BREVARD DRUG Co.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. L. B. Houston of Greenville, S. C., is visiting in Brevard this week.

Mrs. G. W. Summey and children of Jonesville, S. C., are visiting relatives here for two weeks.

Autumn begins Sunday, the 23d—the sun crosses the line and days and nights are of equal length.

There was a dance at the Ethel wold Tuesday night which was apparently enjoyed by those present, although it "rained to beat the band."

Excursion rates to Lake Toxaway went off sale Wednesday so there will be no more reduced rates on this branch of the Southern this year. Summer excursion rates are still in force until Sept. 30.

A very successful revival meeting at Shoal Creek Baptist church, conducted by Rev. G. W. Smith, the pastor, assisted by Rev. J. H. Owen, closed Sunday, Sept. 9. We learn that there were 24 additions to the church as a result of the meeting.

We learn with pleasure that J. F. Hays has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Blue Ridge National Bank of Asheville. Mr. Hays has many friends in Transylvania county who will be pleased to learn that he has the confidence of the business men in our mountain metropolis.

The worst storm of the summer has been with us this week. It commenced on Monday with a strong east wind, and just before night it commenced raining. Before Tuesday night the river was out of banks and spreading over the bottoms. While it is bound to do great damage in this county the telegraph reports great loss to shipping on the Atlantic. When we begin complaining here we may console ourselves with the knowledge that other sections are hit harder than we are.

Excavating for the Dunn's Rock Building on Broad street was commenced Monday. By the time the equinoctial storm commenced Monday evening there was just enough digging done to make a superb mudhole as an adjunct to the News office flower garden. As a portion of the dirt removed was used in grading up Mayor Whitmire's lot opposite, it goes without saying that Broad street was impassable Tuesday. Well, we live in hope that it will quit raining some time and give our town an opportunity to grow.

Children are naturally imitators. We saw one of the leading citizens of Brevard a few days since playing with the drinking fountain in front of the court house—trying to see how far into the street he could force the water. And he hadn't been gone five minutes when a street urchin who had been watching him was trying the same experiment. And this was our drinking water, not a lavatory. Everything about it should be kept absolutely clean. Who wants to drink after the hands of man or boy have been messing with the fountain? Why not use it for what it was intended instead of a wash basin?

Rosco Cartwright of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting his cousins Eva and Gertrude Loftis.

There will be services at the Brevard Baptist church as usual next Sunday—preaching morning at 11 o'clock and at night.

No mails Wednesday evening and none Thursday up to noon. The high water below Penrose—the railroad tracks being covered—is the cause.

Mrs. John F. Henry has returned from Louisville, Ky., where she has been visiting this summer and is once more occupying her beautiful home here.

The strongest feature of the October Delineator, aside from the fashions, which are splendidly shown, is the opening of the Countess von Arnheim's new serial story, "Franlein Schmidt and Mr. Armstruther."

A "tacky" party at the Ethel wold Wednesday night was a merry function if one can judge by the costumes displayed on the streets and the amount of noise indulged in by participants. Jas. Bromfield won the prize.

Rev. Wm. P. Chedester will preach, as usual, in the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. His sermon will be an answer to the most important question a man can ask: "How shall I be just before God, the Judge of all the earth."

A Chapter of Casualties.

It is seldom we are called on to record so many accidents in one week as have been reported since our last issue.

Last Saturday night Miss Tener of Chestnut Hill started for home in a buggy, accompanied by her brother. The night was so dark that no objects were discernible and they had scarcely got beyond the electric light influence on Caldwell street when they ran into King & Allison's bus which was returning from John Duckworth's. A wheel was demolished, the shafts broken and other damages to the vehicle, but the occupants were unharmed.

On Saturday King & Alison had the misfortune to drive a horse into a yellow jackets nest, and the animal was so severely stung by the vicious insects that it died in less than an hour.

Saturday a horse belonging to W. H. Duckworth became entangled in a barb wire fence and was terribly lacerated. It took a physician three hours to stitch the torn cuticle, but it is now stated that the horse will live.

On Sunday a horse belonging to Thos. H. Shipman was hitched in rear of the Baptist church when Mrs. Goodson's honey bees attacked it. It required a heroic fight to drive the bees off and several who assisted were so badly stung that they did not return to church. Prompt medical assistance probably saved the life of the horse. There ought to be an ordinance against allowing bees to run at large in the corporate limits, as this is the second time this summer that these bees have made trouble.

A cow belonging to John Wilson of the Penrose section got in the way of the belated train Tuesday night and in consequence the engine got off the track, causing a still further delay. The cow was killed.

John Bishop, who received a broken rib in the bee fight Sunday, having been struck in the side by the frantic horse, has been confined to his bed much of the time since the accident.
