GOOD ROADS FOR TRANSYLVANIA

Uncle Zeke "Dreams a Dream" and Every Road in this County

There is one reason why I dislike a newspaper office. As soon as a man sits down for a little solid comfort there is sure to arise from the depths a cry for copy, and it always comes when his thought incubator is not in running order and in the worst possible condition for hatching an idea.

The other day as I was seated tipped back in my chair with feet perched on the table and contemplating the holes in my shoes, ruminating, and as happy as a man could be under the circumstances, for I had just lighted my pipe and under the magic influence of the weed was getting rich on one of my pet schemes when the senior in a not very mild but persuasive tone sung out: "Zeke! wake up and give us something."

Down came my air castle leaving nothing behind but a simple proposition I wish to make to the honorable board of county commissioners—a proposal if accepted will make the names immortal, and I will become a public benefactor.
