NEWS NOTES FROM THE MOUNTAIN METROPOLIS OF INTEREST TO NEWS READERS.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

News reached this city last week from Limestone Township to the effect that Miss Althea West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. West, had committed suicide by taking an overdose of strychnine. Up to the present writing no cause for her rash act has been discovered. It is reported that the West family were entertaining some friends the day that the young woman took her own life and she appeared in good spirits during the day. Shortly after the guests had departed she told her father that she had taken the poison. Physicians were hastily summoned but the woman was past medical assistance when the doctors reached the West home.

The registration books for the bond election have closed and the books show that there will be 3,000 eligible voters.

In the case of Francis Sumner being tried for the killing of Charlie Powers at the Arden depot last December the judge ordered a mistrial as it was found that one of the jurymen was a distant relative of the dead man. The case will be brought for trial at the next term of court.

At a recent meeting of the board of aldermen former Chief of Police Jordan appeared before the board and made the request that the $500 reward offered by the city for the capture of the negro desperado Harris be paid to Mr. Rankin, custodian of the fund, so that the fund would be complete and turned over to the widows of the patrolmen who lost their lives in an effort to effect the arrest of a negro.

The application of the Asheville Telephone and Telegraph Co. to the city to allow them the privilege to turn over all of their interests in the local plant to the Bell company has been rejected. The committee who had the matter in charge reported at a recent meeting that they did not deem it wise to allow the holding of the old company to be turned over to the Bell people at any time, and there the matter rests at the present writing.

For a week or ten days the whole police force have been on the lookout for a small negro boy who has been working a smooth game on a number of Asheville people. The negro would call at a house and say that he was sent by one of the many pressing clubs in the city to get some clothing. The people at the house thinking some member of the family had requested the negro to call for their clothes, and the rest was easy. The negro's little scheme worked to perfection and a number of gentlemen lost one or more suits. The police have been unable to capture him.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar—not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him—he was a dentist, by the way:

“Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever.”

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around here again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

HONEST, NOW—AIN'T I RIGHT?

that was scheduled to come off at the opera house last week between Kid Williams, a well known western “pug,” and Vance Guest, a home aspirant for fist-ic honors, did not materialize, as the affair was nipped in the bud by Chief of Police Bernard who called the attention of the fighters to a state law which prohibits boxing contests when one or both of the fighters receive any money for their exhibition. The law allows a fine of $500 and also one or more years imprisonment. When informed of the law the two fighters decided that they were not so anxious to fight after all.

A deal was closed last week whereby O. B. Schoenfelt, the well known New Orleans wrestler and athlete, bought fifty acres of land in West Asheville known as the Green-Thrash tract, and on which is located the old Carrier race track. It is understood that the new owner will have the property developed for racing purposes, and from present indications Asheville will be the scene of professional racing in the near future. This new purchase of Mr. Schoenfelt's is close to his other property at Sulphur Springs which he bought some months ago, and on which it is said Mr. Schoenfelt will build a school for physical culture and athletics.

As stated in this correspondence several weeks ago Detective Jordan arrested a young negro at Old Fort for attempting to wreck passenger train No. 11. Your correspondent is informed that Lynch was found guilty of the charge at this term of McDowell court and given three years' sentence.

Judge Cook signed an order last week whereby Gillian Stikeleather will be compelled to give evidence in the now celebrated Mills divorce proceedings. Mr. Stikeleather is a well known Asheville young man and it is claimed that he has important information bearing on the case that the irate husband is desirous of bringing out.

Doctors still disagree. There is Dr. Osler who thinks a man should do nothing after he is forty, and now here is Dr. Wallace—a different sort of a doctor to be sure—who thinks no man has sense enough to vote until he is forty. So many doctors, so many prescriptions.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppee. She writes: “One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him, when by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life.” Guaranteed best cough and cold cure by Z. W. Nichols, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

The largest single advance in oil prices ever ordered by the Standard Oil Company has naturally followed the largest single contribution of Rockefeller money to public education.

The effort to raise the pay of Government clerks, is being heartily seconded by the Washington boarding house keeper.

“In 1887 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said Dyspepsia, some Consumption. One said I would not live until spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda biscuits and doctors' prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate; then I picked up one of your Almanacs and it happened to be my life-saver. I bought a fifty-cent bottle of KODOL and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper.”—C. N. Cornell, Rod- ing, Ga., 1906. The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by Kodol For Dyspepsia. It is sold here by Brevard Drug Co.

The birth rate is decreasing in London. We trust that Mr. Roosevelt will take an early occasion to speak to Mr. Bryce about it.

Found at Last.

J. A. Harmon, of Lizemore, West Va., says: “At last I have found the perfect pill that never disappoints me; and for the benefit of others afflicted with torpid liver and chronic constipation, will say: take Dr. King's New Life Pills.” Guaranteed satisfactory. 2c at Z. W. Nichols, druggist.
