STATESVILLE LANDMARK

A Bold, Outspoken Democratic Paper After Our Own Heart.

We especially admire and approve of an editorial in yesterday's Statesville Landmark. Like all that its honest editor, Mr. Joseph P. Caldwell, ever says or writes, it is plain, straightforward, and to the point. It may be that we differ with Mr. Caldwell in some things, but far be it from us to attribute to him any other than honest views, or to threaten to "read him out," as the saying goes.

"Read the Landmark out of the Democratic party," quoth ye? Well, we have known some other men not nearly so able, but we hope as sincere as Mr. Caldwell, who were to be "read out" because forsooth, they saw fit to express an opinion on the expediency of certain measures during their pendency in the Legislature.

Mr. Caldwell ventured to dissent in opinion from Mr. Carlisle and Mr. Mills, and forthwith certain of our State papers, said he must be "read out of the party."

Who, we ask, is authorized to do this wholesale "reading out"? What does it mean that such men as Joe Caldwell are to be "read out"? We know him to be a straight-forward Democrat, no doubt more strict in his party views than some others, and perhaps appreciates more fully than they did, what was best for both his party and his nation.

The missions to Mexico, England and Spain are in reality the most important in the U. S. diplomatic service.
