LOCAL DOTS.

—May came in beautiful and warm.
—The commissioners were in session at Lillington Monday.
—The "soda water" season is now on us.
—The potato bug has made its appearance and is devouring the vines of the potatoes already.
—Rev. P. L. Herman conducted services at the Methodist church Sunday night and preached a short but able sermon.
—Many of our farmers are waiting for a rain so that they can plant out tobacco. The plants are growing rapidly now and are large enough to plant.
—We are requested to announce that the school at Union Hill Academy will close on Tuesday, May 9th. There will be no commencement exercises.
—The contractors on the Planter's warehouse are being delayed in not getting lumber to work with. The mill men are unable to fill the demands made on them.
—Mr. Thos. M. Hall has moved his saw to his timber woods at the end of his log road, where he will cut the lumber and haul it here to his planing mills and dry kilns.
—Plant corn enough to make corn to eat and feed your stock. There is as much money in corn at fifty cents a bushel as there is in cotton at five cents a pound. We notice that there is a good deal of corn shipped here.
—Newberry Bros. have the contract and have commenced the erection of a dwelling for Mrs. J. H. Pearsall on the corner east of Mr. J. J. Dupree on Pearsall street.
—The first regiment band passed here Monday afternoon on a special car going to Fayetteville where it gave a performance that night. It is said to be a fine one and is making a tour of the State.
—We learn that wheat bids fair to fruit well if the seasons from now on suit it. It is looking very healthy and well grown. Mr. Pink Riddle has an acre planted in it in town. It is now nearly waist high and beginning to head out.
—The Criminal Court for Cumberland county convened in Fayetteville Monday morning Judge Dossey Battle presiding. The trial of Jesse Ray for the murder of a negro woman in Carver's Creek begins there to-day.
—The vaccination has stopped among our people, but the danger of smallpox getting here is probably greater than it has been. A sore arm for two or three weeks is much more preferable than a light case of smallpox. Every person in town and country, rich and poor, should be vaccinated.
—Last night the old board of town aldermen went out of office and the new board was installed into office. Mr. McD. Holliday is the only member of the old board re-elected. He and Dr. F. T. Moore, J. C. Cox and C. F. Pope, with Mayor J. F. Phillips, and Police-man M. L. Wade have charge of the town's government for the next twelve months.

—There are now forty persons confined in the pest house at Raleigh with small-pox and a hundred persons in the house of detention. Charlotte has also got three cases. Two of them white. Only one white person has the disease in Raleigh.
J. J. Wade has just received the second lot of nice Spring Dress Goods, also the best selected styles of Trimmings ever seen on this market, such as Hamburgs from the cheapest to the nicest quality. A very fancy line of Swiss Embroideries, also Laces of all kinds. Don't fail to see our Spring Dress Goods before purchasing.
—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from Prof. J. R. Baggett, principal, to be present at the commencement exercises of Salem High School, Salemburg, Sampson County, on May 12th. Dr. Charles D. McIver, President of the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, will deliver the literary address.
—The finance committee of the county tried to have a settlement of the county taxes with Sheriff Pope Tuesday but as the Sheriff had not completed the sale of land for taxes, another meeting will be held next Tuesday when they hope to get a settlement. The sale of land for taxes was continued until to-day at 12 o'clock.
—Wet or dry? You can't afford to be anything else but dry. Let the good women of the town organize their forces. If the men cannot be saved from drink let's save the boys. Our town never had a brighter future and we can't afford to throw an obstacle in the way now. Get to work and keep this monster out. You can't loose by holding on to the right.
—Strawberries are getting ripe fast now. Mr. Jno. A. Oates had several quarts for sale Monday and they were in demand at ten cents a quart. A look at his vines will convince anyone that we have fine soil around Dunn for their cultivation. He has some as fine berries as can be found in the State, and for quantity his vines are unusually full of fruit. He has vines that were planted April fifth that have nice berries on them.
—Upon petition the county commissioners Monday ordered an election to be held in the town of Dunn on the first Monday in June next upon the question whether liquor shall be, or shall not be sold in the town. The town commissioners at their meeting last night appointed election officers for the same. They are: C. T. Guy, registrar, D. H. Hood and W. S. Jackson, poll holders.
—Quite a number of our people and old Confederate Soldiers will go to Charleston next week to attend the Confederate Veteran Re-Union. The railroad fare is cheap and the people of Charleston have made arrangements to entertain the poor veterans free while they are there. Visitors can get board at cheap rates. Charleston has thrown her doors open and all will be welcome.
—Monday night at the "Fire baptized tent" during the services, some one threw a bottle of acid of some kind under the tent and some of the acid struck a little girl of Mr. Tiberius Parrish in the eye and she started the congregation with her screams. Fortunately however, it was not strong enough to do any serious harm. The person who did the act probably did not intend to harm any one, but it was a dangerous thing to do, and if he is found out should be severely punished.

People and Their Movement.
Mr. W. A. Stewart attended Clinton court Monday.
Mrs. J. W. Lane is visiting relatives in Rowland this week.
Miss Vira Rose, of Wayne, is visiting Mrs. W. D. Thornton.
Miss Emma Young, of Enfield, is visiting Miss Marie Setsyer.
Mr. C. Tuck, of Richmond, Va., visited his sister, Miss Mamie Tuck, here Sunday and Monday.
—Miss Alice Grantham and Mrs. F. H. Parrish, of Smithfield, are here visiting their brother Mr. G. K. Grantham. They returned home to-day.
Master Robert Lee, who has been living with his grandmother near Rome, Johnston county, is spending this week at home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee.
Rev. C. W. Byrd, of Asheville, N. C., accompanied by his little daughter, is visiting his father and mother near Buie's Creek. He went out from here Monday. He will lecture at Buie's Creek Academy to-morrow night.
Mr. B. F. Williams, of Winslow, this county, was in town to-day. He says the first passenger train on the Cape Fear and Northern Railway arrived at his place last Monday evening. They now have trains from Raleigh every day.
Messrs. J. C. Crawford and Hal M. David, of the Raleigh News & Observer, spent last night and to-day in town. They are getting up the great State Industrial issue of the News & Observer which will soon be published. Every county in the State will be represented in this great edition which will be a feature of journalism never before attempted in this State. It is the desire of the promoters to place a copy of this edition in every home in the State, beside a vast number to be sent all over the country. Dunn and Harnett will be well represented.
Best Choice Fresh Lemons and Raisins at Jno. B. Sanders'.
—We learn that there will be a full crop of huckleberries this year. This means much to this section. The crop last year was almost a failure.
—The cruiser Raleigh is expected to arrive at Wilmington to-morrow afternoon. Arrangements are being made to give her a grand reception. She has on board the captured Spanish gun which she will present to the city of Raleigh.
—In all the towns in the State that held elections Monday the Democrats were successful. In our neighboring town of Benson, where the Republicans were expecting to elect a mayor, the Democrats won with a good majority.
A petition was presented to the county commissioners Monday asking that the ferry at Averbosboro be made free, the county to pay the expense of the ferry. The petition was laid over until the next meeting of the board. If this ferry was free it would be a great convenience to the people of the lower section of the county. The people of the county are able to make two or three ferries across the river free and we trust that the commissioners will grant this petition at the next meeting and make the ferry free.

The Pic-Nic at Rhodes' Pond.

Last Thursday was indeed a glorious day with our young people, for it was a day of picnicing. The sun rose clear and bright and by nine o'clock the happy party was off on the road leading to the pond. Every heart was light, and as the pleasure seekers journeyed along making merry with song and laughter—admiring the beauties of spring, the birds chimmed in with their notes of melody to add to the occasion. Coming down to a plain, sober statement of facts, we say it was a day ever to be remembered by those indulging.
At 11 o'clock the party reached the pond, and after wandering around on the banks beneath the beautiful shade, inhaling the pure fresh air that makes country life so much to be enjoyed, two by two they strolled off, discussing the past, the present and what may be in the future. There were some who began fishing as soon as they reached the pond, there were others who began long before the got in sight of the pond, with what success we are unable to say. At one o'clock the band came together and played three pieces, after which dinner was spread, and no more delicious dinner ever greeted the eye or satisfied the appetite of a King. Our good ladies never do things by halves, and it is safe to say that the hungry boys on the hill did their part well.
After dinner was over boating was indulged by all who could secure a boat. What soft words were spoken by those upon the boats are unknown, except to the gentle waves.
The happy party left the pond at five o'clock for Dunn. The day will ever be remembered as pleasantly spent by all those who attended.
