OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

It is quite evident that the Senators who represent the administration in the fight for the repeal of the Sherman law will not listen to anything looking to a compromise. If one is brought about it will be without their consent. The course Mr. Voorhees is pursuing in not attempting to restrict Senators in their right to discuss the measure to their full satisfaction, but insisting that there shall be no gaps in the discussion to waste time, is approved by all the parliamentarians and tacticians in Congress. They regard it as a proper course and as one calculated soonest to bring the bill to a vote. The friends of repeal believe that the discussion will soon exhaust itself. They can make no calculation as to how long the silver Senators can talk, and some of them think that it may be not until the last week in this month that a vote can be reached. Still the administration forces have an impression that the discussion is liable to stop suddenly some time and a vote be reached when not expected.

A distinguished Senator who called on Mr. Cleveland a few days ago said today: "I told the President that I had come to get from him a personal refutation or corroboration of these everlasting rumors of his agreeing to a compromise of some character on the silver situation. The President said very decidedly, 'There is no truth in any rumor or report of a compromise. You may deny all such most emphatically. This repeal bill must pass without condition, and it will pass without condition.' He asked me when I thought a vote would be reached, and I prophesied two weeks. He said that such was his calculation also."

The White House is in a state of joy and happiness. Exactly at noon last Saturday the President's second child was born. When the news of the sex of the baby spread through the White House there was a general feeling of disappointment. Baby Ruth has no brother. Her sister, however, is a fine Presidential infant and is reported to tip the scales at not less than ten pounds. This is the first event of the kind in the history of the White House. Other children have been born within its portals, but none of them was the child of the President.

The question whether or not the administration has called a halt in the matter of enforcing the Geary law is exciting much attention. Representative Geary has had interviews with President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle upon the subject, and says the law will be carried out. He says a circular letter of instructions is now being prepared at the Treasury Department, and will be issued within a short time. A significant matter in this connection is the fact that a bill has been introduced in the House to modify the Geary law by extending the time for registration from the 5th of May, 1893 to September 1, 1894. It is understood immediate action will be taken upon this bill. The new bill is regarded as an administration measure, designed, it is said, to "serve as present assurance to the Empire of China that we have not entirely abandoned our friendly relations with that country."

One National nuisance has been abated. It was a very considerable relief to find that the death of the venerable and greatly respected Hamilton Fish, Grant's Ex Secretary of State, was not to be made the occasion of stupid and unmeaning memory. To drape the public buildings black and to have Cabinet officers passed away was without justification from any point of view. There is just one more blot upon our national reputation in this connection that should be sponged out, and that is the funeral junket and the funeral eulogy in the case of departed Congressmen. The spectacle of a carload of Congressmen lying across the country arrayed in grave streamers and black kid gloves and surfeited with champagne and cigars at Government expense has long ago established itself in public contempt and reprobation. Such proceedings simply make a jest of death.

Secretary Carlisle has signed on behalf of the United States the international agreement negotiated with Canada for the control of immigration through Canada into the United States. Treasury officials discredit the statement telegraphed from Ottawa that the Canadian government had refused to ratify the instrument. The document is regarded as being of great importance to both countries.

In the Senate last week Mr. Toller operated something of a sensation by making a bitter attack upon the news paper press of the country. He accused the press of mendacity in dealing with the silver situation, and said that there are no longer any great newspapers published in this country or great editors, such as Horace Greeley and Raymond; that newspapers are now run like manufacturing concerns for money only. His remarks were listened to by the Senate with evident surprise and created a visible sensation.

Treasury officials are very much encouraged at the improvement in the financial situation during the last few days. The total receipts of the government during this month have been $5,640,000, the expenses for the same period were $5,803,000. These large receipts, together with other evidences of returning prosperity, are believed to show that the financial cloud has broken and will gradually disappear.

Rumor is now making an effort to adjust Mr. Blount's name to the vacancy caused by the registration of Hon. Josiah Quincy.

KEELEY PAYS NO LICENSE.

A few weeks ago the State authorities of Tennessee instructed their agents to collect liquor licenses from Keeley Institutes in this State, the claim being made that as these institutes in the course of their treatment furnished their patients with liquor in quantities adapted to their needs, they therefore had themselves liable to license, the same as any other institutions where liquor was dealt out. The situation was peculiar, in the anomaly of an institute intended to induce sobriety, paying a license for retailing liquor.

The Keeley people took a stand against it, and the result is that the State has been knocked out in the courts, as the following dispatch from President Chas. B. James, president of the Memphis institute to the Commercial would indicate:

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 11.

United States Commissioner Ewing today decided that the Keeley institutes of Tennessee are not liable as liquor dealers to any internal revenue or criminal prosecution for failure to pay such tax and accordingly
