Protest From a Lady.

Editor Sylvan Valley News:

I wish to call your attention to the unspeakable, impassible condition of North Caldwell street as far as Whitmire street and from thence to the Brevard Industria School. The planks are placed at intervals, and one alternates from springing planks, the ends of which throw up slush and mud, into the mud itself. Probably more persons travel those streets than any other in town and their condition is a standing reflection on the town management and particularly those who represent us in that vicinity.

I am not a resident of that section but a frequent visitor and only 50c. speak feelingly. If you, Mr. Editor had undertaken the journey there last Sunday and could have seen the forty or fifty school girls joggling along on the planks and picking out the least muddy spots in the intervals, you would be inspired to use all your influence to repair the evil and confer one more benefit on suffering women of whom I am unfortunately one.

Prospective Wedding.

Engagement Announced of Miss Mary More to Mr. Geaard Van Schaick of Chicago.

The following clipping from the Savannah, Ga., News, of recent date will be of interest to many of our readers, to whom both parties are well known. Miss Morel has been a frequent visitor in Brevard for several years, and has spent the greater portion of the last two winters here with her mother.

Mr. Van Schaick has many friends in this section, having at first been a forestry student in Pisgah Forest, and until recently a resident of Brevard, he having built and occupied "Squirrel Inn."

This is one instance where we can congratulate both parties and they have the best wishes of the News and their many friends:

"Announcement has been made by Mrs. Calhoun T. Morel of the engagement of her daughter, Mary Pendleton, to Mr. Gerard Van Schaick of Chicago. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

"The announcement has been the source of much pleasant interest, especially among the young circle of Miss Morel's intimate friends. Although she was expected to be one of the debutantes of last season or the present one, she has spent much of her time away from Savannah recently, and has never made her formal appearance in society. She is, however, identified with the buds of this season as one of an attractive little circle of friends that have grown up together, and while interest in her engagement is keen, it will be much regretted that she will not make her home in Savannah after her marriage.'

Derivation of Fad.

The derivation of the word "fad" is possibly traceable in the Welsh language. By the law of mutation of initial consonants peculiar to that tongue the root words ffedd and medd are convertible terms. Their essential meaning is possession; transitive or intransitive, possession of someth the act of being po by some

While it is absurd for members of the House of Representatives to introduce 12,000 bills in a single session, it is only fair to remember that under existing rules, "introducing bills" is about the only privilege left to the average representative.
