disastrous encounters.

The Republicans in the House have been so loudly and vigorously denounced as obstructionists that they are beginning to feel of shame. The talk now is that under McKinley's lead a Tariff bil will be offered by the Protection ists. They begin to realize that the over-burdened and unwisely taxed people are fearfully in earnest in their demand for relief. The New York Star does not give a very encouraging account of McKinley's success with his broth er Republicans and the Ways and Means Committee. It says:
