We regret to state that Rev. R. A. Johnson continues very ill.

Mr. Sumner of Fair Bluff, has taken a place in the Railroad office here as night operator.

Gen. B. F. Butler died last week. He was a well known New England man, especially in the late war.

To the number of fast trains on this road will be added the Vestibules from the 18th inst.

Mr. Olin Weaver the oldest man probably in the county died last week from old age and general infirmity.

Clevelanda electoral vote stands 276. Maj. R. B. Glenn was selected to carry North Carolina's vote to Washington.

It is authoritatively stated that the University of North Carolina enrolls 300 regular students now, the largest number of any College South.

The Headlight of Goldsboro states that is a certain fact that the noted "Bill Arp" will lecture in that city on Feb. 21st under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Our young friend Zeb Jeffrey, who has been night operator since this was made a through line, has accepted a position in Georgia, he left Monday.

The public school house in Grove township, Dist. 14, white, was destroyed last week by fire. Mr. R. T. Kennedy was teaching in the house. The fire originated at night.

Mr. Olive of Wake, introduced a bill in the Senate to allow Justices of the Peace $1.00 per day and mileage for attending the Annual June Meeting, and each Magistrate must keep a record of the same.

THE TIMES returns thanks to the Secretary and Treasurer of the Eastern Carolina Industrial Association of New Bern, for a complimentary ticket to the Fair, which convenes Feb. 20th and holds five days.

The Justices of the Peace seem to be the busiest men in town for the last week, some kind of litigation going every day. This does not speak very well for our people, they seem to forget the admonition of the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would they do unto you."

Senator John E. Kenna of West Virginia, died on the 11th inst after a protracted illness. It had been some time since he was able to fill his post in the Senate, his death will be greatly regretted by his own State and the people of the nation. His remains were interred with Catholic ceremonies.

Mr. Koonce, it is stated, wants to contest Mr. Grady's election in this Congressional District. He knows full well he was not elected nor came anything near it. But he will try it and be his own attorney and make a food size fee by so doing, you see the tax payers have to pay for these contests, and there ought to be some way to stop such cases without taking the peoples money to settle such questions. The election committee need not consider his contest at all. We settled it on the 8th down here.

Miss Lena Heiglers of Goldsboro, is visiting the family of Rev. N. B. Hood.

Capt. J. B. Edgerton of Goldsboro was in town this week.

Mr. Allen of the firm of Allen & Crum of Raleigh was in the city this week on business.

Rev. J. J. Harper filled his regular appointment in the Disciple church Sunday.

Rev. A. J. McKelway of Fayetteville, preached Sunday in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Pridley and children of Greenville, spent Sunday with her brother, Mr. E. F. Young.

The ground has not been clear since the 26th of Dec. '92, something unusual for us to have snow three weeks on a stretch in North Carolina.

Last Monday night was the coldest weather we have seen in this section since 1880, Dec. 30th and 31st. The thermometer stood at zero.

Rev. I. T. Newton of Wake Forest College, will preach in the Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday night at usual hour for services.

The bold weather and freeze up has caused some of the Star Route mails to suspend for the past week. The carriers could not cross some of the icy streams.

James G. Blaine's end seems to be close at hand. He has been in very bad health for some months past. Many of our nation's great men are passing from this life.

We see the names of several of our States distinguished men mentioned and advocated by various journals of the State for Cabinet places, but when the sharing is done, North Carolina won't get a man.

Senator Ransom and Hon. J. S. Henderson of N. Carolina have been appointed on the reception committee at the inauguration Mr. Ransom rode in the carriage with Mr. Cleveland when he was inaugurated before.

Mr. W. J. Washburn passed through town Saturday on his way home to Lillington, where he will spend a short time with his wife and return to Wilmington, where he holds a position as book-keeper.

Sunday evening the little boy of a good old dairy, Sol Higher, living just out of town, was burned to death. Sol and his wife had gone out of the house and the child was playing in the fire when his clothes caught fire.

Tuesday night the turpentine stills of Mr. Wm. Calbreth caught fire and was consumed in a few minutes by the rapid flames. Also a lot of crude turpentine and a number of barrels of resin was destroyed. But for the faithful work of the citizens of the town, both white and colored, much more damage might have been done. How it originated will be a mystery. We don't know how much the loss amounts to, but right heavy.

LILLINGTON N. C., Jan. 16, 1893. MR. EDITOR:—As there seems to be a great rumor as to where the Court House will be rebuilt, let us suggest a plan which might be well to consider as we go along. The financial condition of the county is bad as we all know, and at present the people seem to be very much divided as to a location for the rebuilding of the Court House. Of course all know we cannot have but one even if we had the money to build a dozen. Now lets look around and see where the strongest place and best inducements are offered, and after finding that place drop all other places and adopt that one, we are not for one location and against another except in reason.

We people on the East side of Cape Fear River it seem are naturally entitled to the location and we hope that the people on the West side will pardon us if we are wrong, we hope that the people on the East side of the river will consider this suggestion. As for establishing a new county it seems that the chances would not be good. "United we stand, divided we fall." Let's hear from the next man.

L. L. TURLINGTON.

Thanks.

This is to return my heartfelt thanks to the people, both white and colored, for the valuable service they rendered me at the fire Tuesday night.

Buy your Onion sets at D. H. Hood's Drugstore before they are all gone.

And Still the Bids Come. Another Man wants the Courts House.

Mr. Editor:—I see no cause why I should not make a bid also for the Court House, I notice some have offered great inducements to have it moved to different places. One says bring it to my house (at the forks of the road) and I will give 5 acres of land and $500, and another says bring it to my place (at X Roads) and I will give 6 acres and $1000, another says bring it to my front gate and I will give 7 acres and $1100, and still another bid will come in from another party offering rock enough to build both Court House and Jail to have it built at Smiley's Falls, a point on the Cape Fear.

Now we know this means money in the man's pocket who gets the Court House at his place. So I feel safe in offering 30 acres of land and $1400 to have it at my place, Elm Grove, Chatham county.

Let the longest pole get the permission. Bring in another horse.
