A Romance and its Token.

The writer remembers some years ago making the acquaintance of a very charming Irish gentleman and lady. One day she observed that his eyes were resting inquiringly on her brooch, which was of gold, enclosing a mass of fractured bones. She laughed and said: "Are you admiring my brooch? I will tell you the story of it. One day some ten years ago, when I was a young girl, I was staying in the house of a friend, who also knew Mr. N., who is now my husband. We were having a game—a romp—and, running after each other in the house, which was large, with long galleries and chambers communicating with one another, Mr. N. was close behind me, trying to catch me. I darted through a door and threw the door back behind me. Mr. N. was close behind me, trying to catch me. Mr. N. had his head down and the handle struck his skull, and he fell stunned. The skull was fractured and to save his life he was obliged to have it trepanned. Now he wears a plate of silver over the hole, and I wear the portion cut out of his skull in this brooch. We became engaged and are now man and wife."—Cornhill magazine.

Hancock's Liquid Sulphur baths are superior to those of the most celebrated sulphur springs, having the additional advantage of being made any desired strength. Taking medicine by absorption into the system through the skin by taking medical baths is a very efficient method of obtaining a constitutional treatment. It never fails to cure eczema and all blood and skin diseases. Ask your druggist for a book on Liquid Sulphur. For Sale by Hood & Grantham.

CAUTION.
This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for 75c the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others, that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and at mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving

I have read the account of a long, rainy afternoon, at the end of which the sun came out brightly. And of a dog who straightway moved from his place in the shadow to a spot where the delayed sunshine was the brightest.
A childish simple story? Yes; but none the less is it a complete parable of thanksgiving. Your life may contain only a square yard of sunshine, and that late in arriving. Never mind; move promptly into it, and stay there!

But in reality, every life contains far more than one spot of sunshine. Hunt them out, and you will be rich in a new kind of gold, that thieves cannot steal.
Not everyone has eyes for the sunshine. There is a new method of separating iron particles from the soil in which they are imbedded. The dirt is simply thrown up against a great magnet, which holds the ore and lets the soil fall back. This process is transforming into an iron mine many a league of worthless clay, and is earning vast wealth for its inventors. The magnet is a kind of an eye that sees the eye in the clay, and nothing but the iron. Get such a power for your soul, and use it to search out subjects for thanksgiving.

Few persons realize the value in mere dollars and cents, of the power of praise. A cheerful grateful disposition will save you many a doctor's bill, make you many a friend, carry you triumphantly over many a difficulty, enable you to do far more work, and do all your work in the best way. Taking two men of equal powers and opportunities, one sunshiny and the other morose, the first will probably succeed and the second probably fail.

Thanksgiving is far more a cultivated habit than a grace of nature. Some men, to be sure, find it easier than others to be thankful and happy; but all men, if they sedulously cherish the good they can see in their lives, will speedily see more good to cherish, and the blessed process will go on at a rapidly increasing rate, an endless chain of thanksgiving.

If you once get a start in this blessed habit of thanksgiving, there is no finer method of increasing your joy than by giving some one else a cause for gratitude.

The best thing a heart that is thankful can do is to make thankful some other heart too.
Indeed, true thanksgiving cannot help radiating out in thanksgiving. It is like a fire, so far as it can.

Then this gratitude that you start in other lives by your kindness reacts on your own, so that you have entered upon a second endless chain of thanksgiving, and your heart leaps with joy every time you think of the joy of that other life.

These, after all, are the blessings most worthy to remember on Thanksgiving Day—the power to help others, the love of our fellowmen, the happy approval of God. All harvests in the natural world are dust and ashes compared with these fruits of the Spirit.—Amos R. Wells.

When you feel that life is hardly worth the candle take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, tone up your liver and regulate your bowels making you feel like a new man. For sale by Hood & Grantham.

Simmons Retires.

We clip the following from the News & Observer of the 5th We think every Democrat in the State should read it, and not get the ability and splendid services of Mr. Simmons. It reads:
The victory of yesterday closed the almost continuous political campaign that began in North Carolina upon the meeting of the State Convention in Raleigh in the summer of 1898. There has been no such political period except when the white people of the State thirty years ago rescued the State from the carpet-bag and negro government. When the 1898 campaign opened every branch of the State government was in the hands of the Re-pop-li-cans. At the previous election they had carried the State by nearly 40,000 majority and thought they were too strongly entrenched to be driven from power. The Democrats, recollecting his successful service as State chairman in 1892, elected Hon. F. M. Simmons as State Chairman, surrounded, cheered and helped by able and courageous men, who were ready to make any sacrifices to redeem the State. Mr. Simmons effected the best organization, put hope into the hearts of the people, and after the most strenuous campaign since the Ku Klux Klan days, the white people of the State returned to their own. The shouts of victory had scarcely died out before the leaders of the party saw that unless some measure to eliminate the ignorant negro vote could be devised, results of the victory would be only temporary. They began at once to study the Mississippi, the South Carolina, the Louisiana plans of constitutional suffrage regulation. When the Legislature met the amendment under which the people voted yesterday for the first time was submitted to the people for ratification. The campaign upon the adoption of that amendment was hotly contested. The allied Republican and Populist parties exerted every effort to defeat the amendment. They declared it was unconstitutional, vicious, unjust; they told the illiterate white voters that the amendment would disfranchise them, and hundreds were deceived by their misrepresentation. That was no time to change the management of the State campaign and by unanimous vote Mr. Simmons was re-elected chairman. But the amendment was adopted by more than 50,000 majority, to go into effect on the first of July, 1902. Even then there were many who doubted that it would accomplish the purpose for which it was devised and ratified. The success of the amendment was an open question. The same agencies that had directed the 1898 and 1900 campaigns were best fitted to complete the work by conducting the first campaign under the amendment. And so, with one accord, the people called Senator Simmons again to be State Chairman. He was willing and ready. As in former campaigns he gave his whole time and thought to winning the magnificent victory. On Monday night, in his speech in Greensboro, Mr. Simmons reviewed the continuous campaign begun in 1898 which ended yesterday, and said:
"In 1898 we regained control of the legislative department of the government. In 1900 we regained control of the Executive department of the government. To-morrow we will regain control of the Judicial department of the government. The Magna Charta of white supremacy, will be established by a majority so great that no man in North Carolina will henceforth dare lay his in-

M. F. GAINNEY,

DUNN, N. C.

Hazing Detestable all Around.

Hazing is always cowardly, because the victim is overpowered by numbers and taken at disadvantage when he has no chance of resistance. It is utterly lawless and brutal because it violates the sanctity of the victim's person and subjects him to gross indignity, to which no man willingly submits so long as he has any chance of resistance. From whatever standpoint it is viewed hazing is detestable, and it is particularly demoralizing because it rests for defence upon the plea that the social manners and habits of a young man at college may properly be regulated by various kinds of physical outrage and insult whose practice is forbidden by law.—Portland Oregonian.

Charlotte's Taste for Amusements.

In conjecturing about what this community likes in the way of amusement the casual observer is again at sea. Henry Water-ton lectures here to two score paid tickets; Sam Jones plays to standing room; a circus gets 12,000 spectators and only a thin line of fashionables see a gorgeous Shakesperian production; Sundays everybody eats cold light beer and goes to church, and during the week society plays euchre and the rest of the population rides on the merry-go-round.

CURED OF RHEUMATISM AFTER SPENDING $3,000 IN VAIN.

Mr. G. L. Thaxter, of Ashland, Cal., writes: "I have long been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism and was confined to my bed for six months. I tried every known remedy, spending $3,000 to no effect. I used three bottles of URICOL and found permanent relief." URICOL never fails to cure diseases incident to disorders of the kidneys and bladder when caused by uric acid. Druggists sell it at $1 per bottle or six bottles for $5.

ONE MINUTE COUGH CURE.

Is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, pneumonia, asthma, laryngitis and all throat and lung troubles. "I got soaked by rain," says Gertrude E. Fenner, Muncie, Ind., "and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 pounds. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief; several cured me. I am back to my old weight 148 pounds. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children. Hood & Grantham.
