The departure of so many men to the cotton belt makes this the leanest season of the year for Brevard.

Something new in Doyle's page of pictures this week which ought to interest the farmers. Look it over.

We see by the Asheville papers that 14,000 people attended the circus on Monday. At 50 cents each what a lot of good roads that money would build.

Mrs. Fuller Norton, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. and Felix Norton will attend the Hill family reunion at the home of Mrs. J. A. McGuire of Toxaway Saturday and Sunday.

Little Ruth Black received several severe bruises by a fall from the back door of Miss Wave Long's Art Store last Thursday evening. How she escaped broken bones is a mystery.

A company has been formed among the school boys, and they are receiving instruction in drilling from Capt. Allison. This is an excellent kind of training for boys of that age.

Some young men on the street were talking base ball. In the course of the conversation, two of the up-to-now on such subjects alluded to the Pittsburg-Detroit games. A listening youth of some simplicity asked, "Are they going to play here?"

Branch Paxton, who has been on a business trip to Maryland recently, reports that state as in the throes of a campaign for disfranchisement of the negro. Ex-Governor Aycock and other prominent speakers are canvassing the state in the interest of a white man's government.

St. Philips church, 19th Sunday after Trinity, Oct. 17, 1909. Morning prayer, holy communion and sermon at 11. Subject, "Light on the Transformed Life." The Junior Auxiliary missionary meeting will be held next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Friday—Evening prayer with address at 5 o'clock.

A report of the outlook for those who are behind the Lecture Course in Brevard is encouraging. After the Elliott entertainment there was on hand about $200, so that the other four numbers have only $50 to raise to make the promoters secure. Whatever excess there may be will be held as a fund for future courses.

It was quite a drawback to the News office to have the water cut off last Saturday—our motive power is the water supply—but the improved condition for drinking purposes most assuredly atones for a day of idleness. We learn that a settling basin was built at the intake, and as a result the water which reaches town is clear as crystal.

We learn that everything killable was killed by frost Wednesday morning around Asheville, and yet their thermometer only showed 33 degrees—one degree above freezing. It's wonderful what an accommodating thermometer our mountain metropolis has. Here in Brevard, which is usually a few degrees warmer than Asheville in every cold spell, our thermometer showed 23—9 degrees below freezing.

"I would have been a cripple for life, from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Disberry, Kelliker, Minn., "without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises. It soon cures Burns, Scalds, Old Sores, Poils, Skin Eruptions. World's best for Piles. 25c. at Allison & Macfie's.

DEATH OF A COLORED PREACHER.

Rev. Jonathan Jackson, colored, who has been here for some time laboring among the people of his race, was found dead last Monday morning. He had been subject to sudden and violent attacks arising from acute indigestion, and it is supposed that one of these attacks caused his death. No one was with him when his death occurred, although he was seen on the street a few minutes before.

The corner was called in, but as there was no suspicion of foul play in any way no jury was summoned.

Rev. Jackson was transferred from the Schoharie, N. Y. conference to the south partly in the interest of his health. He preached his farewell sermon Sunday and was preparing to take the Monday morning train to conference at Bristol, to learn where the A. M. E. church would send him next year.

The church here is so small in numbers that its preacher has to work outside his calling to live, and Jackson has had a hard time during the past year. He was quiet and unobtrusive, and has made many friends among the white race.
