IS IT ANY BODY'S BUSINESS.

Is it any body's business If a gentlem in should choose; To wait upon a lady, If the lady don't refuse? Or to speak a little plainer, That the meaning all may know, Is it and body's business, If the lady has a beau?

Is it any body's business. When that gentleman does call, Or when he leaves the lady, Or if he leaves at all? Or is it necessary That the curtain should be drawn,

To save from further trouble, The outside lookerson? Is it any body's business.

But the lady's, if her beau Rides out with other ladies, And doesn't let he know? Is it any body's business

But the gentleman's, if she Should accept another escort, Where he doesn't chance to be?

it a person's on the side walk. Whether great, or whether small, Is it any body's business, Where that person means to call? Or if you see a person. And he's calling anywhere.

Is it any of your besiness What his business may be there? The substance of our query, Simply stated, would be this;

Is it any body's business What anothers business is? If it is, or if it isn't, There are some who make it so.

If it is, we'll join the rabble,

And act the noble part Of tattlers and defamers Who throng the public mart; But if not, we'll act the teacher, Until every body learns. It were better in the future To mind his own concerns.

A LEADER FOR DEMOCRACY.

Selected by C. H.

Democracy's hopes are cloudeddiscover before long that the "wage its sky is overcast. Its enemies carners" have been doing too much have combined against it and it is confronted with a conspiracy which Our Populist friends think their of the State, Our opponents are was heard to indulge in reflections for governor on the fusion ticket and chance to carry the Stats in the next gathering their forces, husbanding ev- substantially as follows: election is good and even better than ery element of strength and prepar- I am sorry to see our party being ter partizan radical but can put on

To whom can we turn as their successor? THE REVIEW sweeps in a view of the field, and it sees but one figure, which, like a collossus, is etched against the dark torizon of Democracy's hopes. That figure is the one of Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, with whom a ringing interview in behalf of silver appears in this issue.

There was a time when we felt called upon to differ with Col. Carr, and it costs us an effort to speak in his behalf. But in speaking for him

He is a man whose invincible courage creates new opportunities of triumph which do not come to the coward. He is a man with that splendid audacit which is born of the genius of great enterprises He is a man who dares to cherish high ambitions' which are laudable, and advance them by every means which is legitimate. He is a man with the gallantry grace and genius and furnisher a spur to devotion, He is a man of affairs and events, who, while in money a millionaire, in brains, energy, breadth of vision, patriotism, and love of his fellow citizens is a multi-millionaire. He is a man who once placed at the head of the ticket and entisted in the word of redeeming the State would give out of his munificence to that end more time, Jabor, talents and means than any other man, in our knowledge, His canvass would wake the echoes from the mountains to the sea and his enthusiasm would enkindle the torches of hope and energy in every Democratic heart,

It is time for the State Democracy to fix upon its leader, and, in our opinion, there is but one man who in lor, representative Taylor and repsuch heaped and rounded measure sentative McLeod have got the cour would fulfit the expectations of his age to tell their constituents if they foliowers.

Whatever God may deny us, he never denies us the opportunity to do the right thing This thing may be our going forward or our bolding back our acquiescence or our refusal. He leaves it to become poor, sometimes it is to become rich. Some times it is to live, sometimes it to die. But it rests with us to make the eircumstances in which we are placed our opportunity to do the right thing and to take it. God often shuts the door in our face in order that we may of generalship which invokes success go through another one which he has opened. He knows that the closed door is the one that we want to go through, but the open one is the door that we need to go through, But sometimes he permits the opening of a door which be knows that we know we ought not to enter. He thus puts us to the test by allowing us the opportunity of keeping out of it. - And there are times when he closes all doors in order that we may have the opportunity of patiently knocking until one is opened. No one can complain of the lack of opportunity, for he is pretty sure to be in one or another of these cases.
