THEY HAVE GONE AND DONE IT.

The Third party is an assured fact. The great National Industrial Conference held at St. Louis, February 24th has built a platform embodying resolutions of a most sweeping character. The following is the platform:

"This the first great labor conference of the United States and the world, representing all the divisions of urban and rural organized industry assembled in the National Congress, invoking upon its action the blessing and protection of Almighty God, puts forth to and for the producers of the nation this declaration of union and independence. The conditions which surround us best justify our co-operation. We meet in the midst of a nation brought to a verge of moral, political and material ruin. Corruption dominates the ballot-box, Legislature and Congress, and touches even the enemies of the bench. People are demoralized. Many of the States have been compelled to isolate voters at the polling places in order to prevent universal intimidation or bribery; newspapers are subsidized or muzzled; our homes covered with mortgages; labor impoverished and land concentrated in the hands of capitalists. Urban workmen are denied the right of organization for self-protection, imported pauperized labor beats down their wages; a hireling standing army unobjectioned by our laws established to shoot them down, and they are rapidly degenerating to European conditions. Fruits of the toil millions are bodily stolen to build up colossal fortunes, unprecedented in the history of the world, while their possessors despise the republic and endanger the liberty of the people through National power to create money is appropriated to enrich bond holders; silver which has been accepted as coin since the dawn of history has been demounted to add to purchasing the power of gold by decreasing the value of all forms of property as well as human labor and a supply of currency is purposefully abridged to fatten usurers, bankrupt enterprise and enslave industry. Vast conspiracy against mankind has been organized on two continents and is taking possession of the world if not met and overthrown at once. It means social convulsions, destruction of civilization or establishment of absolute despotism. In this crisis of human affairs intelligent working people and producers of the United States have come together in the name of peace, order and society to defend liberty, prosperity and justice. We declare our union and independence and assert them through political organization which represents our principals. We charge that the controlling influence dominating the old political parties have allowed existing dreadful conditions to develop without serious effort to retain or prevent them; neither do they now intend to accomplish reform. They have agreed together to ignore in the coming campaign, every issue but one. They propose to drown the outcries of a plundered people with an uproar of sham battle over the tariff, so that the corporations, national banks, rings, trusts, "watered stocks" demoralization of silver and oppression of usurers may all be lost sight of. They propose to sacrifice our homes and children upon the altar of mammon, to destroy hopes, multitudes in order to secure from great Lords of plunder. We assert that political organizations representing political principles, herein stated is necessary to redress grievances of which we complain. Assembled on the anniversary of the birth of the illustrious man who led the first great revolution on this continent against oppression was filled with sentiments which actuated that grand generation. We seek to restore the government of the republic to the hands of the "plain people" with whom it originated; our doors are open to all points of the compass, we ask all honest men to join with and help us in order to restrain the exactions of aggregated capital; to drive money-changers out of the temple; to form a perfect union; establish justice and insure domestic tranquility; provide for the common defense; promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves and our posterity.

We do ordain and establish the following platform and principles:

1. We declare the union of labor forces of the United States this day accomplished, permanent and perpetual. May its spirit enter into all the hearts for the salvation of the Republic and the uplifting of mankind.

2. Wealth belongs to him who created it. Every dollar taken from industry without an equivalent is robbery. If any will not work neither shall he eat. The interests of rural and urban labor is the same, and there enemies are identical.

3. We demand national currency—safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government, only full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and without the use of banking corporations. Just and equitable means of circulation, at a tax not to exceed two per cent., as set forth in sub-Treasury plan of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system; also by payments in discharge of its obligation for public improvement.

4. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

5. We demand the amount of circulation medium to be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

6. We demand the graduated income tax.

7. We believe that the money of the treasury should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand all National and State revenues shall be limited to necessary expenses and the Government economically and honestly administered.

8. We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people and to facilitate exchange.

9. Your sub committee upon the land plank beg to submit to your approval the following: That the land, including all natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes and the alien ownership of land should be prohibited. That all land now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all land now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

10. Transportation being the means of expense and public necessity, the government should own and operate the roads in the interest of the people.

11. The telegraph and telephone like the postal system being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned by the Government in the interest of the people.

12. We demand that the Government issue legal tender notes, and pay Union soldiers the difference between the price of depreciated money in which he was paid, and gold.

Resolved, That we hail this Conference as the consummation of a perfect union of hearts and hands of all sections of our common country. Men who wore the gray and men who wore the blue meet here to extinguish the last smoldering embers of the civil war in the tears of joy of a united and happy people; and we agree to carry the stars and stripes forward forever to the highest point of national greatness."

COL. WADDELL IN NEW YORK

The New York World gives an interesting account of the speeches of the distinguished men who spoke at the Southern Society banquet in New York Tuesday night. It thus reports Col. Waddell's speech on "The South":

"Except that it is no longer a slave holding country (for which God be praised), the south of to-day is the South of the past, chastened and strengthened by such an experience as would have emasculated and destroyed any but a great and heroic people. To her own sons and largely to those who bore the stainless banner to victory on a hundred battlefields, is she indebted for the tremendous energies with which she is thrilling and which will place her in the fore-front of civilization.

"She is the same old South, from which sprang the giants of American history, which in the olden time gave to humanity the example of Washington and enriched the records the race with the names of Jefferson and Madison, and Marshall and Lee, and Randolph and Pinckney, and their compatriots; and in latter days has nursed some of the noblest characters some of the grandest men who ever walked the earth. It is to preserve and perpetuate the memory and characteristics of such as these that this society was organized. And if the pledge is kept, you will indeed have filled the highest measure of hope and expectation on the part of your Southern countrymen and have placed yourself beyond the reaches of just criticism from any source."

ROTATORY GASTRONOMY.

On his way—somewhere—the other day Bill Nye stopped to elake his thirst and strengthen his stomach at Sanford, and this how he narrates his experience of "eating in a circle":

"At Sanford, N. C., the other day we found a new thing in the way of eating-houses, Sanford is a station where two rival roads meet and shake their fists at each other. If one road has a train arriving in the morning, the other road has a train that arrives late in the evening to connect with it. This gives the traveler an opportunity to view the town of Sanford, which is composed largely of climate. A thrifty gentleman, realizing the need of this active little town, has established an eating-house. The distinguishing characteristic of this place consists of a large circular table, the outer rim of which is stationary; the inner table, or center, containing the eatables, mustard pot, embalmed cockroaches and pie, revolves upon its axle-tree, so that while your plate remains where it was originally put the principal articles of indigestion may be obtained by taking hold of the revolving table and swinging it around until you get what you are after. This works very well so long as there is a friendly feeling among the guests, but the other evening there was a general soreness on the part of those who gathered around the festive board, a sort of strained and bitter feeling, growing, no doubt, out of the unfriendly relations between the two roads, and their unfortunate connections, so that while a guest on the lee side of the table wanted something out out of the caster, which was on the windward, and started the festive board around at a rapid rate, another gentleman on the lee quarter decided that he would like to open a bottle of vinegar, so that just as the caster got to the first named gentleman the table was given another whirl, and the air was filled with victuals, gravy and gloom."

William would become fonder than he thinks of the cosy old traven should he become better acquainted with it; and, for the sake of its genuine comforts, would be willing to even take his rations "on the fly" a la the "merry-go-round." In the days of good old Col. Page (and we doubt not that his mantle has worthily descended) the guests, in winter, finished his fragrant coffee with the last revolution of the mahogany, and betook himself to the genial warmth of the roaring oak fire in the public room; or, in summer he would digest a well served supper in a siesta on the broad piazza—attuned, in bodily restfulness and mental repose, to the tranquility of the declining day.—Bayetville Observer.

The Star says there are some lively old folks in Missouri. There was a dance given recently near one of the rural burgs. The leading couple in the set was a festive pair, aged respectively 79 and 78 years, and the youngest was a merry maid of fifty.

One dollar seems to be the Alabama price of a purloined or forced kiss. A young lady sued a young man for kissing her against her will. The young man admitted the kissing, but denied the surreptitious or forceable trespass, and moreover, was free to admit that he had kissed her 150 times, in consideration of which, the jury, who thought he ought to pay for his luxuries, awarded the y. l. $150 damages, though it did not appear that she was damaged in the least.—Star.

On the 24th inst., the people of San Diego, Cal., were severely shaken by an earthquake, it began at 11:30 p. m., and lasted more than a minute, the shock was so violent that it awoke everybody and caused the people to run out from the buildings in their night clothes. The shock was felt at San Antonio and San Bernardino but no serious damage was done at any place more than the fright.

The Atlanta Journal is mistaken in supposing that the North Carolina delegates to St. Louis favor a Third party. We do not know what course Col. Polk will take, but we do know that the other North Carolinians are not tainted with the Kansas heresy and rainbow worship. Mr. Butler, President of the North Carolina Alliance, and all our delegates are standing against Third party action. We hope that Col. Polk has been misrepresented.—Chronicle.

The Wilmington Star says the twenty-ninth wife of an Ohio man, who was arrested for being too much married, has appeared against him and all the outlying counties have not been heard from yet.

The Times has lived through one year and has worked under very many disadvantages, but we hope some of them at least have been overcome, and it now starts out on the second, making the weekly visits to more than six hundred homes in Harnett, Sampson, Johnston and Cumberland, we wish to keep improving until we can give our readers a paper second to none. We want to increase our subscription list in the next two months to one thousand. The newspapers heretofore have been so uncertain in the county that many who would like to take the paper have been bit by paying in advance, but we are here to stay, and if you fail to get your paper you can get your money back. This being election year it is natural for every one to want to know something of the doings of the politicians, so send us your subscription and we will give you a better paper and keep you better posted than heretofore.

In the face of the fact that Tilden receives a majority of all the votes cast, and that in 1888, Cleveland received 5,536,242 votes and Harrison only 5,440,708 votes, some people are foolish enough to declare that the Democratic party cannot hope to win this year. It is the majority party in the country, and this year will win unless the Southern people foolishly desert its standard just upon the eve of complete victory. They will not do it. Reason, patriotism and self-interest alike forbid their taking such a step.—Chronicle.
