

WARSAW HAS FALLEN

What is certain to have a far-reaching and almost immediate effect upon the European war has happened. Warsaw has fallen and the far-flung lines of the Austro-German forces are pressing close upon the Russians, who are retreating to positions prepared for them and offering what military critics regard as greater advantages for a successful defense.

The Bavarian troops led by Prince Leopold were first to enter the capital, but not without fierce resistance by the Russians, who retreated eastward in the direction of Minsk.

The number of Russian prisoners has not been estimated. It seems, however, that most of the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas made their way safely out of the city, taking their guns with them.

As to Warsaw itself, it had been virtually dismantled so far as guns, factories, machine shops and probably everything that would be of value to the invaders, is concerned.

The Russian plan has passed resolutions setting forth the empire's unshaken purpose not to conclude peace before Russian victory was and pledging the willing assistance of the entire population to create fresh means to continue the struggle.

With the exception of the great entrenched camp of Novogorodsk the Russians have evacuated the whole line of the Vistula river, Krangrod, the southern fortress, having fallen into the hands of the Austro-German army, the Russians are now making their way eastward to the Brest-Litovsk line. The laying of siege to Novogorodsk may prove one of the most important operations of the war.

The American steamer, the Umana and Wisco, on loan for Sweden, have been captured by the Germans.

The British steamship Midland Queen, which sailed from Sydney, C. B., July 21 for Glasgow, was sunk on Tuesday last. The crew of twenty-two and the chief officer's wife and child were rescued after being seventy-two hours in open boats. However where the Midland Queen was sunk is not given in the foregoing dispatch.

After a desperate battle the Italians have stormed and taken the summit of Monte San Michel which dominates Gorizia, says a dispatch from Turin.

The British fishing smacks Hesperus, Kvan Cas and Fisherman have been sunk, presumably by German submarines. The crews were all saved.

HORSE SENSE

Ben, Wm. J. Hogan has a lot of sense but very little "horse" sense. Abraham Lincoln had very little sense, but all that he had was "horse" sense. "Horse" sense is only another name for shrewdness. It will not stop to consider such complications as honor or principle when emergencies come; too busy then preparing to gain points, humanity got many of the lessons that is profiting today, from Uncle Sam. This submarine business is only an improvement on the "blow-up" at Petersburg. The killing of non-combatants in Belgium is only a parody on Sherman's march through the southern States Progress.

Better Paint

Better paint this year if your property needs it. Mistaken men have been waiting for paint to come down. The rest of their job has come up, not down; it always goes up by waiting; never comes down.

Better paint than Devco. There isn't any.

Suppose one had waited 20 or 30 years ago for a better paint than Devco, how long would he have to wait? How long would he still have to wait?

The price a gallon makes some difference; yes, but not much; it's the paint that counts; the quality counts.

It's the go-for that counts. Protection of property counts more.

Better paint. DEVOE Brevard Lumber Co. sell it.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

The North Carolina military ranks second only to New York and Pennsylvania in general efficiency and marksmanship and first among Southern states, in the opinion of Commandant O. F. Schneider, U. S. A., commandant and instructor of military tactics and science.

Fighting three against twenty, three Mexican outlaws were killed by a posse last Friday night at a farm house about thirty miles north of Brownsville, Texas. The fight lasted about ten seconds.

At 11:50 o'clock last Saturday night Judge E. B. Cline pronounced the death sentence upon Mrs. Ella Bell Warren and Samuel Preston Christy, and Preston Stonestreet was given three years in the penitentiary as an accessory after the fact in the murder of G. J. Warren, the husband of the woman, in the Forsythe Superior court. The case was tried by a jury drawn from Guilford county. September 21 was fixed as the date for the execution.

Edward Frady, Martin Rickman and Miss Myrtle Prossley, a pretty sixteen-year-old girl, are under arrest in Buncombe county charged with arson and blackmail in trying to extort $100 from D. M. Lance. All the parties concerned live at Arden. The girl was unable to raise the bond required and consequently was locked up in the Buncombe county jail.

Resolutions were adopted at a mass meeting in Atlanta, Ga., last Saturday night asking the recall of Mayor Woodward and six other members of the police commissioners who recently voted to remove James L. Beavers as chief.

Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, who was President Harrison's secretary of the navy, died of paralysis in New York last Saturday in his eighty-fifth year.

An additional regiment of marines was ordered to Haiti last Friday to reinforce Rear Admiral Caperton's men now maintaining order in Port au Prince. The revolution is still in progress there.

Former Congressman A. O. Stanley, democrat, E. P. Morrow, republican, and Fred J. Drexler, progressive, were nominated for governor in the state-wide primary held in Kentucky last Saturday. The nomination of Stanley is regarded as a virtual defeat for state-wide prohibition. Three men were killed in election riots in Breathitt county.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels delivered an address to the North Carolina Bar association in Asheville last week in which he declared that the battles of the future would be fought with chemistry, electricity and machinery. Senator J. Hamilton Lewis also delivered an address to the followers of Blackstone.

Seven hundred leading men in the business and professional life of North Carolina attended the Pan-American dinner in Greensboro last week. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was expected to deliver an address, but at the last moment found he was unable to attend. His first assistant, Andrew J. Peters, attended in his stead.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court was found guilty of contempt of court last week on account of his refusal to reveal on the witness stand what he claimed was a confidential conversation with Ned Wright, a twelve-year-old boy, whose testimony had much to do with the acquittal of his mother, who was charged with the murder of her husband.

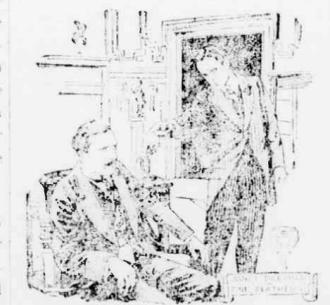

Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Sol Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than of any other preparations of like character. I have used it myself and found it gave me more relief than anything else I have ever tried for the same purpose." Obtainable everywhere. adv

"FINE FEATHERS"

The next special feature picture at the Auditorium will be a five-reel photoplay based on Eugene Walters' book, "Fine Feathers," on Tuesday evening, August 17. This is an unusually fine story illustrating the folly of running after riches on the part of a young couple who were happy for awhile on a small salary.

Temptation to cheat comes in the way of a young couple in regard for which the wife can escape from bitterness of life on $25 per week in a New York suburb. Jane Reynolds, the aspirant after Fifth Avenue fine feathers, was tempted to induce her husband, Bob Reynolds, to pass on an inferior quality of cement for a great dam then in course of construction.

Bob fell for the bribe and Jane got her fine feathers. The gambling man got Bob and he was financially ruined in double-quick time. The bursting of the dam, due to the bad cement completed the tragedy of "Fine Feathers." The chief culprit, the tempter, committed suicide, and the young couple resolved to commence life all over again and go straight.

Janet Beecher plays the lead in this photoplay, which has many good and stirring scenes, notably a view of cabinet life at Murray, the well-known New York restaurant and the bursting of the Panama dam and the inundation of the surrounding country.

"Fine Feathers" will be shown at the Auditorium on Tuesday, August 17th. Admission 10 and 20c.

PENROSE LOCALS

Penrose State High School will open September 29, 1915. The teachers in charge are the following: Misses Jeanette Talley and Victoria Justice, Mrs. A. J. Beck, Prof. Aisey Bryson, and Prof. A. F. Mitchell, Principal. Mrs. Beck will be our music director, and Mr. E. Bryson will be in charge of the commercial department. The business course is new with us and we beg the co-operation and support of the public. Why send your boys and girls away to a business college when you can give them the very same advantages at home and exceedingly cheaper? Those who finish our commercial course will be helped to a good position. The course can easily be finished in one session. Students may take either the combined course of bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand and penmanship, for $5.00 per month or any two courses for $3.00 per month. Tuition in the music department is $1.50 per month for vocal and instrumental or $1.00 per month for your choice. Good board can be had here from $8.00 to $11.00 per month. We have the prospects of the grandest session in the history of our school. Come boys! come girls! and number yourselves with the growing.

For any further information write to either of the following: W. L. Talley or A. C. Lyday, Penrose, N. C., A. D. Lyday, Brevard, N. C., Prof. Aisey Bryson, Mountville, S. C. or to Prof. A. F. Mitchell at the same place.

There are a great number of summer visitors here now in the various cottages and homes. All seem to be enjoying life and more folks are coming in nearly every day.

If you want the advantages of good health, good associates, a fine climate, mountain scenery, pure water, delicious and refreshing fruits, all kinds of good things to eat, a land flowing with bounties, a land where the Big War is rarely discussed, peace and prosperity, and best of all a complete high school and business education run to Penrose for breakfast! Ask about the above statement till you find that it is true, then join us.
