doubt that the President and the members of his cabinet now regard a conflict with Spain as almost inevitable. In his message to Congress it is understood that the President will review at some length the record as it stands between this government and Spain, but will not insist upon further time in which to continue negotiations looking to a peaceful solution of the Cuban problem. The cabinet meeting on the morning of the 1st was unquestionably the most important held in many years. It received Spain's answer to the ultimatum of this government, and finding it unsatisfactory, practically decided upon a policy which at this hour seems certain to involve hostilities. The whole record will be laid before Congress and the question is now under earnest consideration what particular form our policy shall take in bringing to an end the horrors in Cuba, and securing the independence of the island. Propositions ranging from a simple recognition of Cuban independence to a straight out declaration of war have been urged at the capitol, but there is hardly a doubt that the majority of Congress will await the executive lead be-Land $3 to $5 per acre. Many Resolutions Introduced Looking to That End:

HOUSE TAKES A FIRM STAND.

McKinley Has Been Given Reasonable Time and Congress May Now Exercise Its Function.

THE SENATE.

68TH DAY. - A scene of intense interest was presented in the Senate when the President's message, transmitting the findings of the Maine court of inquiry was received. The galleries were packed to the doors, and the attendance of Senators was quite as large as it has been at any time during the present session. Eager to ascertain the full finding of the court, scores of the members of the House, after adjournment of that body, had hurried to the Senate chamber, and the floor was crowded with them. When the reading of the President's message was begun a hush so marked fell over the chamber that one literally might have heard a pin fall. Throughout the reading of both the message and the finding of the court there was not the slightest demonstration. The documents were referred to the committee on foreign relations. Following closely upon the message and findings, came the speech of Money, of Mississippi, on his recent observations in Cuba and the deductions from them he had made. His speech was along the same lines as those of Senators Proctor, Gallinger and Thurston. Upon the announcement of Representative Simpkins' death, the Senate adjourned. 69TH DAY. - Interest in the Cuban situation—the interest might almost be reached a climax in the proceedings of the Senate to-day. As on previous days of the discussion of the Cuban question, thousands of people flocked to the capital, but only a few of them, comparatively, could gain admission to the galleries. Within five minutes after the Senate convened, Allen, of Nebraska, introduced a resolution recognizing the independence of the a resolution proposed by Rawlins, of intervention in the Cuban war as would The resolutions followed one another so rapidly as almost to stun the auditors, both Senators and spectators. He said that the resolution as now amended met all objections that had been raised against the original one. It is as follows: "That in case of emergency, when in the opinion of the President the immediate erection of any temporary fort or fortification is deemed important and urgent, such temporary fort or fortification may be constructed on written consent of the owner of the land upon which such work is to be placed; and the requirements of section 355, of the revised statutes shall not be

The message was referred to the committee on foreign relations. After the adjournment of the House there was considerable discussion over a proposed consolidation of the forces in the House who favor some form of immediate action on the Cuban issue. There was a strong feeling shown over the avoidance in the message of any outline of a definite administration policy, and a decided disposition apparent not to wait any further delay, nor resort to temporizing measures. The project to furnish ad libitum relief supplies to the Cuban non-combatants is meeting with opposition to which members on both sides of the House have given voice in private discussion on the ground, first, that Spain alone is responsible for the condition on the island, and second, the extending of such large and probably continued aid abroad is unjust to the and which will permit her to wear. people of this country. The steps taken on this line were of an informal nature.

78TH DAY. - The revolt in the House against further delay of action on the Cuban issue culminated on the 29th in a conference of Republican members whose ideas are in accordance with a positive early course. About fifty representatives attended, representing all sections. Representative Hopkins, of Illinois, a member of the ways and means committee, presided. rooms and lobbies since the President's message was submitted by many members who favor immediate and aggressive action. Up to this present sentiment, was a half-concealed, but strong feeling against voting money for Cuban relief unless accompanied by a declara-tion to stop the war. The meeting was called with a view to accomplishing the unqualified removal of the Spanish troops from Cuba and the prompt armed intervention in the affairs of that island. Representative Hopkins, as chairmad: briefly stated the objects of the meeting. He indicated his disappointment that the President's message carried no outline of definite responsive policy toward Spain, and that he did not believe further delay would be brooked. He, however, thought the administration might have another day or two within which to act, and failing to do so, Congress should take the matter into its own hands independently and at once. He favored action looking to Cuban independence, but made no specific suggestions as to the method of its accomplishment. Various views were presented as to the best means for securing action, though the feeling that no action other than the sessation of hostilities on the island and absolute inde-

was unanimous. 79TH DAY. - In the House a wild and uproarious scene occurred when Bailey, he Democratic leader, attempted to force the hands of the Republicans upon a proposition to overrule the Speaker and pass a resolution recognizing the independence of the Cuban republic. He was cheered on by the crowded galleries, but the members of the majority refused to support him. They were rallied by two of leading advocates of armed intervention and the Speaker himself from the chair made an indirect appeal to his party associates to stand firm, at the same time intimating that if their impatience was curbed a little longer they would have the opportunity they coveted. The scene throughout was most dramatic and the members and spectators in the galleries were wrought up to a high pitch of excitement. Bailey offered his resolution as a privileged question. Women and the Wheel.

From the Gazelle, Belaware; Ohio. The healthfulness of bieyele riding for women is still a disputed question between eminent physicians and health reformers. Used in moderation it sucely creates for women a means of out-door exercise, the benefit of which all physicians concede. Used to excess, like any other pastime, its effect is likely to be dangerous. The experience of Miss Bertha Reed, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. J. R. Reed, 333 Lake St., Delaware, Ohio, may point a moral for parents who, like Mr. and Mrs. Reed, have experienced some concern for their daughters who are fond of wheeling. In the fall of '96 Miss Bertha who had ridden a great deal, began to fail in an alarming manner. She grew steadily paler and thinner, and it appeared she was going Into consumption. Rest and quiet did her absolutely no good. A physiefan found her pttise at 104 -a very high rate. Thinking this may have been dud to temporary nervousness when he examined her. She Rides Well. he watched her closely, but her pulse continued at that rate for two weeks. He was satisfied then, from her nigh pulse and steadily wasting condition that she was suffering from auremia or a bloodless condition of the body. She became extremely weak, and could not stand the least noise or excitement. In this condition of affairs they were recommended by an old friend to get some of that famous blood medicine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They did so, and almost from the first dose Bertha began to improve. She continued to take the pills and was by means of those pills made entirely well, and more grateful people than her parents cannot be found in the whole State of Ohio. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a boon to womankind. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, they restore the requisite vitality to all parts of the body; ereating functional regularity and perfect harmony throughout the nervous system. The pallor of the cheeks is changed to the delicate blush of health; the eyes brighten; the muscles grow elastic, ambition is created and good health returns.
