LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Glover's Photo Gallery will be open next Monday. See ad.

Mrs. F. L. DeVane is visiting her father in Statesville this week.

The June Delineator is on our table, and as usual is filled with interesting matter for the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt made a visit to the Pink Beds in automobiles this week and found the roads fairly good.

We are glad to state that Mrs. J. W. McMinn is at home again and is able to be up and about after her recent illness.

The Skating Rink will occupy ad space in the News during the season. Watch it for announcement of special features.

Maj. W. E. Breese started yesterday to Lawrence co. to audit the acts of two large corporations there and devise a new cost-accounting system for one of them.

Rev. Turner Briggs of Candler will preach at Hamlin's Rock Pile, near the residence of Judson Corn, on Sunday, May 26, at 11 o'clock. Subject, "Prayer."

Don't forget "The Old Maids' Convention" at Little River Baptist church next Saturday night. This entertainment is given for the benefit of the church. Let every body come. Admission 10c.

We respectfully call the attention of the Road Supervisors to the wretched condition of the road from Wilson's bridge down the river to the extract plant, it should be worked at once.

It is reported that some peculiar kind of black worm is prevalent in parts of our county, on the Tener place they are very numerous and are eating up all the grass and other vegetation. What are they?

The many visitors from nearby towns were pleasantly surprised and impressed with the Fraternity Building and it was the universal opinion that few towns in the state have so nice a ledge room as has Brevard.

Will Aiken, who is almost one of our folks, was a member of the band which furnished music for the K. of P's Tuesday night. It was a real pleasure to see him among our people shaking hands with old friends.

If it is expected that our people should attend the Baptist church the town authorities must build sidewalk crossings at the corner of Broad and Jordan streets. After a shower it is an heroic undertaking to cross either of these streets without a boat.

Mr. Metz, who is Superintendent of Railway Mail Clerks, was in town the first of the week and stated that our new postoffice was the best in any town of this size in his territory and was a credit to the community and to the postmaster.

We understand that Mrs. Alexander wife of the lessee of Toxaway Inn and of The Franklin, is to be in personal charge of The Franklin this summer. It is fortunate that such a very capable and experienced hotel manager as is Mrs. Alexander will run The Franklin, for she is known to the public as one who conducts a hotel most satisfactorily to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller went to Asheville Wednesday for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Silverstein came down from Rosman to attend the Pythian house-warming Tuesday night.

Several invitations have been received by Brevardites to attend the opening ball at the Atlantic Hotel at Morehead, which is under the management of the genial Frank P. Morton.

A certified copy of the Transylvania road law is published this week on pages 1 and 8 of the News. Those who are interested should preserve this issue for future reference.

Mr. Jennings left on Monday for Fairfield to prepare for opening Fairfield Inn. The hotel will be in charge of Mr. Stamps, who is a hotel man of rich experience and has a large circle of friends among the traveling public. We predict a successful season for this charming hostelry.

The News force is this week struggling with the annual catalogue of Brevard Institute. It will make a pamphlet of nearly 40 pages, and is quite an undertaking for a country print shop. If our part of the job is done creditably it will be a nice advertisement for this popular home school for girls.

Tell Brown, eldest son of W. A. Brown, and Miss Corrie Hogsd were married last Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hogsd, in Dunns Rock township. Both the contracting parties have many friends in the county who will be pleased to hear of the happy event. The News extends congratulations.

We saw one of the Asheville band members make an effort to view the new graded school building Wednesday morning. At the corner of Broad and Jordan streets he turned back—there was not sufficient attraction to overcome the repulsiveness of the muddy crossing. Our street overseer should remedy this condition. If nothing more can be done at present a few loads of gravel would help amazingly.

E. Augustus Glazener and Miss Nannie Whitmire, both of Rosman, were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Zeb. Burrell, on Depot street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. P. Chedester. The happy bride and groom left on the morning train, and after an extended bridal tour will return to their home at Rosman. The friends of the newly married couple wish them every rich blessing and much happiness and true success.

Another good democrat arrived in Brevard last Saturday—namely a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Duckworth have returned from a two weeks visit to the Jamestown Exposition. Mr. Duckworth says the exhibits are fine and that the trip is well worth the price thereof.

Life sometimes produces queer vicissitudes. We casually got into conversation with a member of the band which furnished music for the Pythians Tuesday, and a reference to "fishing" brought out the fact that he was raised at Garrett, Ind. When we mentioned that he might possibly know our brother, E. W. Miner, who was in the newspaper business in that town some years ago, he replied: "What, Coxey Miner your brother? I know him very well." So the casual chat became something like the visit of an old friend. The band member to whom we refer was O. E. Voglis.

Cash Reserve

Every big business—even the United States government itself—carries a Cash Reserve. Each individual needs one just as much. But you say, "It takes all my income to live," or "I cannot spare any money from my business."

Both these arguments are fallacies. There are men with twice your income who say the same, and those with half your income who do save.

You can save if you will. Open an account with us and it will help you.
