K. v. RUCK, M. D., Observer.

Is the title of a case tried to-day before mmey, and involves matters of crest. The parties are residents of that portion of Fairview township, which is under the stock law. Sherrill took up and impounded stock of Freeman's, and Freeman brought action for recovery, on the ground that the fence which the county had constructed, was

After a full discussion of the case, the Justice decided in favor of the plaintiff, olding that stock cannot be lawfully imed, even in a stock law territory, unless the same is surrounded by a lawful The influ fence, or in case the fence is out of repair. In arriving at this conclusion, the Justice was guided by our Supreme court decision, in Coor vs. Rogers, 79 North Caroli-

This seems to us only a just decision, and yet the effect, if tested, would be to effectually multiply the stock law in many parts of this county. We hope, therefore, it will not be tested until the county fences are made according to law.

Died from the Wound. The colored man Albert Simpson, who was accidentally shot in the abdomen by his friend Kit Foster, at Asbeville Junc-tion, Monday night, died yesterday from the effects of the wound. Foster did not know that the pistol with which he was fooling was loaded. All who witnessed the affair testified that the shooting was purely accidental, and Foster has not been arrested.

CUT YOUR OWN CLOTHING. A Necessary Part of Every Young Lady's Education.

The National Garment Cutter people since establishing their cutting school in Knoxville, have been instrumental in more fully arousing public sentiment upon one vital question than has ever before been aroused, namely, the one of a practical education for women.

The originators of this school claim that parents owe a duty to their daughters

1-Educate them in such a manner that they can earn a good living by their own efforts if such a thing should at any time become necessary.

2-To be able to look after their own clothing and see that it is made correctly and in becoming style.

3-To be able, when the proper time comes, to honorably and intelligently look after the affairs of her own house. 4-To be able to impart useful knowledge to her daughters, and to teach them the dangers and follies of idleness. 5-That a woman may be independent and earn her own living and not take it from another without rendering due value therefor. 6-That educating the eye and hand is a useful and important part of an edu-7-That no part that is required to make a well rounded, full and complete education should be neglected; that it should not be the practical part but the lighter and more theoretical. 8-That a systematic and scientific, a practical education is actually necessary if the country at large is to make the advancement that the civilization of the age demands, and in no place is this education more greatly needed than in the household. 9-That the requirements of the age demand an unlimited knowledge of how to dress with economy and comply with the requirements of the prevailing style. 10-That employment is an essential to health and happiness.

11-That a lazy woman is as uscless to society as a lazy man and probably more dangerous to the community in general.

That here are eleven strong statements by A. B. Ware and wife, dated February 7, 1888, and duly registered in Book 12, Page 218, to secure the payment of certain notes mentioned therein. I will sell at public ancestioned therein. I will sell at public ancestion for one-half cash and balance in all months, on the premises or at the court house in Asheville, N. C., on Wednesday, March 20, 1889, the property described in said trust, and then fully practiced, there is asked property being situated in the City of Asheville, un French Broad Avenue and William Street, adjoining lands of W. M. Cocke, if., and Messar, Baird and Alexander, containing two acres more or less with three distribution is actually taking place and to those who are reading the press dwelling houses and other improvements. This the 18th day of February 1889.

Trustee.

That here are eleven strong statements pointedly made none will deny, and that they are founded to mention and will be a revolution of certain notes of the infact, if these statements were reduced to rules, and then fully practiced, there would be a revolution for good such as askeylle, un French Broad Avenue and William Street, adjoining lands of W. M. Cocke, if., and Messar, Baird and Alexander, containing two acres more or less with three developments and to those who are reading the press dwelling houses and other improvements. This the 18th day of February 1889.

Rebiodim Trustee.

Rebiodim Alexander, containing two acres more or less with three developments and to those who are reading the press of the country and studying the signs of the times, there is no doubt upon this subject. But some will ask, What has the National Garment Cutter to do with this subject? By a little investigation it will be shown that the Garment Cutter will be shown that the Garment Cutter and cutting schools have a great deal to accommodate boarders, who desire a nice, quiet place, away from the hotels. Nice rooms to do with it, as you will readily an addition to boarding our patients, we have a number of elegantly-furnished rooms to accommodate boarders, who desire a nice, quiet place, away from the hotels. Nice rooms are furniture, good fare, first-class cooking, at reasonable prices. Also, hot and cold baths. do with it, as you will readily see after the school which is now being organized at Asheville, N. C., under the management of Mr. John Huffstetler, of the Knoxville Headquarters for the South, 257 Gay street, Knoxville, Tenn., has been taught and entire satisfaction given which they will do before leaving your town. Now is the time to teach your girls to be industrious; teach them economy, teach them to be useful, teach them so if left alone to do so honorably and bless your name in so doing. We are aware that a chart has been sold recently in this town substantially Notice is hereby given that J. G. Martin.
