MINER & BREESE, Editors and Proprietors.

Friday Morning, Nov. 13, 1903.

Town and County Items.

J. W. McMillan went to Asheville on a business trip last Monday.

M. D. Cooper left last Monday for Virginia where he has large collections to look after.

J. R. Ledbetter has recovered from his severe attack of grip and was able to be out on Tuesday.

The Brevard Tannin Plant will soon begin operations now as the tanks which have been delaying them have arrived.

D. L. English, Esq., while attending federal court won a fine fifteen-dollar pipe at a raffle. Nothing like being lucky.

Mesdames A. K. and C. E. Orr, Misses Louise Wilson and Mary Orr went to Hendersonville last Monday to take in the Carnival.

We took our son Dick to Hendersonville last Monday to see the Carnival and had a very pleasant trip and advise our friends to go and see the show sometime during the week.

The dam of Lake King John has been greatly strengthened during the last week in preparation of the supply of Rainbow trout that the Fish Commission is going to send here in the near future.

Miss Mollie Hood arrived here from Cherokee county last week to spend about two weeks visiting relatives and friends, and will then return to Brevard to spend the winter. —Franklin Press.

Brevard is having an epidemic of "scaritis" as shown by the reports turned in by the Odd Fellows and K. P's. The latest person to be afflicted was Thos. H. Shipman who had a severe attack Monday night.

Frank L. DeVane returned last Saturday from Asheville where he was on the federal grand jury for the first week. A great deal of business was transacted by the jury and the court was greatly pleased with their work.

From all appearances up to the present there has been a rush in the matrimonial market. As high as seven newly married couples have been at the hotel at one and the same time, and each train brings in some more.

We gladly open our columns to a new correspondent from Quebec, and are still better pleased to know that Pluto will keep us posted in matters pertaining to that neighborhood. By the way "what's in a name?" Have we any right to infer that Pluto is a plutocrat?

John Waters came near having a serious accident while driving his mother out the other day. His horse was frightened by a colt on the side of the road and jumped across a small ditch. Fortunately no damage was done except breaking some spokes in one of the wheels.

The colored people had a baptizing last Sunday afternoon in Brushy creek which was largely attended by both races. The weather was quite cool and the water must have been icy, but we have heard of no ill effects therefrom. The preacher who conducted the ceremony was a man of more than average ability and his remarks were listened to with interest by all present.

Quite a number of letters from country correspondents came in by the Wednesday mails last week and were consequently left over from last week's paper. We much prefer to print these letters while the items are fresh and newsy, but unless they are received by Tuesday night there is no assurance that we can find time to put them in type. We are as anxious to hear from the various sections of our county as are our writers to see their letters in print, but to insure their appearance the week they are written we must have them Tuesday.

Prof. Bishop of the Industrial School has gone to the Methodist Conference at High Point.

A. H. King returned Tuesday night from a most successful business trip to Alabama and Mississippi.

Jim Aiken has just put down at his own expense a good brick sidewalk in front of his store. In this he has shown a most commendable spirit.

Rev. C. P. Moore has been endorsed by the conference as the pastor of Brevard church for another year. He has made many friends here who will be glad to learn of this action of that body.

The Aldermen must have forgotten about the street levels, the town survey and the fire limit as they have not done anything on that line at the last two meetings. Listen to the wishes of our taxpayers, O ye city fathers.

It is rumored that there will be several good entertainments in Hendersonville during the winter and it would pay for the railroad people to run an excursion so that the lovers of good music could go to Hendersonville, see the performance and return the same night.

The "opening" of Congress on Monday last is described by the dispatches as a brilliant affair. We are not informed as to whether the same regulations prevailed which usually govern the opening of a jack-pot, but presume that the longest purse will get the persimmon.

Vanderbilt seems to find that a road machine is a paying investment in building and keeping up roads in this immediate vicinity any yet the town authorities let our machine lay idle and work the streets by hand. And all the neighboring counties and towns find that a road machine is a money saver.

The bracing fall weather has brought our many tennis players and as is the case in all athletic sports we feel that Brevard can throw down the gauntlet to all neighboring towns. Hendersonville should practice up and we would feel safe in entertaining any proposition for a tennis tournament. Let us hear from Brother Shipman.

Other towns in the state that are no larger than Brevard are voting bonds for graded schools and we are sadly negligent on the matter. We are abreast of the times in other respects and must pay some attention to the matter of better education for our children. And there are a lot of children in Brevard according to the population. This is a fine climate and the air is bracing—let us have good schools.

The many friends of Mrs. J. T. Merrell, formerly Miss Leota Lankford, will be pained to learn of her death in Asheville on Nov. 4th. Her body was brought here on Thursday and buried at Oak Grove on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Merrell had been sick for several months and her death had been expected for some time. She left one child, a little girl about 8 years of age. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in this hour of their distress.

One of the saddest accidents which falls to a newspaper to record occurred in the Rocky Hill section about ten days ago. Reuben Ballard, since the death of his wife last year, has been living in a cabin by himself. For several years he has been subject to occasional fits, and on Monday morning of last week while cooking his breakfast he was taken with a fit and fell near enough to the open fireplace to literally roast one arm, shoulder and one side of his body. How long he lay before the fire unconscious no one knows, as he had regained consciousness and got into bed before he was discovered. He was removed to Bud Nicholson's, where he now lies suffering most intense agony. Dr. M. M. King is attending him and has hopes of his recovery, but in the nature of things this will be a slow process. We know of no more worthy object for the charitable than to administer to his urgent necessities.
