Kansas City, Mo., June 15 .-Harry Whallen, the "human ostrich," who was operated upon at the German hospital last! Saturday, and from whose stomach the surgeon took an assortment of cutlery and hardware, died at 2 o'clock this morning, the result of the operation.

Whallen got into 'trouble by swallowing a big Barlow knife, in Pilot Grove, Mo., the other day. When he was operated upon at the German hospital these articles were removed from

Two jackknives, one three inches long and the other four inches; five knife blades, from one to three inches long; thirtytwo wire nails, eighty-penny or larger; thirty-four sixpenny nails, twenty-six shingle nails, sixteen carpets tacks and small wire nails, one barbed wire staple, one horseshoe nail, three screws, two papers of pins, three ounces of glass and several bits of crockery.

Whallen was offering bets that at least 100 nails and three knives would be found in his! stomach, and if the referee had decided that five knife blades were equivalent to one knife, he would have won his bet.
