Democrats themselves—this in the interest of a more judicious... We know little of Judge Farcloth, but we know of his word with a string of names in connection with Judge Farcloth. He is a partisan from the ground up, and candidly thought he could secure to deny it. He is a Republican from far-back, a Republican fighter, too, who hates a Democrat and despises a Populist with equal cordiality.—Observer.

"Z" Doesn't Stand for Zig Zag

A reader wants to know what the letter Z stands for in the name of Colonel Zedekiah. He also wants to know why the names sometimes call him Zedekiah sometimes Zedekias and sometimes Zedekim. That looks like a poser, but in fact the answer is easy. The letter Z is used merely in an abbreviation sense, and the Colonel's political principles. When he appears as a Democrat the Z is translated into Zedekiah, when he assumes the name of a Republican, the Z is translated into Zedekias, and when he is a Populist, the Z is translated into Zedekim. As a Colonel he is some times called Zedekias, with accent on last syllable because he still has the Cavalier spirit about him and is more of a cuss than ever. It really doesn't make much difference what you call him, anyway. He has been so many different things that he answers to any name he hears.

Pops Expose Their Lack of Principle

At the Republican State Convention, the platform contained these words: "We reaffirm our allegiance to the National Republican party and re-pledge to the people as set forth by the party." A Proactive Taff. A Force bill. Bonanzas. And not only so, they endorse the legislation of their party since 1860, and "pointed with pride" to the prosperity that had followed the legislation of the Republican party. The Populists denounce all these things and charge that the Republicans have ruined the country. And yet, they "re-pledge" with the man they say have ruined the country to get a few offices. Honest men can have nothing but contempt for men whose actions thus belie their words.—News & Observer.

A Victory for Democracy.

The News & Observer speaks some very plain facts, when it says: After a campaign that is without a parallel even in Kentucky, Colonel Breckinridge has been beaten in the contest for the nomination for Congress in the Ashland district. The results of the primaries are favorable to the Hon. W. C. Owens, and Colonel Breckinridge's political career may be considered as at an end. It closes in dishonor and infamy such as seldom comes to a public man. The contest was one unexampled for bitterness. The assaults against the eloquent Kentuckian were fierce and tireless, and as resented them with appalling savagery. He made a desperate fight to the bitter end. Though he controlled the election machinery and there were two candidates to divide the opposition vote, the forces arrayed against him proved too overwhelming. William C. Owens, his successful opponent, is an active young Democratic politician of the district. Though he is certainly not an abler man than Breckinridge, it is to be hoped that he is a better one. But, however this may be, the mere fact that Breckinridge was defeated is great victory for democracy. He alone is responsible for his own downfall.

Are You Willing to be Sold Out?

As an exchange says, "there is a serious question to be determined by some of our good citizens between now and the day of election." The question concerns most directly those who are sincerely believed in its principles. Shall these men go farther with of the Senate Another was made messenger. His daughter was also put on the pay rolls, Messenger Peffer did not like his position and resigned it some time ago to accept a position in the Sugar Trust in New York. Asistant doorkeeper Peffer is just now out of a job because there is not enough money to pay all the incumbents of senatorial sinecures during the recess. I wonder if the New York Sugar Trust will take care of him.

Senator Ransom is here to-day.

He is in good trim and expects to make a vigorous campaign. I have just read in the Concord Times the magnificent speech made at Concord by Hon. J. S. Henderson. In that speech he covers the entire ground of the Democratic campaign book before me. As a fierce forcible, effective speaker he is without an equal. Another strong speaker is Hon. W. T. Crawford. He also deals in irrefutable facts and figures. His refutation is very much desired by his friends here. Information received here today at Democratic headquarters is to the effect that Wm. L. Wilson will certainly be re-elected and that he is stronger than his party in West Virginia. Dr. Dauby has been made chairman of the Government Board of Exhibition at the Cotton States Exhibition in Atlanta. Hon. Hoke Smith has directed the Geological Survey to exhibit all the minerals of the Appalachian region on that occasion. Dr. Stephen D. Weeks of the Bureau of Education has had printed a very valuable sketch of Col. Martin, of Western N. C. which embodies a lecture he read before the American Historical Association. He tells me that he is making good progress on his work relating to the career of Judge Willie P. Mangum. He has had the good fortune to meet a gentleman here who was the private secretary of Clay and was in this way thrown into intimate association with Mangum, Clay and Crittenden, and others and much material will be obtained for the social and private life of the Senator in Washington. In the same way some manuscripts coming into his hands from the family will throw reliable light on the social and economic life of the State at the beginning of the present century. He will be glad to correspond with any one who has letters from him can speak from personal knowledge of his oratory.

Washington Letter.

The Democratic campaign book is being issued to-day. A few copies were sent out last night. In the opening pages it gives what the Democratic congress did. Among many benefits conferred on the people it repealed the Sherman law. It repealed the Federal elections law. It reduced expenses more than $28,000,000. It returned abuses in the departments thus saving in salaries alone more than $1,000,000 annually. It repealed the McKinley law and gave "honest Judge Wanamaker" a chance to scatter broadcast some news veritment that will prevent him from holding another cabinet place under a republican administration. It taxed the wealth of the country and made labor day a national holiday. It opposed trusts, monopolies and enacted laws favorable to the masses. It left the Popocrats no ground to stand on in the way of rigid economy. The book gives the causes of the recent hard times, the chief of which is republican mal-administration. It gives a long comparative list of prices under the new tariff law which ought to be added to John Wanamaker's advertising schedule. Spending of Popocrats economy here is an ordinary piece of senatorial opportunism but in this instance the Popocrats have to answer for it. Senator Peffer one of the high priests of Popocracy draws a salary of $5,000 with the extraordinary number of usual senatorial perquisites. He looked to me like a man who never saw $5,000 before in his life. He found out, however, early in the session what a good thing it is to get into the public crib and he got in with all his available fairly. He had one of State Fair Notes.

Col. J. H. Holt, chief marshal of the State Fair, has appointed a corps of 150 assistants from every section of the State, all of whom have accepted the appointment and have notified him that they will be present at the Fair. Among the greatest attractions engaged to be on the Fair grounds is Hurd & Berry's World Museum, embodying numerous novelties and curiosities. The race programme this year has excited more attention than ever before. The purses offered aggregate $2,600. The field of running horses will be larger and better than any ever seen in North Carolina. Mr. W. J. Carter, the turf editor of the Richmond Times, has been engaged to act as starting Judge in all the races. More than 300 prominent farmers in the State have expressed by letter their intention of making exhibits at the Fair in all departments. The poultry exhibit this year will be a special feature. The Society has over 300 new and improved wire covered exhibition coops, all of which have already been engaged. Besides these a number of exhibitors will supply their own coops. The exhibition of game fowls will be superb, and the display of pet stock will be something that will please and delight everybody. Numerous additions and improvements are being made at the Fair grounds to supply accommodation and space applied for by exhibitors. A new feature of the Fair this year will be practical lectures and essays on economic subjects by competent speakers in Commons Hall at night. Dr. H. B. Battle, Director of the State Experiment Station, will lecture on "Fertilizers"; R. H. Lewis, "Dai ying"; J. W. Sanders, "Green Manuring"; Prof. W. F. Massey, "Grasses"; Baron d'Allinges, "Green and Forage Plants"; W. S. Barnes, "Poultry Industry"; Gov. Carr "Ensilaging"; E. B. C. Hambley, "Stock Raising"; Col. J. S. Cunningham, "Farming Economy." Arrangements are being made for good theatrical attractions during the week. The dates of the Fair, are October 23, 24, 25 and 26, and the rail road rate is one fare for the round trip.
