

THE DAILY CITIZEN.

The Citizen is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper in Western North Carolina.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1889.

WHAT WILL THE PEOPLE SAY?

No sooner is the party of great moral ideas and high salaries in power at Washington, than the question comes up.

On the other hand does such action on the part of Mr. Chace warrant the raising of the salaries of all members of Congress?

This idea is in exact keeping with the plutocratic feeling now so prevalent with the party in power at the national capital.

The offices of Senator and Congressman were not created as sinecures or as fat paying positions.

It is quite probable that when the Fifty-first Congress meets next December some worshiper of mammon will want to gain notoriety by introducing a bill to raise the salaries of members of Congress to $10,000.

OVER-PRODUCTION VS. UNDER-CONSUMPTION.

When the rolling mills in Eastern Pennsylvania closed their doors a few days ago and threw out of employment thousands of poor people, they went abroad that it was because of over-production.

When a country is enjoying the material prosperity that ours has been for the past decade, when the multifarious internal improvements such as ship and bridge building, machinery and shop furnishing, and the thousand and one interests of the home and the workshop remain to be furnished, and are furnished, for mankind, how can there well be over-production?

When a man or a company of men form a vast trust in the manufacture of some one line of goods and in a short time gain the exclusive control of that product they can dictate prices. More than that.

ducts by the government. What is the result of all this? The persons in control of this great monopoly, for such it is, are at once enabled to fix and retain artificial prices upon their products and this causes under-consumption rather than over-production.

There is a vast difference between over-production and under-consumption as economic terms and a still wider difference between the results of the two as affecting the interests and prosperity of the laboring, producing classes.

HARD WORK.

Our United Senators are doing some laborious work these days. The Senate is in session now for no other reason than to confirm the nominations sent to it by the President.

Poor things! If they had done their duty prior to the fourth of March and confirmed the nominations sent to them by ex-President Cleveland, and which they were each and all duty bound to do, the business of the Senate would now be closed.

The presidential appointment will keep right on grinding through the long summer months, as it probably will, until every mother's son of a politician has a good fat office.

A CANADIAN'S OPINION.

In the March number of The Forum is an interesting descriptive article on the "Dominion of Canada. It is from the pen of Prof. Schurman, of Cornell University, and is a well written and timely article.

The race questions, if unmitigated with partisan politics, would soon be solved; and when the present breed of sectional politicians dies off, and they will nearly all disappear before the beginning of the next century, the race problem, by being left for solution to the people directly interested, will be in the way of a permanent settlement.

EDITORIAL POINTS.

The new administration starts off admirably, says an exchange. Yes, it did. It started off by a Republican Senate hanging up 300 federal appointments made by Mr. Cleveland prior to the 4th of March.
