"I am mightily impressed with this whole Kooler Cure." "There will not be a neighborhood in the United States or the world that will not be blessed by it."

"Such a discovery and such a cure ought to be extended throughout the earth and all the heavens." "We cannot read it down; we cannot talk it down; it will become triumphant and be recognized in all the land and all the hearts of the earth."

"The Kooler Cure has saved where nothing else under heaven would." "It has not the mark of the approval of the Lord God Almighty."—Excerpt from Published Address and Sermon.

BILL ARP ON THE CANDLERS.

How Allen's Father Drilled His Company During the War.

HE DID NOT GIVE COMMANDS But Made Polite Requests—Predicts That Candler's Election Will Prove a Great Blessing.

I never met a Candler or read of one but what my mind involuntarily whips.

"Gentlemen of the Banks County Guards." I know of but one Candler family in the State and all its members are marked for force and originality.

This family goes back to the revolutionary era and has inherited his virtues, his patriotism, his integrity and self-reliance.

"Gentlemen of the Banks County Guards, you will please to right face."

It was during the long winter of 1861-62 when we were in winter quarters at Centerville, Va., we boys used to go down occasionally to hear Captain Candler drill his company.

He was a Chesterfield in manners, a Stonewall in patriotism and was never known to use any profane language or relate a vulgar anecdote.

"Gentlemen of the Banks County Guards, please to give me your attention. I hold in my hand an order from the colonel commanding directing me to take you on picket to Mason's Hill tomorrow morning at sunrise and that you provide two days' rations for that service. I trust that it will be your pleasure to comply with that order."

All his commands were polite requests and even the order to march was given in a friendly and unassuming manner.

He was a patriot, a soldier and always a gentleman. The Second Georgia was commanded by the brave Gen. Semmes, and sometimes when the regiment was on drill or dress parade Gen. Johnston and his staff would happen there just to hear Captain Candler drill his company.

"Gentlemen of the Banks County Guards, you will observe that the eyes of our great leader are upon you, and I trust that you will show your very best soldierly training while in his presence."

"Gentlemen of the Banks County Guards, you will please to shoulder arms; right face; forward march." He always uncovered his head and thanked them when the drill was over.

I reckon these Candler were originally Candlerers, for I find no Candler in my biographies. Probably the ancestor of this Georgia branch got disgusted with those fanatical fellows up north who abused us so and he proposed a letter from his name and hoped the whole concern. I have met and dined with these Candlerers in Georgia and Mississippi, and they are alike good citizens, they are all honest, upright methods to gain their ends.

Whether as preachers, or teachers, or college presidents, or judges, or members of congress, they rank their places without the aid of rings, or schemes, or promises. I knew some of these Candlerers away back in the forties, at Nuckolsville when the Pigeon Roost got going and was considered an Eldorado and a remnant of the Cherokee people still hanging around. The fact is our Allen came pretty near being an Indian, for old Mrs. Pascal was his godmother, and she had her among the Indians. Her son married the daughter of the princess of the tribe. His cousin, Milton Candler, looks more like an Indian than a white man, and all of them have the stoniness of the race.

While they are all devoted to their kindred and to their moral principles, and their ancestors, yet strange to say they have separated in their religious faith, for some are Baptists and some are Presbyterians. But whatever they do they do it all over and whatever they do is done well.

So now let rings and combinations take a back seat for a while and let the people of this State and of this Nation go into office with the old time majority of 80,000, and there will be a reunion of the old time Democracy. The rugged honesty of the man will satisfy and gratify the Populists everywhere and all dissenters will be buried. He has already spoken for economy and lower taxes and he means it. The truth is that our taxes have got to be a burden too great to be borne, and every legislative body in the Union should reduce the rate to only 10 cents on a hundred dollars, and now it is ten times that in the country and twenty times in a town or city. Some strong mind has got to take hold of this thing and stop it. We want a Moses to lead the people out of their dependency. They have almost despaired of ever seeing justice in State politics again and the late possum debate at Newnan, gives no harbinger of improvement.

But Judge Fite said today that the power of these political combinations was not dead nor dormant, and that while the voice of the people was almost unanimous for Candler, it was still possible to defeat him in a nominating convention. Conventions can still be packed by shrewd politicians and the only remedy is to have primaries in every militia district on the same day. Rings may pack ten or a dozen in each county on the same day.

Methods, Roman, countrymen! Let us all unite to the magnitude of the situation and place sentinels on the watchtowers and see to it that honest methods are used in the next election. Let the dead past bury its dead, but let us take care of the future, and as Col. Candler once before uttered the people of his district and crushed independence and brought political harmony out of chaos, so he will now compass a wider field and restore harmony to the torn factions of our Georgia Democracy. Then all hail to the plowboy of Pigeon Roost—Bill Arrp, in Atlanta (Ga.) Convention.

Japan's war vessels, great and small, are to cost fifty million dollars, and it will require vast sums to keep them in commission.

Table with columns for North Bound, South Bound, and Daily schedules for various stations including Wilmington, Fayetteville, and Greensboro.

THE HOUSE.

38th DAY.—Cuba had a hearing in the house. De Armond, a Missouri Democrat, led a movement to break away from the rules and appealed from the chairman's decree, but the chair was sustained. If the appeal had been sustained it would have meant a motion to recognize Cuban belligerency, for De Armond had offered an amendment to the pending bill to such an effect.

on this first occasion of a test of sentiment toward Cuba.

24th DAY.—The question of granting belligerent rights to the Cubans was argued in the House, and the minority hurried itself against a strong wall. On the only vote taken, a motion designed to overrule the decision of the Speaker and direct the committee on foreign affairs to report without further delay the Cuban resolution passed by the Senate at the last session, the Republicans stood solid and voted to sustain the chair.

25th DAY.—The Cuban debate was closed in the House. Reed and Bailey exchanged their compliments during the issue of veracity. Smith, of Michigan, cracked the speaker, whereupon the chair rested the speaker's motion thereupon appealed from the decision of the chair, and Mr. Dalzell moved to lay the appeal on the table.

26th DAY.—There was a pretty parliamentary struggle in the House over the bill for the relief of the Book Publishing Company of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which was before the House last Friday.

27th DAY.—The House, by unanimous consent, cleaned up the odds and ends of legislation, which consisted chiefly of miscellaneous matters. The resolution offered at the last session calling on the States to grant a general railway right of way through the territory, the general deficiency bill was sent to the conference after the silver forces, with some aid, had succeeded in carrying the bill.

FIFTY FIFTH CONGRESS. Proceedings of Both the Senate and House Day by Day.

THE SENATE.

20th DAY.—In the Senate Morgan made his second installment of his Hawaiian speech which lasted for about three hours, but still there's more to follow.

21st DAY.—A spirited debate was precipitated in the Senate by the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Hoar, providing for an inquiry by the committee on postoffices and postroads concerning the recent order of the Postmaster General reducing the force of letter carriers in several cities of the country.

22nd DAY.—Senator Morgan concluded his four days' speech to the Senate in executive session on the Hawaiian treaty. He spoke for almost four hours and when he finished there was not more than half a dozen Senators present.

23rd DAY.—In the Senate Gen. James Longstreet was confirmed as railroad commissioner by a vote of 33 to 15. Senators Vest, Daniel, Berry and Caffery opposed the nomination.

24th DAY.—The subject of this sketch is fifty-six years of an active career in farming. When seventeen years old he hurt his shoulder and a layup afterwards compelled him to turn his attention to stock raising.

25th DAY.—Cuba had a hearing in the house. De Armond, a Missouri Democrat, led a movement to break away from the rules and appealed from the chairman's decree, but the chair was sustained.

Diversifying Crops.

The Aberdeen (Miss.) Examiner is suggestive: "Three successive failures of the tobacco crop, a long time ago, made Kentucky the blue-grass country, and the leading blue-stock region of America. The blight of frost which destroyed all of Florida's new oranges in 1894 and killed many of the grand old trees, turned the attention of thousands of her land-owners to tobacco, and she is rapidly winning a place among the largest and best producers on the continent."

"Iowa a few years ago seemed entering upon an era of decadence, incident to the universality of wheat culture under conditions of falling soil and steadily declining prices."

"That is a curious custom they have in some of the South Sea Islands," said Mr. Wallace, "of marrying a girl to a tree or some inanimate object, which is supposed to act as a sort of scapegoat for the shortcomings of the real, live husband."

"It is not absolutely unique," said Mrs. Wallace, "for a woman in this country to be married to a stick." But Mr. Wallace, with the calm superiority of the masculine mind, refused to deem it a personal matter.
