

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Rogers of Jacksonville, Fla., has rented the home of Mr. Thos. J. Wilson for the summer.

Mr. J. C. Whitmire of Cherryfield was in town last Tuesday traveling in his new auto.

Rev. Z. I. Henderson of Seneca, S. C., is here on a visit to his father, Mr. G. W. Henderson.

At Mrs. Bryant's are the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McNeal, Jack, Ellis, Alfred and Miss Edith McNeal, and Miss Phelan, all of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. A. E. Hampton returned this week from the season's work in Florida and South Georgia. Mr. Hampton and family are now at home on South Caldwell street.

Miss Cleveland, daughter of J. B. Cleveland of Spartanburg, and Miss Jessie Cleveland of Knoxville, Tenn., are occupying the Cleveland cottage, near the Franklin.

Picture shows are now running at the Auditorium three nights in the week, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The nightly summer run will probably not begin before July.

A new footbridge is badly needed on North Caldwell sidewalk not far from the French Broad avenue crossing. This is one of the most frequented sidewalks outside of the main sections of town.

Rev. E. H. Norwood made another visit to Montreat this week, attending to repairs on his cottage there. He will fill his usual appointment at the Presbyterian church here next Sunday.

Dr. Hall Lyday, son of Dr. W. M. Lyday of Penrose, received recently his diploma from the Atlanta Medical college. Young Dr. Lyday comes of a family of physicians and has a record to live up to.

By order of the street committee some good work has been done on sidewalks in different parts of town. A part of the sidewalk on Jordan street, long neglected, looks now something like a thoroughfare.

Mr. Linns North came home the first part of this week from Asheville, where he had stopped on the trip up from Charlotte. Mr. North's friends will be glad to learn that his health is much better than it was during a part of his stay in Charlotte.

Last Monday Mr. Harrison Case and Miss Jimmie Neil, both of this county, were married in Hendersonville, making the trip thither by automobile. Miss Neil is a daughter of Mrs. J. G. Neill, and has a large number of friends and acquaintances among the young people of this community.

Mr. L. B. Haynes and wife of Wilkesville, S. C., are here for the summer, occupying one of the Institute cottages. Mr. Haynes is principal of the Sunny Side high school. He has been here for several summers in succession, and expects a number of friends to occupy the same cottage with him this season.

The volume of business in the post office for the month of May shows an increase over last year for the same time. This growth has been constant from year to year. The sale of stamps for May, 1913, amounted to $303.74; for May, 1914, $394.78; an increase of nearly 30 per cent. The money order business, owing partly to the parcel post system, was nearly double in volume.

Theodore Stevens, alias Bill Jones, was arrested here on suspicion by Chief Singleton and Sheriff Pickelsimer and lodged in jail. He is being held for Georgia authorities, being under life sentence in that state. This negro convict was laboring under the mistake held by a good many others, that he could escape the law by coming here. But the traps are ever ready.

St. Philips church, first Sunday after Trinity, June 14, 1914. Morning prayer with sermon at 11. Subject, "Delight in the Church." The annual report will be read. It is hoped that all the members will be present to hear it. Sunday school at 3:30. The district convention meets at Trinity church, Asheville, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 17 and 18. Please use prayer for the convention.

Miss Bettie Armfield has moved into her new house on Jordan street, next door to the Henning Inn. With her is her sister, Miss Fannie Armfield, of Greensboro.

The social meeting of the Brevard Club last Monday night was attended by a number of ladies. Ice cream, cake, and punch were the refreshments, and the graphophone furnished music.

An invitation has been received at this office to the marriage of Miss Lalla Vincent to Mr. J. H. Tison, which took place at Estill, S. C., June 11th. Miss Vincent is a daughter of Dr. C. P. Vincent, who has a summer home here.

Owing to a reception at the Presbyterian manse next Monday evening, there will be no meeting of the Chautauqua Circle. On the following Monday evening the circle will hold its last meeting for the summer, suspending work till September.

The Franklin opened last Wednesday for the summer season under the proprietorship of Mr. Marcus J. Stamp. A number of guests are already booked and Mr. Stamp speaks quite confidently of the prospects of the best season in the history of the hotel.

Mrs. O. M. Carson, who came from Washington last week, has taken the J. L. Aiken and Frank McCall houses on Oakdale avenue, and will open them for summer guests. These places have adjoining lots and occupy one of the prettiest situations in town.

Mr. E. H. Glover left last Thursday for Detroit, Michigan, where business calls him for the summer. Mr. Glover has been here every summer except one for more than a dozen years, and the closing of his studio will be a matter of regret for many citizens and tourists.

The Free Will Baptist church, organized some time ago up King's creek with Rev. Stephen Smith as pastor has now a membership of thirty-eight, and seems to be in a flourishing condition. Plans are being made for giving the congregation a suitable place of worship, the building now used being a dwelling house with insufficient accommodations.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood will entertain a number of friends at the manse from 5 to 10 p. m. next Monday. To this reception, which is an anniversary occasion, all the members of the Presbyterian church are invited, and some special invitations to others are being sent out. The early hour of five is set for those who may not be able to attend at night.

Mr. Ernest Fowler, who lives north of town near the railroad "Y," has a well whose water smells strongly of oil. A sample which he brought in a bottle shows a milky colored liquid with a dusty deposit and a floating brownish scum. Has an oil can leaked into the well, or has he struck a petroleum vein? That is the question which he would no doubt like to have decided.

Assistant Recorder T. T. Loftis had a few nuisance cases to dispose of this week. John and Horace Howard, two young men, who have been working in a saw mill camp, were convicted. The former was committed to the roads for thirty days. Judgment was suspended in case of the latter, as a Greenville officer was here after him on account of a crime committed in that county—shooting a man from ambush.

The board of aldermen met last Monday night pursuant to adjournment on Monday previous. All the members except J. W. Duckworth were present. J. R. Zachary came before the board and asked that a sewer line be put into Maple street. The matter was taken up and a motion made and carried that the line be constructed at once. Outside of routine business there were no other matters of interest at this meeting.

The Woodmen of this place celebrated the anniversary of the organization of the order on Sunday afternoon, June 7th, the nearest Sunday to the true date, June 6th. The members met at the fraternity hall and thence went to Oak Grove cemetery. Ritual ceremonies were carried out, and Messrs. Joe Johnson, W. H. Grogan, Jr., and R. L. Gash made short addresses. The graves of Woodmen received special attention, considerable work being done upon them.
