon Improvement gained 2¼, but Rock Island is down 2¼, Northwestern 1¼, St. Paul preferred, 1¼.
General Sheridan's Condition.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9th, 1888.—The following bulletin was issued at 8:30 o'clock, signed by Drs. O'Reiley, Byrne and Yarrow:
 8 o'clock A. M.—General Sheridan rested well during the latter part of the night. His pulse and respiration are full. No unfavorable symptoms have appeared.
 LATER.—A bulletin issued by Sheridan's physicians at 9 p. m. says: Sheridan has passed a fair afternoon, for the greater part of the time sleeping naturally. There are signs of a return of appetite.
Emperor Frederick Cheerful.
 By Cable to the SUN.
 POTSDAM, June 9.—Emperor Frederick passed a good night and is cheerful to-day. He went to the Park in the forenoon.
 LATER.—8 p. m.—The Emperor has passed a fair day. He drove out in an open carriage.

U. S. Bonds.
 By Telegraph to the Sun.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The bonds offered to-day aggregated $400,000. Accepted—$100,000, registered fours at $127, and $25,000 registered 4½s at $106.68.
Produce Market.
 By Telegraph to the Sun.
 BALTIMORE, June 9.—Flour, dull. Wheat, southern, lower. Fultz, 91@95. Longberry 91@95. Western lower. No. 2 winter red spot and June 90¼. Corn, southern, quiet, easier; white 62¼@63; yellow 59¼@61.
 CHICAGO, June 9.—Cash quotations were: Flour, quiet, unchanged. No. 2 spring wheat 85¼@86. No. 2 red, 86¼. No. 2 Corn, 51¼. No. 2 Oats 32½. Mess pork 13.95@14. Lard 8.55. Short ribs, 7.55. Shoulders, 625; Whiskey 120.
 CINCINNATI, June 9.—Flour easy. Wheat, steady. No. 2 red 94. Corn, lower; No. 2 mixed, 53½. Oats, No. 2, mixed. 37. Pork quiet, 14.50. Lard firm, 81.5. Short clear ribs 775; Bacon in fair demand. Short clear 912½. Whiskey 114. Hogs steady.
 Sr. Louis, Mo., June 9.—Flour, steady and quiet. Wheat opened weak and declined on a bearish advance, but the first report of the government crop average, being 66, advanced the market 2 cents. In three minutes later this was corrected to average of 73.3, causing a break; but the general opinion that the crop report was very bad at best, caused the bearish feeling to predominate though close was higher than opening. No. 2 red, cash, 89½. June 89½@90½; closing at 94; July 83½@74. Corn, dull and very weak early, but closed firm. Cash, 48½@49. June closed 48½. Oats easy, cash 31½; June 31½. Whiskey 114. Provisions steady.

The Public Building.
 Editors Sun:
 The U. S. court house building was freely discussed on the streets yesterday. Many of our business men claim that the place for it is on Court Square, just in front of the present court house. This argument is based on the claim that the business of the city ought to be accommodated to a postoffice in the center.

 It is said that canaries and other birds may be freed from insects by placing a white cloth over the cage at dusk. During the night the insects will leave the birds for the cloth, and in the morning they can be destroyed by placing the cloth in hot water. A repetition of the process will soon clear away the pests.
 A Washington correspondent to the Durham Plant says that when the telegram announcing his nomination was received at the White House, the President was at his desk at work. Col. Lamont read the telegram aloud to Mr. Cleveland, exchanged a few words with him, and both returned to their work as if nothing had happened.
 Mrs. Livermore introduced Mrs. Wallace, the mother of General Lewis Wallace, to the Woman Suffrage Convention at Boston, the other day, and, in doing so, mentioned that when General Wallace wrote "Ben Hur," he showed it to his mother first, and told her he had taken her as his model of the hero's heroic mother.

 It has been calculated that the sun is nearly 93,000,000 miles from the earth, and it is so large that if a number of worlds the size of ours were held together like beads on a string, it would require 340 of these to girdle it a round in one line. It would take 1,250,000 of our worlds to occupy a space equal to the whole size of the sun.
 An interesting invention is that of Mr. Ives, who exhibited recently at a lecture a photograph of a landscape in which the various tints of green in the foliage of trees, the blue of the sky and the colors of house, barn, autumn leaves, etc., were perfectly reproduced. Many inventors have thought they had methods of photographing in colors, but their processes have not worked in practice.
 No matter what a New Yorker is accused of now, says the Post, "his first impulse is to send for his lawyer and stand mute until he arrives. Everybody who is accused of any delinquency, social or moral, longs for counsel and is afraid to open his mouth without professional advice. If you ask the ashman why he did not remove your barrel yesterday, he wants to be represented by counsel.

MAKES A SHORT BUT HUMOROUS SPEECH
To a Party of Newspaper Men Who Stop Over at Columbus, on Their Return From the St. Louis Convention.
 By Telegraph to the SUN.
 COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—The special train of Washington and New York newspaper correspondents returning from the St. Louis convention stopped at Columbus, and after being received at the depot by a committee of the local press, were escorted by the Jackson Club, with music through the principal streets to the residence of Judge Thurman where they were hospitably received by the Judge and his family: Major Carson, of the correspondents' committee, introduced the newspaper visitors in a few felicitous remarks, saying: "Judge Thurman, being here in Columbus, the guests of our newspaper brethren, we have improved the opportunity to call and pay our respects to you and congratulate you on the nomination you have received at St. Louis." The Major humorously referred to a variety of political views represented by the correspondents, but assured their venerable host that they all wished him many added years of life and every success. Judge Thurman responded as follows: "The only time I ever had any conversation with Henry Ward Beecher was in his church in Brooklyn, after he had preached a sermon, and I was taken up and introduced to him. I was then in the Senate. "Well," said he, 'You are a pretty good looking man for a Democrat,' (laughter) 'and so, taking a good look at you, I can say that you are all pretty good looking men for newspaper men,' (laughter.) 'I don't see that you are armed with swords, or daggers, or tomahawks, nevertheless, I dare say you will do all that is right and required of you. All I have got to say after thanking you for the honor done me by this call is that if you want to do me a real service, it will be to just write a speech for me, (laughter) and put it as coming from me, and be sure to put in here and there 'Great Applause,' (laughter); also speak well of my 'stalwart health,' (laughter), say that you do not know any man except Mr. Sullivan, of Boston, that can bear a comparison with me in that respect. Do all this up in your best style, you know better how than I do, and you will pay a great compliment to the "old man" as they call him—young man as he is—of course, (laughter and applause) and oblige me immensely. I thank you, gentlemen, once more for the honor you have done me by this call, and I hope you will have a pleasant ride home."
