TWO ILLICIT DISTILLERIES CAPTURED.

On last Thursday Revenue officers captured an illicit distillery and the owners J. W. Jones. It was running at full blast when captured. He was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner J. B. Holland and was bound over to the Federal Court under a $200 bond.

O. M. Kelly's illicit distillery near Sanford was captured a few days ago and 500 gallons of spirits. The many friends of Mr. Kelly's here will be sorry to know that he is mixed in such.

PROF. W. R. SMITH, LEXINGTON, KY.

Brief Sketch of the Retiring President of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prof. Wilbur R. Smith, who last night retired from the Presidency of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce, has been for 17 years President of the renowned Commercial College of Kentucky University, Lexington, Ky. whose qualification as a practical educator is thus endorsed by the Hon. J. M. Samuels Chief of the Horticultural Department of the World's Columbian Exposition. "Prof. Wilbur R. Smith, of Lexington Kentucky, is a gentleman of character and ability, as shown by the different positions of honor and trust to which he has been called. For over 20 years he has been a successful Business Educator—17 years as President of the Commercial College of Kentucky University, of which I am a graduate. He is a World's Fair Commissioner from Kentucky, also President of the Chamber of Commerce, and Vice-President of a National Bank, a former Director of a Safety Vault and Trust Company and for years a practical Accountant renders him especially well qualified.—Leader Lexington Ky.

Young men wishing to acquire a practical business education should address Prof. Smith, Lexington, Ky., who is a Practical Business Educator.

FOR MALARIA, LIVER TROUBLE, DYSPEPSIA USE BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Gratitude.

Mrs. Edith Jernigan, or Brownhill, a poor, dejected pauper, died last Friday in the Johnson County Almshouse. Previous to her death, when she became aware of the fact that she had but a few hours to live, she called the keeper to her bedside and said she wanted to make one request of him, and that was that she had $4.00 which she wished him to convey to Dr. M, W. Harper, of our town, for services rendered her many years ago — not as a payment for what she owed, but as a bequest for his kindness, many long years ago. There is a lesson in this for us all to learn—a lesson that we should remember when we censure those who owe us. It does not signify that every man who fails to pay an honest debt on demand is a rascal or a deadbeat; he may have as honest a heart as those whom he owes, and failure to pay on the part of those indebted to him renders it impossible for him to meet his obligations as promptly as he would like to, and consequently excites the unjust censure of the uncharitable, who are unmindful of the grand truths enunciated eighteen hundred years ago in the "Sermon on the Mount." This poor, friendless, neglected woman whom the doctor attended years ago never forgot that she owed him an honest debt, and on her death bed sends him the last penny—not as a payment of what she owed him; she did not offer it in that sense, but as a bequest,

Were that honesty instilled into every one's heart in our fair land who has money no one would go wanting for raiment or food, but this would be a land of plenty for all—for the poor as well as the rich—and every man would square himself with his Master. This poor, unfortunate woman in the Almshouse, no doubt, saw the rich living in luxury and faring sumptuously every day, while she, a poor, helpless creature, snubbed and jostled by the world, had the sweet consolation of a precious Saviour's grace to sustain her in the last hour, and now, to-day, no doubt she is enjoying an inheritance

"in that beautiful land—
The far-away home of the soul,
Where no storms ever beat on the glittering strand,
While the years of eternity roll," whilst many of those who have lavish means and are daily bowing down to the "Golden Calf" some time will no doubt find themselves in the same unhappy predicament of Dives, the rich man of old, who cried so lustily for a drop of water to cool his parched tongue.

BENNY TALKS TARIFF

The New York Senator Opens the Week's Debate.

SENATOR WALSH TAKES THE OATH.

The Program for the Week in Both Branches of Congress—Matters Holding the Right-of-Way in the House—Other News.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—According to the program, the tariff debate in the senate will open up in earnest this week, but programs and arrangements have, thus far this session, proved to be very uncertain, and the opening day may disarrange the whole outline of the week.

Unless this happens, Mr. Hill will speak today, and there will be naturally much interest taken in the line the New York senator will take in the tariff discussion.

Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, is down for a tariff speech tomorrow, and on Wednesday Mr. Peffer, the Kansas populist, proposes to give a further installment of the speech he has already commenced in favor of his own tariff bill, and will probably be followed by Mr. Hale. However, he may not be able to finish until the next day. Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon, is down for Thursday, and Mr. Gray for Friday.

Mr. Hill is expected to take the floor at 2 o'clock today. The apparent opposition of Mr. Hill to the tariff bill as it at present exists, and his expressed antagonism to the income tax feature, have caused a very great desire on the part of his colleagues to hear what he has to say, and especially on the part of the majority, who have the tariff measure in charge. Mr. Hill is sure to have an audience, and the members of the house will be present in numbers to listen to the man who is thought to hold the key to the tariff situation.

There are other important matters pending in the senate, among these is the Chinese treaty which Mr. Morgan is anxious to get out of the way. But little headway was made Saturday, the discussion being largely upon the question of how the treaty should be considered. This contest will probably be renewed as soon as Mr. Hill finishes his speech.

Mr. Call has still part of his unfinished fight on hand growing out of the Florida appointments, and he showed sufficient strength last week, to go into executive session against the protests of Mr. Harris, who occupies the position of entrusting the parliamentarians on his side of the chamber.

Today is one of the Mondays set apart for business pertaining to the District of Columbia, but as the District has no especial representative in congress to look after its interests the postoffice appropriation bill, which was the unfinished business, is up.

The item under discussion is one appropriating $100,000 for special and necessary facilities on what is known as the southern mail, from Springfield, Mass., to Atlanta, and New Orleans. This is the only line in the United States so favored and two members of the committee from which the bill came have formally opposed the item in the report on the bill. Something of a discussion may also be expected upon the amendment proposed by Mr. Dunphy, (Democrat of New York) prohibiting the postmaster-general from having the postage stamps printed at the bureau of engraving and printing.

After the postoffice bill shall have been disposed of, the river and harbor appropriation bill has the right of way and Chairman Catchings expects to ask the house to enter upon its consideration at once.

Senator Patrick Walsh, of Georgia, was sworn in by the vice-president today.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

THE DEMOCRAT is alive on the current questions of the day and will have some novel features of county journalism this year.

The price of THE TIMES is $1.00 and $1.50 will get your local paper and THE DEMOCRAT, which will make any home better by a year's visitation. Don't miss this opportunity.

THE OWL CLUB!

The Club has elected a lecturer and will likely soon begin to organize new lodges we are sure he will meet with brilliant success as he is a forcible man.

When Gov. Tillman heard that the Club was going down to South Carolina to settle the dispensary row. He immediately withdrew the troops from Florence said Darlington for he knew if the Owl Club got there and make charge on them the forces would have been put to flight and the Gov. impeached and exile to Alcatraz Island.

We now give warning to all candidates, both for the coming town election and county, that they better get the endorsement of the Club or they might get left outside the ring on election day.

The Owl Club is for the people and it is a peculiar fact that the people take to its principals like a duck to water We suppose why this is. Its the nature of the fowl to love wales, and just so with the people.

The Club had quite a pleasant visit from ... Chief ... last Saturday. While we did not ... honors of the Club.
