SCIENCE AND COMMON SENSE.

A Destructive Fire at Charlotte. Jacksonville People Kind to the Soldiers,

The land on which the wheat was raised has been owned by Mr. Oliver several years and he has spent large amounts of money in fertilizing and improving it. Last year it was planted in cotton and had a remarkably fine crop on it, but as it is not first class 'cotton land" the crop failed to ma

Following are about all the facts obtainable in regard to the preparation of the land and the seeding. About the latter part of November, after becoming convinced that the heavy crop of bolls on the cotton stalks would not mature and open, Mr. Oliver put a large number of turning ploughs to work breaking up the land and turning under the cotton and stalks. Next he thoroughly harrowed the land and it was ready for the seed, which was put in with drills, together with 450 pounds

A Close Shave.

While the street sprinkler was watering the square near the tower at Ashe ville the fire gong sounded. The horses made a run for the sheds, and just as they came opposite the court house on North square, a negro boy driving a horse and buggy tried to cross in front | terior. of the flying team. Before the fire horses could be stopped the buggy had been run over and completely demolished, but the negro crawled out uninjured from the wreck.

Selling Liquor at Camp. It has been known to the officers of the Second regiment that whiskey was being sold on the quiet at Camp Dan Russell to the soldiers. For several days a close watch was kept on the sutler's stand in the camp, was arrested, it being ascertained that liquor was purchased at his place. Mr. Deboy claimed that whiskey was sold by other parties, and not with his consent. However he was bound over to the next term of Federal Court under $200 bond.

Corn Stealing Near Charlotte.

Mr. George Smith who lives near Robnson church, for some time has been missing corn from his crib. Last Sunday the day on which it generally disappeared, he put a man in the barn to watch. He went to church. After he had been gone about half an hour, three shots were heard coming from the barn, and in an instant a negro ran out and away. The negro, who proved to be John Johnson, had entered the crib and begun taking the corn, when the man concealed in the building opened fire on him. He was cap-

· Trade of the Philippines. For several years, beginning with 1893, the imports from the Philippines have been considerable. The total value of Philippine products brought to the United States in that year was $9, 159, 857. This amount includes sugar to the amount of nearly $3,000,000. The following year the imports were valued at more than $7,000,000, and in the past three years they have averaged over $4,000,000. Since the imposition of a duty on sugar, there has been a gradual falling off in the importations of that article, and while in 1896 the imports of sugar were valued ot $2,270,902, in 1897

they amounted to only $1, 199, 202. Next to sugar the principal articles imported by the United States have been textile grasses. These amounted in 1893 to over $6,000,000, and in 1897 to more than $3,000,000.

During the same period, however, the United States has sold little to the Philippines. The total exports in 1893 amounted to $154,378, and have not reached that figure since. In 1897 they amounted to only $94,597. The chief articles of export has been refined mineral oils. Breadstuffs and manudeal of experience in harvesting and factures have made up the remainder of a meagre list.

Spain, on the other hand, has enjoyed a monopoly of the tobacco trade with the Philippines and has furnished the islands with a greater quantity of manufactured goods and food products than any other nation. Probably much of this, however, was sent to the Spanish forces. In 1896 Spain imported from the Philippines goods valued in pesetas at 22,519,994, and sent to the islands goods valued in pesetas at 38, 357, 757.

Great Britain and France have also maintained more extensive trade relations with the Philippines than the United States. The total value of the foreign trade of the Philippines in 1896, exclusive of the trade with Spain, amounted in exports to $20,875,000, and imports to $10,631,250. These figures will doubtless be cited as furnishing a reason for the retention of the Philippines and a strong effort to secure the greater part of the trade now enjoyed

The "Ivery" is a favorite shaving soap because it makes a profuse rich lather, which softens the beard to be removed and leaves the skin unharmed.

It costs about one-fifth as much as the so-called shaving soaps and many who have used it for this purpose for years, will not have any other.

The vegetable oils of which Ivory Soap is made, fit it for many special uses for which other soaps are unsafe or unsatisfactory.

A WORD OF WARNING -There are many white soaps, each represented to be 'just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and Insist upon getting it.
