

THE DAILY CITIZEN.

The Citizen is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper in Western North Carolina.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 1889.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, is mentioned as the probable German minister in place of the rejected Halstead.

Relatives intend contesting the will of James Rowan, of Louisville, who bequeathed his valuable estate to his former slaves.

Mrs. Sally McGill, the aged wife of a Union soldier, was murdered in Sevier county, Tenn., and robbed of $250 she had just drawn as a pension.

The Tennessee legislature has voted $10,000 to finish a Soldier's Home. The proposition to admit Union soldiers was voted down by a strict party vote.

It is reported that a pool or trust representing a capital of $200,000,000 will be established in the interest of the great electric light companies in the near future.

Atlanta is discussing the question of following the New Orleans example of giving policemen a life tenure during good behavior in order to keep them out of politics.

Ballot reform is meeting with much favor in the Missouri Legislature. A bill comprising the essential features of the Australian system has been favorably reported to the Senate, and will probably be adopted by both branches.

It is said that Payne will be a candidate for re-election to the Senate from Ohio, and it is suggested that Murat Halstead be put up against him to try the issue between them as to Payne's election by the use of money.

Joe Smith, a negro of Plummerville, Ark., who is said to have been working up the case, in connection with Pinkerton's detectives, of the assassins of John M. Clayton, has been shot and killed by a white man named Dan Anderson.

A Washington telegram to the Atlanta Constitution says that senator Colquitt's mixing up in the Republican scramble for offices has caused no end of indignation and the conduct of the distinguished Georgian has become common talk.

Mary Anderson sails from New York to-day for Europe, she having so far recovered as to be able to make the trip, and it being thought that change of air and scene will be beneficial to her. She will not attempt to appear on the stage for many months.

Suicides for which no reason can be discovered are now attributed to cigarette smoking. Such is the case assigned for the suicide of a young Memphis book-keeper. Would it not be well to prohibit the manufacture and sale of these deadly articles?

A man and his wife, aged seventy and seventy-five years respectively, walked from Bradford to Pittsburg, last week. They told a police official in the latter city that they were bound for St. Joe, Mo.; to a home with a daughter, and that they intended walking the entire distance.

Jay Gould, it is said, has submitted through Washington Davis, a railroad contractor, a proposition to hand over $11,000,000 in gold, with interest from 1889, if the Central Labor Union of New York will adopt a plan for co-operative industry proposed by Mr. Gould. There is a suspicion, however, that this announcement, having been made on the 1st of April, is in the nature of a joke.

The irrepressible Lester Tanner has been spanked early in his official career. The order of the Secretary of the Interior directing that no important removals be made in his department except by instruction of the Secretary is said to be a pointed rebuke aimed at Tanner, who has been boasting of the clean sweep he intended to make, and who had to be chained down in his efforts to reorganize the pension office during the first week of his administration.

It is announced from Ohio that the Payne and Thurman factions, which have been at war for many years, have decided to bury the hatchet, and as a result Mr. Allen W. Thurman, son of Judge Allen G. Thurman, is to receive the Democratic nomination for Governor, and Hon. Henry B. Payne is to be returned to the United States Senate, should the Democrats secure a majority in the Ohio legislature at the election next November.

Printers Ink, issued by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, the celebrated advertising agents, says: "There are only six papers in the country to-day having each a circulation exceeding 100,000 copies daily. They are the Chicago News, the Boston Globe and Herald, the New York News and World, The Philadelphia Record. Only one of these—the Record—is a morning paper; one—the New York News—is an evening paper; while four—the Boston Globe and Herald, the New York World and the Chicago News—are morning and evening."

New Spring Styles.

By an inspection of the immense stock of Dress Goods at the establishment of Bostic Bros. & Wright, you will be impressed with the remarkable amount of common sense displayed by this firm in putting upon this market so early in the season the newest styles of Spring and Summer fabrics.

THE MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION LAW.

Among the provisions of the Massachusetts election law, recently adopted, and which is the Australian system with modifications, are the following: "When the ballots are printed and officially authenticated, they are folded and placed in the names of all the candidates for the different offices being on one ballot."

These provisions are designed to enable the voter to cast his ballot without the bias of any influence whatever beyond his own convictions. They are probably not very well calculated to facilitate the workings of the "floaters-in-blocks-of-five" system, nor especially adapted to citizens who are equally without convictions and the capacity to read print.

Health Statistics and Immigration.

North Carolina is not only one of the richest and most progressive of the Southern States, but she takes care not to hide her light under a bushel. She is generally well represented at every great national or international gathering, whether commercial, manufacturing, scientific or literary.

ESTABROOK'S,

22 S. Main Street. The greatest variety of nice goods, such as Books, Stationery, Fancy Goods, Toys, Paintings, Engravings, Frames, Western North Carolina Views, Novelties, Etc., Etc.

Everyone is pleased and all satisfied with what they buy at this place. Their stock is of the best and prices always reasonable. Business men will find the largest and best line of Blank Books and Office Stationery in W. N. C.

Annie Didd's Pen the Pigs.

Through the half open door in the hotel Ann the merrier of a low, musical voice floated into the hallway. The door opened into an elegant apartment decorated with rich drapery and bijouterie that gave the place an air of voluptuous refinement.

GRANT'S DRUG STORE,
