THE WONDERFUL CURATIVE

Would you like to talk like the following: If so send $4 to the undersigned.

Hendersonville, N. C.—This is to certify that before confinement I used Dr. Hall's hygienic treatment and found it to be the most satisfactory treatment I ever used. It reduced my usual suffering from twenty-five hours to less than one. It saved my husband a doctor bill three times the cost of the treatment. My baby is four months old and is the healthiest child I ever saw. My own health has been the finest since I have been using the treatment as prescribed. I owe these profitable advantages of health and happiness to the hygienic treatment. I therefore recommend the use of it to all ladies in similar cases. MRS. J. W. NEILL.

Blantyre, N. C., Jan. 28, 1908.—Dear Sir: I bought your hygienic treatment the 15th of Nov., 1907, and I praise it above all medicine. I had convulsions and took medicine from several doctors but they did me no good. I got no better until I bought your treatment. I can recommend it to all suffering people. MRS. J. T. JUSTUS.

THE TOBACCO TRUST

Declared to Be a Combination in Restraint of Trade

AND IT SHOULD BE OUTLAWED

United States Circuit Court of New York Hands Down a Decision Which Declares the American Tobacco Company an Illegal Combination in Restraint of Trade.

New York, Special.—The decree of the United States Circuit Court in the government's suit against the American Tobacco Company and others, which was filed, declares the American Tobacco Company, the American Snuff Company, the R. J. Reynolds Company, Pierre Lorillard and the Blackwells Durham Company a monopoly and engaged in an illegal combination. The decree restrains these holding companies from engaging in foreign and interstate commerce until competition between them is restored. The decree denies the receivership asked by the government.

An appeal which has been taken to the United States Supreme Court will act as a temporary stay to the decree.

Nine companies with their subsidiaries are named as constituting an illegal combination in the final decree filed in the United States Circuit Court, putting into effect the judgment recently obtained by the government in its suit to dissolve the so-called tobacco trust. The companies named are the American Tobacco Company, the American Snuff Company, the American Cigar Company, the American Stogie Company, MacAndrews and Forbes Company, P. Lorillard & Co., R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Blackwells Durham Tobacco Company, and the Conley Cigarette Company.

Each of the first five of these companies, the court declares, is in itself a combination in violation of law. The order enjoins these companies from continuing as parties in the combination and restrains them from engaging in interstate or foreign trade until "reasonable competition" between them is restored. Nor may the companies named for their subsidiaries acquire by conveyance or otherwise the plant or business of any other different corporation wherein any one of them now holds stock, or exercise any control whatsoever over its corporate affairs.

Both Sides to Appeal.

Both the government and the defendant companies will at once take appeals from the decree. Such action on the companies' part will make effective one highly important clause—that which provides for a suspension of the injunction during the pendency of such appeal. As the matter stands therefore, the companies may continue business as heretofore and until an affirmation of the judgment is obtained in the Supreme Court.

Twenty days is allowed for an appeal to be filed. The government will appeal on what it considers errors and omissions in the decree and the defendants will appeal from the general decision of the court.

It is understood that one ground of the government's appeal will be the failure of the court to declare that the American Tobacco Company, the American Snuff Company, the American Cigar Company, the American Stogie Company, MacAndrews and Forbes Company, and the Conley Cigarette Company, have each attempted and are attempting to force a monopoly. Another ground for the government's appeal will be the denial of its demand for a receivership for the defendant corporations.

Florida Man Shot to Death.

Jacksonville, Fla., Special.—A telegram received here by Dr. M. B. Herlong, a prominent physician, stated that V. A. Herlong, his brother and foreman of the McGehee Lumber Company's mills at Woodstock, had been shot to death by a negro employe and that a posse had been formed and were in hot pursuit of the negro, who had escaped to a nearby swamp. Woodstock is a small settlement in Baker county and many citizens joined the white men at the mill in pursuit of the black man. No particulars of the murder could be learned.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS

Synopsis of the Proceedings of the National House and Senate.

Saturday's Session.

The House of Representatives Saturday was in its old-time form. No particular programme had been mapped out, but under a call of committees several measures in which the members were especially interested, and in some cases vitally concerned, were considered. With few exceptions they engendered the liveliest sort of debate, and it was disclosed that the forces for or against them were fully lined up for the fray. Parliamentary tactics were freely resorted to, with the result that five times the roll was called.

The first rangle occurred on a resolution fixing the boundary line between the States of Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico, which was agreed to by a majority but not without two roll calls. The House then by a decisive vote refused to further consider the bill providing for arbitrary settlement of disputes between employers and employes.

Next turning attention to the bill providing for the protection of aliens in the United States the subject was threshed out at length. The measure had rough sailing and it was passed by a slim majority after the roll had been called twice.

The Brownsville Affair.

The Brownsville affair consumed nearly the entire session of the Senate Monday. Senator Foraker obtained the floor early in the day and read letters from a former soldier of the Twenty-fifth Regiment telling of the procedure of government detectives in attempts to get confessions from him. Mr. Foraker introduced an Amendment to his original bill for the re-enlistment of these soldiers providing that a commission of three retired army officers be created to determine whether discharged soldiers are innocent of complicity in the shooting up of Brownsville as a prerequisite for their re-enlistment instead of leaving that duty with the President as provided by the Warner bill.

Following closely upon these remarks the President's message giving the results of the War Department's investigation of the Brownsville affair was read and Mr. Foraker again took the floor to comment upon the message.

Senator Carter announced that he would speak upon the postal savings bank bill and would ask that it be made the unfinished business of the Senate.

In the House.

While considering bills dealing with affairs in the District of Columbia the House passed a measure providing for 85-cent gas in Washington. The bill now goes to the Senate as well as another bill abolishing "bucket shops" in the District.

A bill providing for free lectures in the public schools was voted down.

An attempt by Representative Henry, of Texas, to obtain a change in the reference to a bill prohibiting the marketing of future contracts on agricultural products brought forth the promise from Chairman Scott, of the agricultural committee, that his committee would soon grant hearings to farmers' unions and others on this subject. The House voted to adjourn Saturday, December 19th, to Monday, January 4th, and adjourned for the day at 5 p. m.

A Special Message.

On Tuesday Congress received a special message from the President bearing upon the Panama Canal matter. The message was directed against the New York World and was very bitter, demanding that the editor of The World be put in prison and otherwise punished.

Repeated peals of laughter greeted the reading in the Senate of the opening paragraph of the President's message on the Panama canal charges. As the secretary read the statement that the charges were "false in every particular," Senator Bailey laughed outright as he was passing along the rear of the chamber to his seat. Other Senators on both sides of the chamber joined with him, and when the reader reached the statement that a statement in a newspaper which he mentioned would not be believed, there was general merriment from both sides of the chamber.

There was only a small number of Senators present when the reading was begun and it was hurried through, the papers accompanying the message not being read at all.

The House Interested.

The message elicited the greatest interest in the House of Representatives. The members gave close attention during the reading of the document and there was a ripple of laughter over the President's characterization of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of The New York World, the message with its accompanying papers was referred to committee.

Accompanying the President's message was a large bundle of documents bearing upon the transfer of the canal property to the United States. Many of these documents were in French, without English translation. There was nothing which showed directly the persons who received the $40,000,000 paid by the United States, but there was included a list of about 7,000 stockholders in the old and new Panama canal companies, all of them citizens of France and of the Colombian republic. There was not the name of a citizen of the United States in the entire list.

Odd Things in the News.

There are still places in Asia Minor where the genuine Arabian horse is bred. This is the case, for example, in the Vilayet (province) of Diarbekir. Such an animal will sell in that section for as high as from $2,500 to $4,500. Ordinarily, however, the average horse can be bought throughout the country at about $50.

Two fragments of the bones of Christopher Columbus, owned by John Body Thatcher, of Albany, N. Y., were exhibited at aazaar held in New York a few days ago. The relics were obtained when the bones of the great discoverer were disinterred in 1873, and are valued at many thousands of dollars.

FEARFUL ECZEMA ALL OVER HIM.

No Night's Rest for a Year and Limit of His Endurance Secured Near—Owes Recovery to Cuticura.

"My son Clyde was almost completely covered with eczema. Physicians treated him for nearly a year without helping him any. His head, face, and neck were covered with large scabs which he would rub until they fell off. Then blood and matter would run out and that would be worse. Friends coming to see him said that if he got well he would be disgraced for life. When it seemed as if he could possibly stand it no longer, I used some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. That was the first night for nearly a year that he slept. In the morning there was a great change for the better. In about six weeks he was perfectly well.
