

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND

THE NUMBER OF DOLLARS MR. PEARSON MADE.

THE GREAT AUCTION SALE IS ENDED.

The Scene There Yesterday Afternoon—The Final List of Lots and Purchasers.

From Daily Citizen June 6. A brass band discoursing music on Eagle terrace, a crowd of five hundred laborers working with pick and shovel in the rear of the Eagle block and an audience at twice as many men, women and children who were viewing the strange sight was the last scene in the great Pearson auction. This occurred between the hours of five and seven yesterday afternoon and then the curtain fell. The five hundred laboring men who worked for the two hours were paid at the rate of two cents a minute, and their labors cost Mr. Pearson the neat sum of $1,200. The band played for two hours and was $100 richer at the close. After seven the drawing for the prize lot was held in the court house. It was drawn by Captain T. W. Patton. Mr. Pearson would not superintend it himself but gave $100 to two worthy blind men to do it. The great auction sale was a success.

The entire receipts from the sale of the land was $147,660, which is a net profit of $102,000. This includes one private sale amounting to $40,000. Sixty-seven thousand dollars of this net profit on lots held only sixty-two days. More than that he has property left which is worth more now than was the entire tract at the start.

The sale yesterday included two lots, the proceeds of which were to be divided among the white and the negro preachers of the city. The first, No 34, brought $750 and was sold to E. H. Nies, but as Mr. Pearson had said he would start the sale at $1,000 he gave the difference to Mr. Nies for the preachers. The lot sold for the benefit of the negro preachers brought $400.

A lot at the corner of Spruce and Eagle streets was given to the city by Mr. Pearson and across the deed was a statement signed by his name that he would spend $5,000 in improving the property there in the next 90 days, and that he would give Major J. Picadilly, and Velvet streets to the city.

The sale yesterday closed out the lots. It resulted as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Lot No. and Price. Includes entries like 'No. 27, 35x234, J. T. Bostic... $1,050' and 'No. 1, 25x112, R. Pearson... $1,250'.

SALEM FEMALE COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises of this Institution.

WINSTON-SALEM, June 4.—The past week has been a busy, bustling one in Winston-Salem. Hundreds of visitors were here attending the interesting commencement exercises of the famous Salem Female College, which opened last Friday night with a grand musical concert. On Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. C. W. Byrd, of Fayetteville, and it was an able and appropriate effort. Monday and Tuesday nights were seniors' evenings, when thirty-five essays were read to the delight of a large and appreciative audience.

Sunday afternoon a meeting of the Alumni Association (which numbers over 10,000) was held. Interesting papers were read from several members, among the number being one from the wife of ex-President James K. Polk, of Tennessee. The diplomas were also presented to the thirty-seven young ladies composing the graduating class, by Dr. Edward Routhaler, of Salem. The exercises closed to-night with a grand musical concert.

It Was a Lucky Stroke.

A number of Asheville men formed a pool with twenty shares at $50 per share and proposed to Mr. Pearson to give him $1,000 if the property did not sell for $75,000; and if it went over that amount, Mr. Pearson was to divide the surplus with the pool. The property went about $18,000 above the amount, and the members of the pool had $9,000 to divide among themselves.

AT THE UNIVERSITY.

What Students and Visitors are Doing at Chapel Hill.

The exercises of commencement week began on Sunday, when Rev. Robert Strange, of Wilmington, preached the baccalaureate sermon. Mr. Strazge is a young man, but his sermon was better adapted to his audience of young men because of his perfect sympathy with them. His text was: "But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." The call to duty was made with impressive earnestness, and the whole effect of the sermon was admirable.

Monday is a sort of "off day" at Chapel Hill. The crowd does not arrive before Tuesday night or Wednesday, though some visitors—old students usually—go early.

Wednesday will be full of interest. It is Alumni day, and addresses will be made by R. H. Battle, Esq. and by Col. Burgwyn. In the afternoon the Alumni dinner, or rather a toast after dinner, will furnish vent for the pent up eloquence of many of the University's illustrious sons. It is thought that the much needed chair of history will surely be established.

The speaking by the society representatives will be specially good this year. The same is true of the exercises of the seniors on commencement day—Thursday. It is an excellent class. The University is turning out some fine young men.

A large crowd is expected this week. The village hotels are not quite so large as the Battery Park and the Swannanoa, but they are comfortable—what there is of them. One has been considerably enlarged. There is talk of a $50,000 hotel being erected shortly.

Chapel Hill people are hospitable, and all who go there to commencements receive a hearty welcome.

Reduced rates may be had on all the railroads of the State.

The Salem Female State College has had 311 students during the past year and every southern State was represented and several northern and western States. There are thirty-seven graduates at the annual commencement.

FROM A FAR OFF LAND.

Rev. J. R. Smith of Brazil Talks to the Citizens.

Rev. J. Rockwell Smith of Pernambuco, Brazil, who has been visiting at the home of A. T. Summey, thought until he came to Asheville that Rio Janeiro was the most beautiful city on the face of the globe. He has changed his mind now. Asheville is first and Rio Janeiro second. Mr. Smith was born in Kentucky, and has been at work in Brazil for seventeen years.

"I left the States in December 1872," he said, "and reached Pernambuco the first of January, 1873. Since that time, I have only been back once. That was in 1883. I have my wife and children with me this time, and will stay here about a year. I find the change from the perpetual summer of our climate, quite pleasant, and have seen cooler weather since my arrival here in May, than we ever have at our place."

Mr. Smith was asked to compare the two countries, North and South America. To this he replied:

"As for the political, social and church relations, this country is far superior to that. The society there is not so good as that here. There is a great amount of ignorance there. Vast numbers of the people are unable to read and write, and there is no such culture as is met with here. Although there are a great many men who are immensely wealthy, there is also a large opposite class, who live in the greatest squalor. The ladies of the wealthy classes are as handsomely dressed as the ladies of this or of any other country. Paris styles are used and the dresses are of remarkably fine material and of the best styles. The men also dress with great elegance. There are very few men who are educated in the special branches, although there are some men of fair culture. We have good physicians and lawyers.

"As to my work there," he continued, "I am in charge of the Central Presbyterian church in Pernambuco, and am engaged largely in preparing young men for the ministry. I was sent out by the committee of the Southern Presbyterian church. We now have in Brazil our own synod, independent of the government of the church in this country. In this synod there are four presbyteries and thirty-four ministers, nineteen of which are foreigners and fifteen natives. There are sixty-five churches and 3,000 members in our synod."

Mr. Smith is uncertain as to how long he will remain in Asheville.

TWO MINISTERS ORDAINED.

Important business of the Mecklenburg Presbytery. At an adjourned meeting of the Mecklenburg presbytery held at Coopers, W. H. Davis, of Transylvania, was dismissed to the presbytery of Roanoke, Va., to take charge of the churches lately served by Rev. J. P. Gammon, formerly of this city.

Licentiate D. F. Sheppard was received from the presbytery of Savannah and a call placed in his hands from the church of Swannanoa. This being accepted by him, his ordination was determined upon, and it was accompanied by that of Licentiate R. E. Henderlite, who has been working in Haywood and Swain counties. They preached their trial sermons and were ordained. Mr. Sheppard was installed pastor of Swannanoa churches.

The presbytery gave its approval of the plan for holding a Sabbath school convention to comprise all the presbyterian Sabbath schools west of the Blue Ridge, and a committee was appointed to arrange a program and date.

HONORS TO ASHEVILLE.

Brought Back by Misses Rollins and Fagg.

Misses Emma Rollins and Minnie Fagg have returned from Salem, where they have been attending school. They were both members of the graduating class, and in the report of the exercises, the Twin City Daily speaks of them as follows:

"Idols" was the title of the next essay by Miss Minnie Fagg. She said the instinct to worship something was deeply implanted in the human heart. Each had some idol to worship. Sometimes it was self, sometimes gold, but too soon the worshipped or the worshipped would change to common clay.

The valetictorio address was eloquently delivered (and when we say "eloquently" we mean it) by Miss Emma Rollins, of Asheville. It was an address worthy of the occasion and highly creditable to the bright and charming young lady who delivered it in so becoming a manner. Before she concluded the tears of affection trickled down the cheeks of nearly all her classmates—tears which did them honor and evidenced their affection for their valetictorio.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A new invention of English origin is an incandescent lamp in which the filament is coated with a layer of silicon. It is claimed that the degree of vacuum required inside the bulb will be thus lessened.

An odd conception, manufactured at the suggestion of a New York lady, is an enameled orange which opens and discloses a watch in one-half, and a purse in the other. The exterior of this unique article is exceedingly realistic.

London is giving her electric traction service a boom. Before very long a line of omnibuses run by electricity is to be started. They will be driven by storage batteries, and each bus is to have a seating capacity of twenty-six passengers.

Spain's population has grown incredibly during the last decade. There has been an increase of about one million people during thirteen years. This astonishing growth is attributed in a great measure to the success that has attended the changes in the hygienic condition of the large cities and towns.

The Duke of Northumberland is no doubt the greatest landowner in England. He owns more than 200,000 acres and has a rent roll of $875,000 a year. He is 81 years of age and all his life has been a great reader.

Of 2,750 duels fought in Italy during eleven years, 1,141 terminated by insignificant wounds, 1,400 by wounds speedily healed, and 50 only by wounds subsequently producing death. It is shown that nearly all the duels take place in the hot months and in the very early morning hours.

Perhaps Jenner did not discover vaccination. In a graveyard of Worth, Dorsetshire, there is a tomb with this inscription: "Benjamin Jesty, of Downshay, died April 18, 1816, aged 79. He was born at Yetminster, in this county, and was an upright, honest man, particularly noted for having been the first person known that introduced the cow pox virus inoculation, and who, for his great strength of mind, made the experiment from the cow on his wife and two sons in the year 1774."

Wordsworth's cottage at Grasmere is one of the most beautiful spots in that lovely district. It deserves to be saved, and Stopford Brooke and his brother, with Professor Knight, of St. Andrew's, and others, are making an appeal that it should be secured with the orchard and garden for the modest sum of $650. The promoters aim to raise that sum by small subscriptions, so that every lover of the poet may contribute and thus make the monument a national memorial to Wordsworth.

The efficacy of hot water in shaving is more fully appreciated by the people of that remarkably advanced country, Japan, than in the younger civilizations of the west. Japanese barbers shave nearly all of the exposed surfaces of a man's head. They shave the ears, the outside and inside of the nose, the eyebrows and a portion of the scalp. No lather is used, but a keen edge is kept constantly on the razor by dipping it into hot water.

A remarkable occurrence is reported by a native Japanese newspaper. Scientists assign its cause to vacuum due to atmospheric changes, while the villagers think it to be the work of devils. The circumstances are as follows: A man suddenly falls down while walking in the open air or in a house, when a slit in the flesh from one inch to one inch and a half in length and about an inch in depth is found, the place principally attacked being the legs. At the time not much pain is felt, but half an hour afterward the pain increases as the blood begins to flow. The wounds are said to very difficult to cure.

A New Violet Discovered.

"It is the sweetest flower I ever knew," said Miss Browning, the well known Baltimore florist, displaying a new violet just discovered by Mr. A. P. Gordon Cumming, on his place, near Sykesville, Md. The foliage leaves on this violet are longer than the ordinary wild or cultivated violet. The flower leaves of the new violet are a soft white, striped or mottled with light and dark purple. Unlike the other cultivated violets, the new one is a single violet. All the cultivated violets have hitherto, without exception, been double. Single violets, until this discovery of Mr. Cumming's, have been without perfume, but the Sykesville cultivated single violet has a wealth of rich perfume which cannot be surpassed. Those wonderfully sweet plants, Daphne, Odors and Oleo Fragrans, do not give off more delightful odors than this new violet.—Baltimore Sun.

Baby Still in the Ring.

While a Buffalo family was moving the mother suddenly missed the baby. The infant could be heard crying, and the mother finally conjectured that she was inside of a roll of carpet. It was true. The baby had been left in the middle of the sitting room floor, and the men who took up the carpet tossed a breadth over her without noticing her, rolled her up in it, and stood the carpet up in the hall. The child when rescued was punctured here and there with rusty tacks, and its mouth was partly stuffed with carpet dust, but otherwise it was quite hearty.—Detroit Free Press.
