This remarkable campaign closes with the election of McKinley. The result was brought about by every kind of correion and intimidation on the part of the money power, including threats of lockouts and dismissals and impending starvation; by the employment of by far the largest campaign fund ever used in this country and by the subordination of a large portion o the American press. The presidentelect and his party are under pledge to the American people to continue the gold standard and by its operation to restore prosperity to this country. A chief executive Mr. McKinley wil have the cordial support of the millions of patriotic Americans who have cast their votes for William Jennings Bryan. They bow to the majesty o the officers and abide by the result will houe of the mutterings that would have come from the money power had in been unsuccessful. They are conu deut the gold standard cannot give the promised prosperity, but will gladly welcome it if it comes. They will con tinne the great struggle for the uplift ing of humanity and to the mainter ance of the dignity of our country in the establishment of an American mon ctary system. And the Democratic party, aided by its pol tical allies, with still uplift the bimetallie standard and bear it on to victor ..
