TO THE POLLS!

. This is the last number of the Argus that will reach our readers before the election, and we take occasion to exhort our friends, every where, to go to the polls and acquit themselves like men on Thursday next. Let them vote early, and see that every body else has a chance to vote likewise. A desperate effort will be made to carry the State against us, and w trust the enemy will be met, at every point with an energy and a determination equal, a leas', to bis own. Up ! then, comrades, and at them.

Our Trip from Tyrell.

Last week we left our readers at Columbia. Now we intend to give them an account of how and when we left there. Availing ourself of the polite invitation of Mr. R. B. Snell we left Columbia on Monday evening and were congentleman on Friday morning. Here our inbut the fates were against us for the fleeting some safer haven in which to receive the paswas no wharf to light on. We learn, however, of the parish. from the obliging Captain that he did not see our signals or hear our voices-the fog being find reported occurred on the 4th of May 17. very dense on the Sound. Having missed the Steamer our friends, the boatmen, pulled across to Nixonton to land a passenger, and there we also landed. And here we would thank Messrs, Snell and Barney for carrying us across the Sound "free gratis, and for nothing." At Nixonton we procured a conveyance and proceeded to E. City. At E. City we stopped at the Leigh House on condition that he should officiate every third the hospitality of whose landlord (Mr. Berry.) we can bear good testimony to. At Elizabeth ing Sundays at the Chapel on the North side City we met John Pool, Esq, candidate for the Senate and Messrs. Mann and Harney the American and Democratic candidates for the Commons, also, Wm. H. Bagley, E-q., our friend of the Sentinel. On Wednesday morn. ing we took passage in the Curlew to Nag's Head and after a pleasant passage in that elegant boat were landed there and soon found the services there, and action was taken by ourselves seated enjoying the cool breeze which ever plays around Mr. Jacobs' hotel In unother place we have spoken fully of the advantages of this summer resort.

Revolutionary Reminiscences.

Extracts from the Vestry Book of the Episcopal Church.

The letter given in our columns some weeks since from the Vestry of Chowan to the Honorable Society for propagating the Gospel in Foreign parts was accompanied by one to the Hon. Col. Nicholson, through whom the communication to the Honorable Society had been received. This letter urges Col. Nicholson to come over from England, arguing that his presence will do much towards advancing the interests of the Church, and setting certain difficulties to which the letter alludes, without stating what they were.

At a meeting of the Vestry at the Chapel on the North side of the Sound in Chowan, January 7th, 1714, The Hon. Charles Eden, Governor, was chosen Vestryman. It was from Governor Eden that our town some time after derived its name. At this meeting also Edward Smithwick was dismissed from the veyed to the Sound by the above mentioned Vestry at his own request on account of his age and infirmity. The only name in the list tention was to take the Nag's Head Steamboat of the Vestry appended to the report of this meeting, which we recognize as prominent in Curlew seeing the lowering clouds sought our community at present is that of Blount,-John Blount being one of the Vestrymen.engers than the broad open Sound where there The Rev. COMMUNICATIONS.

FOR THE AMERICAN BUNNER.

NAG'S HEAD, JULY 30, 1856.

MR. COLTON-I am now at my window with a delightful breeze, pen in hand, and thought it might not be uninteresting to your numerous readers, and the seekers of pleasure to give you a passing account of what is going on at this delightful watering place. Mr. Jacobs the indefatigable proprietor, has done all in his power by way of improvement to make Nag's Head comfortable. He could not make the old hotel a new one, and if the old hotel could be pulled down and a new one built in style commensurate with the wants of the commu. nity a crowd of three or four hundred could nlways be found here. We have a splendid new steamer, the "Curley," why not have a stock company to build a new hotel ?

Last night the ball was opened under the superintendence of Charles L. McNider, a sep

17, at which the Hon. Gov. Eden was present FLOUR-Superfine and at which Mr. James Beasley, whose fam. ily is at present represented on the other side of the Sound, was elected into the Vestry and FEATHERS-Per lb. afterwards chosen one of the Wardens. It HAY-Cargo was also voted at this meeting that before the first of the following January the Rev. Mr. MEAL Urmston should be paid the sum of fifty pounds MOLASSES, N. O.

Sunday near the Indian town, and the remainof the Sound.

At a meeting of the Vestry at the Chapel FISH-Herrings, the 22d of September 1717, Mr. James Far. low was qualified as Vestryman in the room of Governor Eden, who had removed to Bath. Tho people near Indian town were reported to this meeting as being dilatory in paying for the Vestry looking towards stringent measures for collecting the money from them. A letter is also noticed received from the S. P. G. and an answer ordered to be prepared which answer however is not inserted.

On the 16th of August 1719, Mr. Thomas Garret, Jr., was appointed a member of the Vestry. The name is still well known across the Sound. The Hon. Fred. Jones, Esq., was also present at this meeting, which was held at his house. Edward Wood was ordered to be remunerated for taking care of and burying a poor woman. It was also ordered that for the ease of the Church Wardens in collecting, the parish should be divided into two districts "by Rockahock Creek, and that branch of it that runs by tottering Bridge."

At a meeting of the Vestry on the 20th of other College in the South. August, 1719, it having appeared that the Rev. Mr. Urmston had not officiated near Indian town according to a previous vote, he was with his own consent ordered to be patd £80 instead of £100 for the past two years .-It was also ordered that a chapel should be built in the upper part of the parish. Mr. Paul Phillips, who had for two months served as reader at the Indian town was continued in that office; and he was still further employed at a meeting held May 7th, 1722, with a sala. ry of £17 per annum. In the report of the meeting held April 18th. 1820 we find the parish called for the first time the North East Parish of Chowan. And in the proceeding of a meeting held May 27th 1722, we find distinct mention made of the previous division of the precinct of Chowan into two parishes. (Here be it remembered that in colonial times a parish was a political division, and the Vestry civil officers .--These two parishes were on opposite sides of the Sound.

aration having taken place between the proprietor and Mr. Lee. This is Mr. McNider's first appearance and I believe he gave general satisfaction in the dance.

The Belles and Beaux exhibited themselves in their best array and vied with each other who could be the most graceful. There was Miss P. who could not promenade; Miss J., Miss H. and Miss C. from Edenton, Miss B. from E. City, all looked as if they had been to the cooper shop and got well hooped with a double Grecian bend.

The steam boat has just arrived with a heavy crowd.

At seven o'clock in the morning the little big bell is rung to prepare for breakfast, when the star spangled banner is hoisted.

The enterprising proprietor, Mr. Jacobs, spares or expense, the table being supplied with every luxury the season affords. The polite attention of the servants under the man all fogether the hotel is well kept and every sirous to return to Great Britain.

A meeting of the Vestry on the 9th of March, 1713, is reported as being held, at Edenton, which is then for the first time mentioned in the records of the parish. The name of Thos. Newman as missionary appears now "Long may it wave," and the band under for the first time in lien of that of the Rev. Mr. Urmston. And it is stipulated that he chapel near the Indian town.
