A Pants and Shirt Factory.

Manufacturing is the great lever in the building of a town. Now we want to talk a little with our people in regard to the establishment in Dunn of a Pants and Shirt Factory.

One of our most enterprising citizens and the largest merchant in this section of the country, Mr. E. F. Young, has the machinery of the Fayetteville Pants and Shirt Factory, which has been closed for some time on account of the death of Mr. Young's brother who ran the factory. The factory in Fayetteville did a good business and was closed down because Mr. Young had so much business here that he could not give it the proper attention.

Now Mr. Young proposes to move the machinery to Dunn and put it in as his stock, if some of our people in the town or county, will take stock enough to furnish a building, put the machinery in place and run the business.

Now we consider this a fair proposition for some of our moneyed men to invest some money to help the town. The plant has 75 machines and a fifteen horse-power engine and there is a building in town which is empty, and its owner would be glad to rent it, which can be rented cheap and which is plenty large for all the machinery.

When in operation the factory should employ 75 hands, most of whom would be women and girls, at wages averaging about $1.00 per day. This would turn out $450 a week all of which would be spent in town.

Our other factories are making a success. Business men think over this matter. Let us have this Pants and Shirt factory in Dunn. There is no other factory of this kind nearer than Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Young is anxious to have the machinery placed in Dunn and is open for propositions from any good man.

First Cotton Blooms.

The first cotton blooms of this season were brought to our office last Friday by Mr. B. W. Hodges, who lives near town. He had two, a red one and a white one. The red one opened on June 11th, the white one on the 12th. Mr. Hodges says his crops are very good.

Mr. Geo. M. Lee, who lives near town also, reports a bloom from his field on the 11th of June.

Mr. John Lynn Barnes sent us a bloom that was plucked on the 13th.

J. McKay Byrd E. q. Register of Deeds, sent us one gathered on June 12th. He writes: "Enclosed find cotton bloom which was taken from my field this morning. The field contains two acres and the cotton will average about two feet high. It was planted April 11th."

Mr. Allen Shaw, of Lillington, sent us a bloom Monday which he gathered from a ten acre field on June 11th.

Mrs. L. F. McKay, of Dickinson, sent us one which she gathered June 13th from the field of Pat. Roland, one of her tenants.

Mr. G. D. Owens, of Giles' Mill, Sampson county, sent us a cotton bloom pulled Friday, the 12th.

Mr. A. S. Lucas, of near Avera's bore, brought us a bloom Saturday.

Our prediction, "that we would receive a cotton blossom by the 15th of June," was beaten four days. When we were a boy, and that was "after the war," the farmer who had a cotton blossom in his field on the 4th of July was considered a good farmer. How things change.

The Religious Movement in Dunn.

Since Dunn first had an existence there never has been witnessed so much interest in religious circles as there has been during the past few weeks. Her people are awakened and aroused, enthused and are at work. They seem to realize that the day of Salvation is at hand, and that the night cometh when no man can work. They are on the alert, marching out into the high-ways and hedges seeking those who have no hope, and it is gratifying that they are meeting with success. God has promised that His word shall not return unto Him void, and through His matchless power He is bringing to pass that which has long been prayed for by the Christian people of this town and so long needed. The Christian people are turning their back upon the prejudice and strife that has long been the ruling power among our church members. The people are coming together and seem to be determined in their efforts to put down the common enemy of our country. Prayer-meetings continue at some house nearly every night in the week, and at nearly every meeting some soul is benefitted. There are yet several who seem to take no interest in their soul's salvation, but as long as there is life there remaineth hope. Prayer is the Christian's sword, and God is able to bring them to the light.

God has said in His word that it is a dangerous thing to call thy brother a fool. Job would not curse his Lord and die, and how men can stand upon the streets in this day of sunlight and age of intelligence, and abuse the workings of the Holy Spirit, is strange to see.

The devil and his angels cannot tear down the walls of Zion, and every attempt adds new strength to the great walls. Those that forget God shall receive their portion with the nations that know Him not.

DUNN, N. C.
June 13, 1896.

MR. EDITOR:—
I have noticed in your columns some references against sanctification, and now it isn't for argument of doctrine, prejudice, or ill will to any body that the writer presents some scripture or bible references which we think endorse sanctification without any doubt, and which we trust will bring light in some one's mind that he may see clearly the essentiality of holiness.

We feel that if we can convince only one soul of this truth as it is in Christ that we have done something noble for His cause.

Now dear reader get your bible and lay aside all prejudice, read carefully the following, and resolve to understand it.

Isaiah 35:8; 1st Peter 1:16; Gen. 17:1; Mat. 5:48; Heb. 13:12; Titus 2:14; 1st John 1:7 and 9; Acts 26:18; Eph. 2:8; Heb. 9:13, 14; Psalms 86:2; 2nd Peter 1:21; Luke 1:6; Heb. 12:14; Rev. 21:27; St. John 17th chapter; 1st John 3rd chapter; Deut. 6:5; Ezek. 36:25 and 29; 1st Thess. 5:23; 2nd Cor. 7:1; Acts 8:5—16; Acts 10th chapter; 2nd Cor. 1:15; Rom. 5:1 and 2; Lev. 11:44.

Praise The Lord! I could give many others but don't think it necessary. Now it will probably take an hour or two for you to look up all these references, but bless the Lord! your time will be well spent, and when you have finished, ask yourself the question, "Am I perfect as God would have me be?" and as Christ prayed that I might be, (St. John, 17th chapter 15:22) If not seek that perfect peace, and Savior's love which He has promised and is so willing to give if we only look to him in prayer.

O, may this be the instigation of some precious soul's Salvation.
ONE WHO BELIEVES IN BEING READY.

New Tool Shop.

Mr. A. R. Wilson, one of Dunn's wideawake and enterprising merchants, has just commenced manufacturing turpentine tools and made his first shipment to Alabama last Monday. At present he is running a small business, not yet having his machinery put in. He expects to put in machinery soon to do an extensive business.

We are glad to welcome this new manufactory of tools and we hope it may succeed and be profitable to its owner. He employs experienced labor and the material used is the best to be had.

This is the second tool factory in our town. Both can sell all the goods they can make. Manufacturing is one of the great levers used in building up a town. We have room for others. Let them come. "There's millions in it."

Pronounced Insane.

One of Crumpler's young disciples was arrested Tuesday and lodged in jail, at the instance of the County Physician, who pronounced him insane. The young man, whose name is Newell McDaniel, of Cedar Creek, came into the city yesterday and commenced to preach from the side walk in front of the Post Office. He soon attracted a curious crowd, and for over an hour he spouted a lot of disconnected stuff which no mortal could make heads or tails of. It was soon evident that the young Sanctificationist was insane. He abused the Mayor, he abused the preachers, and wound up by cursing his own father.

His father came after him this morning, but finding him beyond control, turned him over to the County Physician.

His father says that he has not been right mentally since Crumpler held his big Holiness meeting over the river.

This is the same young man who last Sunday evening, during a sanctification meeting at Ballard's mill, which was attended by a number of young ladies and gentlemen from this city, crawled up and down the aisle on his hands and knees praying.

—Fayetteville Observer June 9th.

Thousands of people become insane on the subject of religion every year, and have been doing so for centuries. This young man might have gone crazy if he had never heard Mr. Crumpler. At the meetings which Mr. Crumpler holds large crowds attend and of course some few persons whose minds are weak and feeble, and probably diseased, will be there. These persons are generally of an excitable and nervous temperament and are generally of one idea. If they desire any one thing and cannot bring it about their whole mind is centered on how to obtain it, and for this reason they become insane on that subject. This young man may have become insane earlier by his attendance on the Crumpler meeting but we do not think it can be contributed solely to that fact. Hundreds who have been converted under Mr. Crumpler's preaching are happy and bright and are endeavoring to live up to their profession.

THE CRUMPLER MEETINGS AT GOLDSBORO.

The following article came out in the Goldsboro Daily Argus this week as a supplement:

Two weeks have elapsed, to-day, since Rev. A. B. Crumpler came to Goldsboro and commenced to preach his doctrine of Sanctification. With the exception of one rainy night, there has been over 1000 people present at each night service. The climax was thought to have been reached last Sunday night at Goldsboro, when there were about 2,000 people present, with some 50 or 60 penitents at the altar. But such was not the case, as was witnessed yesterday and last night.

At the morning service yesterday there was an immense throng composed of people from all the country roundabout, as well as all classes from the city. There has been no service at the two Methodist churches of the city for the last two weeks, but contributed a larger number than would otherwise have been present. At this service there was present Mr. H. J. Eaton, from Durbin, a man who occupied most of the preliminary service with remarks on the doctrine of sanctification. Mr. Eaton is a man of intelligence and testified very eloquently to the consciousness of having experienced a holiness of heart.

Mr. Crumpler's sermon on this occasion was a revelation of the ambitiousness of which he was possessed at the time he sought sanctification. He enumerated the many sacrifices that he had to make and how loathsome he was to part with worldly objects. His remarks were true to nature. His hearers were true to nature. Each one of his hearers could look and see portrayed their individual character. At the close of the service a great many citizens of prominence in town sought the perfect peace and happiness which had been described so faithfully by Mr. Crumpler. At 3:30 o'clock the service for the colored people took place. The vast tabernacle-building was filled with both races, the colored representatives having the right of way. Mr. Crumpler claims to be a follower of the "old-time religion," and it was expected that this service would be a revelation of the old-time religion, whose forms are now bent with years of toil, would fill the air with shouts of joy and songs of praise. All that had been anticipated of shouting saints and happy hearts transpired. The heart of every idle spectator to this scene was made to swell with emotion when that vast concourse of musical voices were lifted in song and the old familiar tune of "When the Gin' Roll is Called" was wafted to the afternoon breeze and the vast building seemed to sway in accord with the melodious notes that tried their ears to them for an hour, and they shouted and sang sweet songs.

It is estimated that 3,000 people were present last night. His sermon was one of his sanctification series and was interspersed with Scriptural citations bearing on the subject.

At every service now there are a large number of seekers after sanctification. This doctrine, so new to Goldsboro people in the light that Mr. Crumpler puts it, has been endorsed by a great many of our citizens of all classes and has been exemplified in their lives. It is possible that this great experience has been withheld from some Christian people all these years and it was left for this man to reveal it to this community? Recent observations seem to evidence this fact.

Lee Hardware Co. have just received an immense quantity of Fruit Jars.
