

THE TIMES,

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY, BY YOUNG & GRANTHAM.

THURSDAY JUNE 8, 1893.

Changeless.

Our fairest fancies fade away
Like mists before the sun;
The friends we loved in Youth's bright day
Have altered one by one;
Our pleasures are but brief and few—
A while and they are fled;
And naught is ours unchanged and true
Except the faithful dead.

The children leave us, and no trace
If left of that bright band;
But in each vacant, cheerless place
Tired men and women stand;
Yet still some little ones are ours
That keep the smiles we know—
The smile we hid 'neath pure white flowers
One dark day long ago.

They grow not older with the years
That rob us in their flight;
Their eyes are still undimmed by tears,
Their laugh is sweet and light;
They come to us, when sad and lone,
And linger by our side
With childish prattle, all our own,
As on the day they died.

Some cruel day may see us mourn,
Our dearest hopes o'erthrown—
May see the hearts to others turn
We fancied ours alone;
Our rarest treasures Life may steal
And ne'er again restore,
But the dead hearts are true and leal,
And changeless evermore!

The Value of a Newspaper.

The Warrenton Gazette says the editor proportion to his means, does more for his country than any other ten men; he ought to be supported—not because you like him or his writings or not supported because you dislike him and disagree with his writing, but all should support a local newspaper because it is the best investment a community can make. It may be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is more benefit to the people than the teacher or preacher. Understand me, I do not say morally or intellectually but financially; and yet on moral question you will find most of the local papers on the right side. The Gazette further says that the newspaper is doing more for the up-building of the country than any other means and for the amount of service rendered they are the poorest paid.

While THE TIMES has some very warm friends and good supporters, we thank them for their patronage, we would like at least to have a card from every business man. There are many in our community who always like to criticize the paper and its editor, yet they always take everything offered free, and want to be puffed as much as any body, though they tell you the paper is no good. They wont patronize it, even, every day, it is laboring for the common good of the town and community.

Not a man in any town that does not get some benefit from his local paper, and here in our town every business house gets some of the benefit of the influence of the local paper, yet many never consider it worth patronizing and can't see the need of one.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free Harper & Hood's Drugstore, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mass., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Harper & Hood's Drugstore.
