Mrs. W. D. Smith and Mrs. Hough spent Friday in town.

Mr. Jas. P. Hodges and wife of Little River Academy, paid our town a call Friday.

Further Price of Goldboro, N. C., spent a short while in the city last week with some his members.

The closing exercises of Buies Creek High School takes place today. THE TIMES returns thanks for an invitation.

Mr. W. T. Bailey and sisters, Misses Millie and Delphia, of Stewart's Academy, paid our popular dentist, Dr. Goodwin, a call Friday of last week.

Miss Sallie, B. Sledge music teacher in the Riverside Academy near Buies Creek left last week for her home in Virginia.

Dr. F. T. Moore attended the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., which convened in Wilmington on the 10th inst. He was the representative from Lucksnow No. 115.

THE TIMES notes with regret the burning of the dwelling of Rev. J. D. Pegram's on his plantation near Cokesberry, which occurred on Saturday of last week.

LOST.—One watch key, one medicine case key, one trunk key (flat), also one post office box key No. 473. The finder will be amply rewarded by returning to Dr. J. H. Daniel, Dunn, N. C.

Dr. W. J. Strickland, a former resident our town, but now of the firm of Strickland and Williams of Kenly, was in town last week. Dr. tells us they are doing well at their new location.

Presiding Elder G. A. Oglesby held Quarterly Conference Saturday and Sunday at Pleasant Plain church and Sunday night preached an able and highly instructive sermon in the M. E. Church here to an attentive congregation.

If Dunn gets beat in the foot race, she can challenge the South with an eating man. One who eat 6 dozen eggs for breakfast and some of them were goose eggs. The gentleman is a reliable man. We have learned since that he also eat some shad and coffee too. He can get there.

On last week our old board of Commissioners time expired and they stepped down and out to give way for the new men. They had been a good conservative set and did all they could for the town and its progress, still that did not satisfy some of the people, because it is the case here that any law or any movements made for the benefit of the town always meets with some opposition from some one. We are not united enough, they want all together when we have a town ordinance, all should say it must be enforced. The new board composed of near-thinking active business men take hold under favorable circumstances with a better future for the town. The taxes are enough now to keep the town up well, and under the administration of this board we are sure the expenditures will be carefully put out, and we see no reason why our town should not prosper under the management of the present officers.

PIC-NIC AT RAVEN ROCK.

A DWELLING BURNED.

Last Saturday, at Raven Rock was a day of pleasure and social enjoyment.

The occasion was a picnic, at which gathered the manhood and beauty of both Wake and Harnett counties.

This place to which nature has been so bountiful in bestowing her charms, has been time out of mind a trusting place for lovers. Seated beneath the overhanging crags of this massive gray granite, inhaling the sweet perfumes of the mountain bay, which grows so luxuriantly here, and while listening to the gentle ripple of the river at their feet, many have in years gone by, made vows to which they have been true, vows which have sealed their destinies, either for weal or for woe.

Nor was Saturday an exception to the past. The beaux, with their new spring suits, straw hats, and white ties were on hand and at their best in their efforts to please and to do the agreeable.

The writer being no model or word painter, in describing the girls will stop before he spoils it all, by saying that they, in their picnic attire and broad hats were beautiful, and as agreeable as pretty.

The cool drink and confectionery vender was there, adding to the pleasure of the occasion by dispensing goods of the best quality.

The time passed rapidly, but pleasantly in a general way, until dinner was announced, when an array of good things was spread, that was of quality, sufficient to gratify the palate of the most fastidious epicure.

When dinner was over the promenades and lovers strolls began. The steep ascents made this difficult, and the young men found light ladies not at all disagreeable.

Every one (true to human nature) was watching to see, and ready to laugh at the downfall of some of the unwary of their companions as they, losing their footing took a tumble down the steep ascent.

But the gallants were fortunate and we say with Tibullus: "Whom love rules, where'er his path may be, walks safe and sacred."

While standing and gazing upon the exquisite grandeur of the scenery, some eyes were attracted to a dense black smoke a few miles across the river. Many volunteered suggestions as to its origin, but it was all made plain, when in about an hour, some one arrived and told the sad news that the dwelling, situated on the plantation of Rev. J. D. Pegram near Cokesberry, was in ashes. The house was occupied by Mr. Wm. Trulove.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The family were all away from home and when the fire was discovered the roof was ready to fall in.

Nothing was saved except one bed. Some of Mr. Trulove's sons were at the picnic, but on hearing the sad news of their misfortune returned to what was to them only a few hours before when they left it, a comfortable home, but now a heap of smouldering ashes with nothing save the clothes they wore on their backs.

Thus passed a day of joy and sorrow, and one that will be remembered by all that were present.

Dickenson Items.

Weather fair and warm. Farmers are all busy planting corn and cotton.

Mr. E. E. Brantly and wife come over Sunday to Healthy Forest.

Miss D. P. Johnson is visiting her aunt, Mrs. McNeill, this week.

Misses Sarah Nixon and Lizzie McKay called on the ladies' of Healthy Forest.

Mr. James Northan and wife spent Tuesday night with their uncle, Dr. McNeill.

We are sorry to hear of the death of one of the children of Mr. Billie Sexton of Buies Creek section.

Mr. W. P. Byrd was elected to attend the State Convention at Raleigh May 18th, 1892.

Leading medical authorities endorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine.

Go and do likewise. If your whiskers are grizzly and unbecoming use Buchingham's Dye and they will look as when you were younger.

Mirtle M. Tanner, Boonville, Ind., writes: "I had blood poison from birth. Knots on my limbs were as large as hen eggs. Doctors said I would be a cripple, but B. B. B. has cured me sound and well. I shall ever praise the men who invented Blood Balm were born."

Memorial Services.

Quite a good crowd of our citizens attended the Memorial services at Chicoora, Cumberland county, Tuesday evening. We have never attended a more pleasant Memorial celebration.

Rev. Mr. Bradshaw of Little River Academy was the orator chosen by the Ladies Memorial Association. The orator was in the finest trim for speaking and commanded the rapt attention of his audience as he paid a most beautiful and eloquent tribute to the valor the sacrifice, and the heroism of the Confederate soldier, and clothed in beautiful rhetoric the deeds of martyrdom of the wife, mother and sister of the Southern soldier. The good woman of the South cannot be too highly praised for their kindness in thus annually decorating with flowers the graves of those men who sacrificed their lives upon the altar of their country.

Harnett and Cumberland cannot be too highly commended for meeting every 10th of May at Chicoora to bear life with flowers the graves of our fallen heroes, for they in so doing keep fresh the memory of men whose war record is the pride of our whole country, whose bravery on the battle field inspires our youth with higher ambitions and holier hopes, and whose unselfish patriotism has adorned the pages of American history.

From Benson.

Just now, among the young people in town, all in expectation, looking forward to the 27th inst, the occasion being the closing exercises of the school at this place.

Exercises will commence promptly at 2 o'clock p. m., and will consist of declamations, music, debate etc., followed by an address by Prof. Ira T. Turlington of the Turlington Institute, of Smithfield, N. C.

Commencing early at night will come off exercises by the school. It is hoped that the exercises will be of such nature as to delight the large audience expected to be present.

The Irishman, Dutchman, African and many other characters will be shown up in comic, pathetic and serious.

"Compulsory education" is the subject of the debate, will be discussed in a masterly manner by the young men of the school.

What will make the question more interesting is it now at issue. Those who do not come to hear the discussion will miss a rare treat.

We will say to all, remember the time, Friday, May 27th at 2 o'clock p. m.

How Much.

If kisses were a penny each, And words a rote a score, A kiss for every twenty words, And twenty in an hour. Visit the fair one, twice a week, And stay from eight till one, It would take how long, At such a rate, To spend a hundred pounds.

Died.

On Wednesday of last week at his residence in the lower edge Johnston county, Mr. W. W. Tart passed away. He was sick only a short time. Mr. Tart was an esteemed citizen in his community. He leaves a wife and 8 children to mourn the loss of a father and husband.

I wish to say to the public that my Ice House will be open every Sunday from 8 to 10 in the morning and from 2 to 4 in the evening. J. H. Worrell.

All manufacturing business has been paying this season, especially cotton. The cotton factories are doubling their money on every pound of cotton manufactured. Why can't we get one here? Dunn with a bank and cotton factory would be on a substantial boom. Business men with your capital invested in either a factory or bank would reap a nice income here.

A reviving of nature's latent forces occurs every spring. At this time, better than any other, the blood may be cleansed from the humors which infect it. The best and most popular remedy to use for this purpose is Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla.
