Brevard Institute Notes.

The steam heating plant is rapidly being installed. Mr. Ball has five men at work on the job and hopes to have it completed by the time the girls arrive.

Miss Williams, the new matron, is supervising the preparations for the opening. She has just come from her home in Mississippi. She is a cultured lady who has had considerable experience in various schools in the United States and in Mexico. She has previously worked with the Home Mission Board, and they are very glad to obtain her help again.

The desks for the primary pupils have been moved from the first floor to the south room on the second floor which was occupied by Miss Reid and the fifth grade last year. This is the most desirable room in the building and far more suitable for the little ones than the room used for them heretofore.

The Belle Bennett Library, including the books so generously donated by the St. Philips' Circulating Library, of Brevard, has been placed in a room with northern light where it is entirely to itself. This Library now consists of about eight hundred books and a dozen periodicals, all in sectional book-cases, and all shelved and catalogued for easy reference. The Dewey decimal card catalogue system is used, so that any one wishing to look up any particular subject for an essay or debate can quickly find all that the library contains on that subject. This subject catalogue will make the books vastly more valuable.

The new music teacher is Miss Law, a literary and music graduate of Mercer Academy, in Pennsylvania. Miss Law studied piano under Hermann Poehlmann and Otto Stuermer, both formerly professors in the Royal Conservatory, Dresden, Germany, and has taken post graduate work under Professor Stuermer, at New England Conservatory, and at Northwestern University. She has specialized on methods of teaching both piano and voice, and brings to us the most successful methods in use in Germany and America. Her work as a pupil was so satisfactory that she acted as an assistant teacher of both piano and voice during a large part of her student years and she has had two years of experience teaching since then. She will pay particular attention to the fundamental work in piano playing and in voice building and to preparing her pupils to become teachers. It is not likely that any other young lady in the state is better able to give this training.

Mr. E. E. Jones is expected Tuesday. He will have charge of the commercial branches and is particularly fitted for that work. He is a graduate of Jones' Business College, Peoria, Ill., and Peoria Business College and of the Law Department of a correspondence school. He has had large experience as a teacher in public schools and in business colleges. Until recently he taught in the counting house department of Orr's Business College, Chicago, and is highly recommended by the president of this institution. His business, law and commercial training and experience make him an exceptionally strong teacher. He comes at a considerable sacrifice to himself, but fortunate circumstances enable the Institute to secure his services at least for a year.

In the selection of teachers, fully as much care has been devoted to learning about their moral and religious life as about their knowledge and ability as teachers. Not all of them are Methodists but every one is a church member and all are active church workers. It is very difficult to find this combination but by searching the country over and by a great deal of investigation during two summers, a faculty has been gotten together that cannot be surpassed for the grade of work done.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure without avail," writes John H. Zircle of Phillippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Phillippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease in eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old can do as much work as a young man." For sale by O. L. Erwin, Rosman.

Additional Locals.

R. L. Gash made a visit to Asheville last Monday.

C. M. Cook Jr. made a business trip to Asheville last week.

Robert H. Breese of Greensboro is in town for a weeks visit.

What is the matter with Transylvania having a county fair this fall?

The many friends of Capt. Brooks are glad to welcome him to Brevard again.

Coat King, who has been connected with the laundry and electric plant for a year, recently resigned his position, and was succeeded by John Tinsley.

To sharpen scissors cut them rapidly on the neck of a small glass bottle, or better still, on a ground glass stopper. It trues the edges and makes them cut like new.—Woman's Home Companion for September.

Maj. DeVane and a party of friends went fishing on Catheys Creek last week and spent the night at the Lodge. In addition to the second catch of the season every one reports having enjoyed a most pleasant outing.

A letter from J. J. Miner dated Louisville, Ky., Aug. 25, reads as follows: "I stopped over here this morning hoping that I might get to Indianapolis, Ind., in time for Kern's notification which was scheduled for 12 o'clock today, but all trains which would reach there in time had left before I got here. I leave for St. Louis at 9:00 tonight. Am O. K. and will write more when I get located."

By an error in information, we announced last week an entertainment for the benefit of the graded school library, to be held in the court house, Friday evening Aug. 28. The entertainment will be in the new school building. The auditorium has seating capacity for quite a large crowd, and the entrance hall communicates with the auditorium, making a room sufficiently large for all who will attend.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles—try it. Sold under guarantee at Allison's drugstore. 25 cents.

Buds in Reserve.

When a large branch of a tree is cut off, small branches will frequently shoot out round the stump. These branches are from reserve buds, of which all trees have a great number at every portion of their surface. Under ordinary circumstances these never come to maturity, but when the tree is wounded or cut off or loses some of its branches the reserve buds at once come into play and renew the foliage.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes: "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley for four years in the 23d Ohio regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." O. L. Erwin, Rosman.

Fair Warning.

A cat belonging to Mrs. Jones had caused great annoyance to the small boys of the neighborhood by killing some of their pets, so they decided to set a trap for it. Dwight, a little boy of seven, with a very tender heart, was much afraid some innocent cat would suffer, so printed the following notice and pinned it on the trap: "This is for Jones' cat only."—DeLineator.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," writes H. S. Nichols, of Oakland, I. T. When a man has used a remedy for thirty five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. Sold by O. L. Erwin, Rosman, N. C.

"Sister 'll be down 'n bout an hour," announced little Bobby Whiggins as he led his sister's beau into the parlor. "An hour?" repeated the young man in surprise. "Oh, well, she said to tell yer she'd be down in a minute, but yer know how that is yerself."

The Strongest Not the Tallest.

It may surprise many to learn that the strongest men in college as a class are below the average student in stature. This is perfectly consistent with established facts. Strength is more a matter of shortness and thickness of arms and legs than of great length of limbs, which is likely to be the physical characteristic of speed, as shown by runners and oarsmen, rather than strength and endurance. The superior musculature of the strong man is indicated by his superior weight. In this respect it is observed that he weighs from seven to ten pounds more than the average student, while he surpasses this man in strength by some 300 points.—Dr. D. A. Sargent in Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davidson, of No. 973 Gifford avenue, San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels, is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Allison's drug store. 25 cts.

Laugh Better Than Tears.

I bless all the apostolic college of humorists. The man that makes me laugh is my benefactor. I do not thank anybody to make me cry. I can do that without any assistance. We all cry enough and have enough to cry about. God bless all skillful punsters, all reparteeists, all propounders of ingenious conundrums, all those who mirthfully surprise us with unusual juxtaposition of words. Thomas Hood and Charles Dickens and Sydney Smith had a divine mission, and so have their successors in these times. They stir into the acid beverage of life the saccharine. They make the cup of earthly existence, which is sometimes stale, effervesce and bubble. They placate animosities. They foster longevity. They slay follies and absurdities which all the sermons of all the pulpits cannot reach.—T. De Witt Talmage.

Clara (on the wrong side of thirty)—I am sure I don't know what he sees in her.
Cholly—Well, love is blind.
Clara—Blind! Nonsense! I never saw a man in love yet who did not see ten times as much in his sweetheart as I could.
