MANUFACTURED ICE.

For the information of the public and to correct erroneous ideas on the subject of artificial ice, we give the following facts in regard to the manufacture of ice: Our manner of making ice is to distill the water by condensing steam, thus making it absolutely pure. Then it is passed over charcoal to completely deodorize it, and any remaining traces of impurities are removed by passing it through a filter of fine charcoal, which is placed in brine chilled below the freezing point, and there it remains until it is frozen as clear as crystal and almost as solid as glass. This ice is alone fit for human use. It lasts one third longer than natural ice, and has all the medicinal virtues of the high priced table waters of commerce.

CONGRESSIONAL.

TWO APPROPRIATION BILLS PASSED BY THE SENATE.

Lots of Talk and a Little More Work Than Usual in the Lower House.

By Telegraph to the SUN, SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Mr. Sherman, from the committee on foreign affairs, reported an amendment to be offered to sundry civil appropriation bills, appropriating $224,500 for the survey and re-location of the monuments on the frontier line between Mexico and the United States, and it was referred to the committee on appropriations. He called attention to the importance of the matter. It was expressly required, according to the terms of the treaty with Mexico.

The Senate joint resolution, granting leave of absence, without deduction of pay or of annual leave, to all persons now in the employment of the government who were present at the battle of Gettysburg, whether on the Union or Confederate side, to attend the reunion here on the third day of next July, was adopted, after being amended by striking out as to Union and Confederate sides, and letting it simply apply to all persons now in government service, who took part in the battle. It covers ex-Confederates now in government service without indicating them in terms; which Mr. Blair characterized as a case of "sticking in the bark." Mr. Hoar retorted to this remark by saying that it was "barking at the stick."

The concurred resolution, reported yesterday from the committee on foreign relations, as to an international arbitration, was taken up and passed. It requests the President to invite, from time to time as fit occasions may arise, negotiations with any government with which the United States has or may have diplomatic relations to the end that any differences or disputes arising between the two governments which cannot be adjusted by diplomatic agency, may be referred to arbitration and be peaceably adjusted by such means.

Amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill, adding several items, were agreed to and the bill passed.

The post office appropriation bill was then taken up. An item was inserted making postage on seeds, cuttings, roots, bulbs and scions, one cent for every ounce or fraction thereof. All the other amendments were agreed to; several democratic senators declaring themselves opposed to the $800,000 foreign mail subsidy amendment, but declining to call for the yeas and nays lest there might not be a quorum voting; while Mr. Brown said he thought the amendment a wise one. The bill then passed.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

The doors were reopened at 3:30 and the Senate, for half an hour, resumed legislation business. A bill appropriating $275,000 for the reconstruction of the government dam at Rock Island, which was washed away by the flood, was passed. Senate adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Mr. Townsend, of Ill., offered a resolution providing for the consideration of bills, by unanimous consent, for half an hour every morning. Referred to the committee on rules.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill.

Mr. Buchanan offered an amendment to strike out the words admitting free of duty plates coated with a mixture of lead and tin.

After another political debate Mr. Buchanan's amendment was rejected, as also was the one offered by Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, to limit free plate to sizes not larger than four feet and thicker than No. 26 gauge, and another to strike out the entire tin plate paragraph.

When the next paragraph (beeswax) was reached, Mr. J. D. Taylor, of Ohio, carried the discussion back to the paragraph just passed.

When the paragraphs relating to glue and gelatine were reached, Mr. Weber, of New York, moved to strike them out, thus forestalling the committee amendment to the same purpose.

The general debate which followed this motion became largely an interchange of personalities and political sharp-shooting.

Mr. Raynor, of Maryland, criticized Mr. Reed's remark made several days ago, to the effect that it was not worth while to keep on lying on this subject (tariff) and indignantly protested against this indirect assertion that members were liars. The gentleman from Maine did not seem to realize that a man could try to be funny without being insolent, and that he could ever succeed in being a clown without being vulgar and offensive. The gentleman (Mr. Reed) might be right when he said that there were no monopolies in this country but he (Mr. Raynor) seriously questioned the integrity of his motives, and proposed to prove that the republican leaders were in league with these great centralizing wealth-getting combinations. Mr. Raynor then read a newspaper article embracing a circular from Mr. Foster, president of the republican league, calling for aid to repel the attacks on the protective system, and the reply of a U. S. Senator declining to contribute, and warning manufacturers that when the Mills bill reached the Senate action would be taken which would open their eyes to the fact that the republican party was no longer their humble servant and would no longer contribute to a tariff campaign, while the manufacturers gathered the profits. Mr. Raynor added that the facts set out, which had not been challenged, showed a criminal combination between republican leaders and manufacturers. That was a serious question and it required more than the prancing of a buffalo to divert public attention from it. The man who arose on the floor to declare that there were no monopolies in this country, while he was himself hoisting a dervish of monopolies was only fit to play the part of harlequin in the political menagerie, and he figured in a very poor light before the nation as a Delphic oracle of the republican party. The democracy would force the republicans to paint upon their banner "there is no monopoly in this land," and would fight them in every town and hamlet until that banner drooped in the dust. The republicans greeted this speech with a burst of derisive applause.

Mr. Weber's motion to strike glue and gelatine from the free list, prevailed without a division. The motion to strike out crude glycerine failed, but by a committee amendment, offered by Mr. McMillan, of Tennessee, fish glue was restored to the existing rate of duty. Phosphorous, soap stocks, soap and sheep dip, were all passed over.

On "extract of hemlock," there was considerable debate, Mr. Parker, of New York holding that duty protected large numbers of people against Canadian competition. The motion to strike out the paragraph was defeated.

Mr. McMillan moved to strike licorice juice from the free list. Adopted.

Six other articles were then passed over without debate or objection, as follows: Indigo, iodine, cotton oil, hemp seed and hemp seed oil, croton seed oil and petroleum.

Mr. O'Neill, of Penn., and Mr. Farquhar, of New York, pleaded for the maintenance of duties on alum compounds, but without avail. Mr. Morrow and Mr. Vandever, of Cal., were equally unsuccessful in an effort to have the duties retained on borax and acid, which were placed upon the free list by a caucus amendment, and the committee rose, on point of no quorum, made by Mr. Foran, of Ohio, having traversed 45 lines of the bill to-day, or more than had previously been covered during the entire fortnight's debate.

It is an understanding that the tariff bill will be laid aside for a time, and the army appropriation bill be taken up to-morrow. Adjourned.

New York Stock Market.

By Telegraph to the Sun.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The stock market shows a steady decrease in volume of business, but to-day it was strong at every point and with scarcely a set back advanced from the opening to close, leaving prices materially higher throughout the list. Gould stocks and trunk lines took the lead in the advance, but the entire list shared in the improvement, though the gains recorded were for fractions only. The lower prices current in London this morning, furnished an excuse for opening the market at a lower range of values than prevailed last evening, first prices being off from 1/4 to 3/4 per cent. There was more marked inside support to the list however, and timely covering was inaugurated. Canada Southern and Richmond & West Point, preferred, were the most prominent in the first hour for advances made, but active stocks were strong and materially higher at 11 o'clock; the market then became dull and so remained until the last hour, though the tone remained firm throughout and no feature of importance or movement of interest, except a drop of 1/4 per cent. in Oregon Navigation, occurred to interrupt the monotony. Union Pacific then came to the front and further progress was made in the upward direction. Commission houses were more behind buyers at this time and a more buoyant tone marked dealings than at any previous time of the day. The market quieted down late in the hour and the close was quiet but strong, at best prices of the day. Total sales were 125,000 shares. The important gains comprise Manhattan 1 1/2, Richmond & West Point, preferred, 1 1/4, and Canada Southern and Missouri Pacific 1 1/4 per cent. each.

New York Cotton Market.

By Telegraph to the Sun.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Hubbard, Price & Co's. circular to-day says: Liverpool's opening proving disappointing to the room, our market opened 4 points higher on old and 2 points higher on new crop months, with apparently some very good buying. After a further advance of 2 points was made on near options the bidding became less vigorous and although Liverpool sent us a steady close arrivals are still one-sixteenth higher than yesterday's. Private cablegrams intimated that their market showed free sellers, owing to less favorable reports from Germany, in regard to the health of the Emperor. Holders here commenced to sell and brought a reaction, which wiped out a part of the gain and left the close but from 1 to 3 points above last evening's prices.

THE EMPEROR OF GERMANY, DYING.

Members of the Imperial Family Gathering at the Bedside of the Dying Monarch.

By Cable to the SUN.

POTSDAM, June 14.—A bulletin issued at ten o'clock this morning says the Emperor is much worse. His strength has been failing since last evening.

Crown Prince and Crown Princess and Prince Henry have arrived at the Castle. Empress Victoria has watched by the bedside of the Emperor since four o'clock this morning. All members of the Imperial family have been summoned to his bedside.

LONDON, June 14; 3 p. m.—A dispatch from Berlin says: The Emperor has a strong fever and his breathing is labored. Sir Edward Malet, British Ambassador, and Dr. Freedberg, Minister of Justice, have reached Friedrichs-krot palace, at Potsdam, and other Ministers and members of the royal family not already there, are hastening to the palace.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., sent from Berlin at 1:52, says lock-jaw has set in, and photographers have made preparations to take a picture of the scene at the Emperor's death bed.

LATER REPORTS.

POTSDAM, June 14, 6:30 p. m.—The Emperor is now unable to take food. Dr. McKensie tried in vain to feed him by the tube.

8:15 p. m.—The Emperor is now suffering from convulsive fits and swoons, which succeed each other.

11:30 p. m.—While lying down the Emperor is apathetic, at other times he is fully conscious. Early this afternoon, while reclining in an arm chair, he wrote a few farewell words to Bismarck. Afterwards he took a sip of food through the tube, a little cocaine being administered. The doctors believe that the death agony will come soon after midnight.

FIRE AT UNION, S. C.

Several Stores Burned Down—A Brave and Heroic Act.

By Telegraph to the Sun.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 14.—A fire at Union, this State, yesterday, destroyed the brick building occupied by Farr & Thompson, groceries, and J. W. Swink & Co., druggists; building owned by Robert W. Parish. The William Gist ice cream saloon, and the postoffice; building owned by J. C. Hunter. Green Bros., grocers; building owned by B. T. Foster. John K. Young, confectionery, and P. M. Cohen; building owned by the estate of John Sarter. The damages are roughly estimated at $20,000. The amount of insurance cannot be procured.

The fire originated in Swink & Co's. drug store, from unknown causes. Faithful work and pluck saved the town. During the fire, Samuel S. Stokes, a lawyer of this bar, in his heroic efforts to save property, lingered in Farr & Thompson's store until the roof fell in, knocking him senseless. A colored man observed the accident and rushed in amid smoke and flames and dragged him out, apparently a lifeless corpse. This heroic deed called forth applause from the men and screams from the ladies. The colored man's name has not been found out.
