A Frank Candidate.

Here is a unique announcement of candidacy for office which appears in the Kiowa Sentinel:

"In announcing myself as a candidate for Register of Deeds for Kiowa County, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention in September, I do not do it at the earnest solicitation of a large number of friends, nor has there been a delegation of the most prominent citizens of the county waited on me and drank my whiskey and smoked my cigars and urged me to come before the convention as a candidate, believing I was the only man who could be elected—none of this has happened. I have worked it up myself. "In fact it is a self-made boom. I am getting a little too old to farm and a little too ambitious to be thrown in the waste basket, and would like a couple of years' office rest, just to see how leading around the county seat feels to an old man."—Kansas City Journal.

DYSENTERY CURED WITHOUT THE AID OF A DOCTOR.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Finner, a well known merchant of Drummond Tenn. "I used one bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better remedy for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Hood & Grantham.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

The Planters Warehouse is open every day for your tobacco.

I wish to announce to the TOBACCO GROWERS of Harrett, Sampson and Johnston counties that I have leased the PLANTERS WAREHOUSE of DUNN, N. C., for a term of years and am in the business to stay. Having AMPLE CAPITAL and a good line of Orders, both Foreign and Domestic, I am in a position to look after YOUR INTEREST and get you the Very Highest Market Prices for your tobacco. Every pile sold on my floor will have my CLOSEST PERSONAL ATTENTION. We are going to have a good corps of buyers on our market during the coming season, representing the American Tobacco Company, Continental Tobacco Company, the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and all of the other large concerns of the United States and abroad. There is going to be a hot time on the

Dunn Tobacco Market. This Season and the PLANTERS WAREHOUSE will be in the thickest of the fight. Competition will be strong and every pile of tobacco sold will call forth a hot fight between the three giant rivals of the tobacco industry. I shall take advantage of this in the interest of MY CUSTOMERS and see that every pile of tobacco sold on my floor has the attention of the buyers. I have been in the Tobacco business for the past 20 years and fully understand it. Your interest will be protected by me. Your wishes consulted by me and nothing left undone on my part to make it

To Your Advantage. To sell your tobacco at the Planters Warehouse. If you are in search of the best lighted warehouse in North Carolina, come along to

PLANTERS. If you want the Very Highest Market Prices

For your tobacco bring it to the PLANTERS. If you appreciate the best attention and the most faithful service don't forget the PLANTERS. Bring me a load and I will convince you of what I say.

After the market opens we shall not annoy the farmer with drummers and therefore enable us to pay them better prices.

Yours to serve, J. J. WILLIS, Proprietor of Planters Warehouse, Dunn, N. C.

Good Roads.

The following interesting information is taken from the recent article entitled "Road building with Convict Labor in the Southern States," by Prof. J. A. Holmes, and will be of interest to those interested in the Good Roads movement in North Carolina: Portable prisons on wheels are novelties which are now in use in several localities. These movable jails appear to solve the problem of preventing the escape of convicts employed at great distances from their prison proper. In exterior appearances they are freight car bodies provided with barred windows and mounted upon wagon trucks. As the road improvement progresses they are drawn forward by horses and collected in some convenient grove or open field, selected as the temporary prison camp. Morning and evening the convicts are marched along the road from and to their quarters. To facilitate their being safely guarded during the night without too great risk and expense, each prisoner, when he goes to bed, has either one foot or one hand manacled loosely to a chain or rod from which he can be easily released the following morning. Tiers of bunks inside comprise the sleeping quarters. These are easily and cheaply made comfortable. Ample ventilation is afforded in summer and during the cold months there is a stove in each car.

One of these portable prisons which can be disjoined and transported in sections, is in use on the public roads of North Carolina. One of these movable jails and is lengthened to accommodate fifty convicts. Its sides and ends are of boards bolted together in sections. The roof, of corrugated iron, is also in sections. Large tents are used in States. Women prisoners do the cooking and washing of some of migratory prison camps. This work is usually done, however by trusty male convicts, and in some cases it is performed by hired labor. The younger prisoners are usually assigned to such tasks as the carrying of water or the running of errands. A ball and chain are attached to convicts who show a desire to escape. While these encumbrances make it impossible for a prisoner to run rapidly, they do not seriously hamper his movements during the regular road work.

Critics of the convict system of road building say that it offers too many opportunities for the escape of prisoners; as a matter of fact, however, the actual escapes amount to less than two men out of each hundred. Almost 300 counties, representing ten States, employ convict labor upon their roads. This furnishes an army of 4,377 road builders, each of whom costs his State 334 cents a day. Were he left in the country jail he would cost 14 cents more a day. Hence he is a cheaper article toiling upon the roads than languishing in a cell or jail yard. All told, the cost of convict labor in these States ranges from one-third to one-half that of hired labor employed in the same work.

The Southern States employing convict road builders, are Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. In the two Carolinas and Georgia such a perfection is reached that large camps are operated at a cost of only 20 to 30 cents per convict per day. Provisions are purchased for the prison camps at wholesale at competitive rates; the convicts do their own cooking and washing. Owing to the usually good sanitation of the camps and the benefits of exercise to the prisoners, the cost of medical attention is almost nothing.

Another virtue of the system is that the prisoners after injuring the community in which they lived by the commission of their crimes, and after adding to its financial burdens by incurring expense for their capture, conviction and punishment, are put in a position to benefit that community. Having served an apprenticeship in the handling of road machinery the convict leaves prison with a training which enables him to earn a better living than he probably did before. Only prisoners guilty of misdemeanors can be assigned to work on the public roads of Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Missisissippi, Texas Florida and Georgia. The terms of such convicts do not exceed one year. In Alabama all able-bodied male prisoners whose terms do not exceed two years, may be sent to the roads. In South Carolina the limit is five years, and North Carolina ten. An experiment is now being made in some Southern counties in the employment of the roads of captured, but unconvicted prisoners, unable to give bail. If the prisoner be acquitted at his trial he is paid for his services. If convicted his period of labor on the roads is deducted from his term. Many convicts in the Southern States are employed on farms, in factories and in mines being worked under the contract system, or in some cases under State control. California convicts quarry and crush stone for use in permanent road building. The cost is half what it would be with hired labor. Strong stockades surround these quarries, also the convict quarters. The percentage of escapes is no larger than that experienced in jails proper. There are over 82,000 prisoners in confinement in this country. Seventy-six thousand of these are men, 13,000 white. There are 73,000 inmates of adult houses, 41,000 of whom are men. With such a force every county in the State might develop its highways to the highest degree of perfection.

The above article referred to on "Road Building with Convict Labor in the Southern States" can be secured free of cost by application to Prof. J. A. Holmes, Chapel Hill, N. C., who is the Special Agent of the Southern Division of the office of the Board of Inquiries of the Department of Agriculture

ALL WERE SAVED.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis" writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. My wife suffered intensely from asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for throat and lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at C. L. Wilson's.

It is beautifully illustrated and fully describes the winter resorts of the South. A copy may be secured by sending a two-cent stamp to S. H. Hardwick, G. P. A., Washington, D. C.

While picnicking last month my 11 year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure to cure. Cures piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. Hood & Grantham.

HIS SIGHT THREATENED.

Look PLEASANT, PLEASE. Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivalled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by C. L. Wilson, druggist.
