CONFEDERATE REUNION

The citizens of Winston Salem, with characteristic civic pride and with unbounded admiration for the men who wore the gray, are making extensive and elaborate preparations for the annual meeting of the North Carolina division of the United Confederate Veterans on the 7th and 8th of August. It is a well-known fact that the people of Winston-Salem never do things in a half way style. Whatever is undertaken is well done or not done at all, and in the preparations that are being made to care for and entertain the two thousand and more old soldiers that are expected to attend this reunion, everything possible is being done to make our ever welcome visitors comfortable and happy.

It will be remembered that Winston-Salem entertained the veterans four years ago, and the boys went home delighted with their reception and entertainment. The invitation to again visit Winston-Salem was extended in that spirit of loyalty to the veterans which has ever characterized the people, and now that the invitation has been accepted and marching orders have been issued, the boys of '61 will be received with open arms and glad hearts by men, women and children.

Committees are at work preparing comfortable sleeping quarters, as well as places where good things to eat and drink may be found in abundance. There will be something doing all the time. Addresses by distinguished Confederate veterans will be a feature of the convention. The program will be interesting from start to finish.

Reduced rates on the railroads as usual have been applied for, and the exact fare can be learned from any station by enquiring of the local agent.

This is no formal invitation which Winston-Salem extends to the leaves of a fast thinning line. It is a hearty and sincere expression of the love and admiration that we have for brave men who knew no fear in the days that tried men's souls. We consider ourselves fortunate and honored in having you among us. We want to know you and shake your hand, and we want our children and our children's children to know what manner of men have made the southland the grandest place in this glorious country of ours. Don't deprive us of the pleasure of being at your service once more.

BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION

Few departments of science have shown greater development and attracted wider public attention in recent years than the breeding of plants and animals. The American Breeders' Association is composed of scientists and practical breeders who are working along these lines, for the improvement of plant and animal life. This association will hold its annual meeting at Columbia, January 24, 25 and 27, 1913, in connection with the fifth national corn exposition.

The national corn exposition has assigned a booth to the American Breeders' Association for its exhibits and headquarters during the exposition. In this booth will be exhibits and literature relating to the subjects of plant breeding, animal breeding and eugenics.

Since the organization of the Breeders' Association the president has been Hon. James Wilson, the famous secretary of agriculture. The secretary is Prof. W. M. Hays, the assistant secretary of agriculture. Prof. Hays is taking a great deal of interest in the preparation of the program, to which he is giving his personal attention. Among the prominent members active in the association is Dr. H. J. Webber, who developed the celebrated Webber cotton. He is in charge of the plant breeding department of the association.

COUNTY TEACHERS

HOLD FIRST MEETING

BOOK LIST DISCUSSED AND ADOPTED

Program Arranged for Next Meeting. Many County Schools Start Monday

A meeting of the county public school teachers was held at the graded school last Friday morning, presided over by Superintendent Henderson. About twenty teachers were present. A great many engaged to teach for the next session are at present not in the county, and for this reason the schools were not well represented.

The meeting was called by the county superintendent to discuss matters and outline work for the schools, some of which will open next Monday, August 5th. One important matter was the list of adopted books. Mr. Henderson announced that he intended to have about 2,500 cards printed containing all the books to be used in the different grades. These cards will be given to the teachers, and they will thus be able to distribute them among their pupils on the first day of school.

Another matter of interest was in regard to graduation from the elementary schools. Mr. Henderson outlined a plan which he believed would have a beneficial effect if carried out. He proposed to have next spring a commencement day at Brevard for pupils from any school in the county finishing the seventh grade. Certificates would be given only to those who had taken and completed the full number of studies required by the state law. He appealed to the teachers for their support in this movement, and a motion was made and carried to adopt the plan and carry it out.

At the close of the meeting the county teachers' association was reorganized with Superintendent Henderson as president, A. B. Riley vice president, and Miss Sue Glazener secretary and treasurer. The first regular meeting of the association will be held at the Brevard graded school on Friday and Saturday, August 30th and 31st. J. W. Briggs, Z. A. Nicholson and A. B. Riley were appointed on a committee to prepare a program for this meeting.

Following is the program:

Friday, August 30.
10 a. m.—Opening exercises by Dr. W. E. McIlwaine.
10:15—Checking the Waste; discussion of book, by T. C. Henderson.

11:15—Recess.
11:25—Meeting of county Betterment association.

12:30 p. m.—Recess for dinner.
1:20—Graduation from elementary schools, by Rev. Mark Osborne. Discussion.

2:15—Some reasons why teachers should attend summer schools, by Miss Hattie Aiken.

2:40 Compulsory attendance, by Miss Sue Glazener. Discussion.

3:15—General discussion.

8:15—Lecture, by A. C. Reynolds, principal-elect of Cullowhee Normal school.

Saturday, August 31st.

10 a. m.—Opening exercises by Rev. Loy D. Thompson.

10:15—Reading in public schools. Discussion of book, by W. B. Sinclair.

10:45—Domestic science in public schools, by Miss Ada Blum. Discussion.

11:30—Recess.

11:40—Model class in English Grammar, conducted by Miss Isabel Parkins.

12:10—The daily program, by Miss Gertrude Wilson. Discussion.

12:30—General discussion. Adjournment.

LEAP YEAR TACKY PARTY

Mrs. Jas. K. Mills and Mrs. Harry Patton entertained with a Leap Year Tacky Party, Wednesday evening. Many unique games were played during the evening, among them being one in which the young ladies proposed to the young men. Miss Delia Russell of Greenville, S. C., won the prize for the best proposal. The prizes for the tackiest were awarded Mrs. Harry Patton and Mr. Clay McLean.

Delicious refreshments were served on the lawn which was beautifully decorated with North Carolina lanterns.

The "tackies present were: Misses Delia and Eva Russell of Greenville S. C., Florrie Bidet of Clinton S. C., Annie Newton of Blacksburg S. C., Martha Brooks of Lake Toxaway, Bertie Rowland and Benita Ivey of Augusta Ga., Julia Deaver, Emma and Bessie Patton, Mary Maxwell, Annie Allison, Sallie Osborne, and Lillian Hurst. Messers Virgil Osborne, Clay McLean, Mac Allison, Tilden McLean of Asheville, James Deaver, Chess Gallamore, Bob and John Maxwell, Otis Patton, Chas. Jolley, Durward Bracken and J. J. Patton.

WALKER BAGWELL

Just a few words in memory of a worthy young man. The unexpected death of Walker Bagwell on July 23, came as a shock from his many friends and relatives of Brevard and Transylvania county. The writer has known Walker from his cradle to manhood. He was one of the best christian young men in Dunn's Rock township. He was a young man who at all times was at your service for anything that was gentlemanly and christian like. This young man and his father were once in the employ of the writer and held trustworthy positions and filled them in an honest and upright manner. Walker was obedient to his parents and they loved him dearly. May God help them in their bereavment over the loss of their dear boy. The sympathy of all who knew him goes out with them. Some day we'll understand. T. W. W.

VETERANS

Brevard Camp, U. C. V. No. 955, Brevard, N. C., July 30, 1912.

Order No. 7

As many of the old veterans as desire and will work to make the approaching reunion a success are ordered to meet in Brevard on Monday next, being August 5th, 2 p. m. The purpose of this meeting is largely to plan for the reunion, appoint committees and formulate program. The Commandant is pained to state that the adjutant, Jos. M. Kern is ill, too ill to be asked to countersign this order.

Ordered by last meeting of camp. J. M. HAMLIN, Comd't.

LIME FOR SOILS

An investigation made by President Finley of the Southern railway system has shown that experts in the chemistry of soils are unanimously of the opinion that lime in some form will benefit many soils of the southeastern states by correcting their acidity and improving their mechanical condition.

President Finley has secured the opinions of experts throughout the southern states and also in the eastern and middle states, in some of which experiments with the use of lime have been carried on for a long series of years. These opinions have been published in an illustrated folder which is being widely distributed among the farmers in the territory traversed by the lines of the Southern railway system.

Farmers and others interested in this subject may obtain copies of this folder by addressing W. W. Finley, President, Southern Railway company, Washington, D. C.
