

A DOUBLE MURDER.

MOTHER AND CHILD KILLED AND BURIED.

And the Father Barely Escapes—A Bloodthirsty Villain's Method of Ridding Himself of Uncongenial Tenants in Oregon.

EMPIRE CITY, Oregon, July 15.—Mrs. Eatenhower and child were brutally murdered on the farm of John Gilman near Coquette City, Thursday night, and buried in a gulch near the house where they were found to-day.

The husband was working up the river, returning home Saturday.

They were tenants of Gilman, who wanted them to leave, which they refused until their lease expired.

After the murder of the wife and child, Gilman laid in wait Saturday and attacked Eatenhower on his approach to his home, but he escaped and gave the alarm, which resulted in the discovery to-day of the remains of the wife and child and a ready-made grave for the husband.

Gilman and his wife were arrested and may be lynched.

Lynchings a Negro Murderer.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 15.—Yesterday morning Swan Burns, a negro charged with the murder of a young white man, Whitehurst, was lynched at Luka, Miss. A mob of 100 men forced the jailer to give up his keys and took Burns a short distance away and hanged him to a tree. One night last week Whitehurst started from Tusculuma for Burnsville on a freight train. The conductor and his two brakemen raised a difficulty with Whitehurst which resulted in his death. The proof showed that the conductor and Burns, one of the brakemen, shot Whitehurst and then threw him off the train where the wheels would pass over his body, that they might conceal their crime.

Strike Ended.

WESTBURY, Mass., July 15.—The workmen at Geo. B. Brigham & Sons shoe and boot factory, who have been on a strike for the past three weeks, resumed work to-day by order of the local assembly K. of L., which acted on the advice of the State Board of Arbitration. They return at old wages. The firm agrees to settle the differences with the men, individually or by arbitration.

The Pope's Reception.

ROME, July 15.—The Pope gave a reception to the cardinals and diplomats to-day. The reception lasted four hours, and during the entire period His Holiness continued to extend greetings and converse with his guests. The Pope will remove to-morrow to his residence in the Garden Casino, and audiences will be suspended until further notice.

Paper Charged Hands.

DURHAM, N. C., July 15.—Arrangements have been completed for merging the Evening Tobacco Plant in a new morning paper, representing 45 companies. Edward A. Oldham, a well known journalist, has resigned his position as editor of the Charlotte World and will assume complete control of the new paper. The Globe will publish the Associated Press dispatches.

Noted Hotel Proprietor Dead.

WINCHESTER, Va., July 15.—E. C. Jordan, well known throughout the United States as the proprietor of the Jordan White Sulphur Springs, in this county, died this morning. He was bitten in the hand by a pet squirrel two months ago, and blood poison set in. His arm was amputated Friday.

Compulsory Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 15.—A hundred military men, representing 45 companies of State militia, met here to-day and memorialized the Legislature urging the passage of a law making one year's military service compulsory.

Mississippi Democrats.

JACKSON, Miss., July 15.—The Democratic State nominating convention, which meets here to-morrow will be the largest ever held in this State. Some counties entitled to only six votes have sent as many as fifty delegates.

Henry Naval Appropriation.

PARIS, July 15.—The Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 461 to 120 to-day approved the bill providing for a credit of 38,000,000 francs spread over five years for building of war ships.

More Storms.

HARRISONBURG, Va., July 15.—This section was visited last evening by a severe hail and rain storm doing much damage in parts of the county. Corn is ruined and land badly washed.

A DRAWN BATTLE.

The Old Veterans Charge Col. Anthony's Regiment.

Wilmington Review.

The Veterans were on line yesterday at the camp and the parade and the honors shown them were the most pleasant feature of the day. But there was one thing that was not on the bills, at least not exactly as it occurred, and that was a collision between the two lines, the troops and the Veterans. It has been understood that a bayonet charge would be made on the Confederate line by the Fourth Regiment, Col. Anthony's, who were in blue uniforms, the line to be halted about 20 feet from the old Vets. On they came in fine style, with pieces at the charge, and bayonets fixed, and at double quick, but somehow Gen. Anthony neglected to give the order to halt. Seeing that they were about to close with his line Col. DeRosset gave the order to the Vets to advance and meet the charge. With a yell and a former foe the veterans of the Potomac, and the old Regulars of the James rivers, the heroes of the Lost Cause sprang forward to meet the "foe." They met them and the shock was great. The two lines became mixed. The troops opened and nearly all of the old Vets were on the ground. Some got red war blood up to the neck, and some of the pieces which the troops held. Several of these were captured before the lines could become fully separated. Some got mad—almost fighting mad—but this was unnecessary; one or two got a bayonet scratch and that was all of the harm done. Afterwards the old boys and the young boys mingled in friendly converse and the youngsters could not but express their admiration of the grit of their seniors. As it was it was not an unpleasant incident and served to illustrate the pluck of the North Carolina soldiers. Both lines showed a determination to succeed in the deadly miment, and the result was—well, a drawn battle, with no losers needed to carry the wounded to the rear and the surgeons all out of a job.

The Sioux Commission.

CHICAGO, July 15.—A dispatch from Fort Bennett, Dak., says: Gen. Crook, speaking of the Sioux commission, expressed his belief that the requisite number of names would be secured. The commission, he said, had been in the reservation eight days, and had secured nearly 2,500 signatures, and only about 1,500 more were needed. Of the 2,100 Indians who have not yet signed, only a few hundred were reported hostile; and information from Rosebud, Pineridge, Lower Brule and Crow Creek is to the effect that the additional signatures are being secured and the work is being done in place arounding up the necessary three-fourths, and they will more than get these at Crow Creek. The commission fully expects to succeed, and is determined to go over the ground thoroughly if necessary. It expects to have the required three-fourths in sixty days from the time it had its first council unless it strikes an unknown and unexpected snag.

The Session Closed.

PARIS, July 15.—The Senate adopted the budget in the form which it was passed by the Chamber of Deputies. The bill for the defence of ports and the bill for additional warships were referred to a committee, and the Senate adjourned till 9 o'clock, and passed the amnesty bill.

President Melme then read the decree closing the session. Fifteen minutes later the Senate resumed, when Vice President Humbert, who was in the chair, announced that the Chamber having decreed a close of the session without modifying the Senate the latter body was no longer competent to deliberate.

Premier Tirard contested the correctness of this view, but Humbert read extracts from the constitution in support of his position and declined to listen to the Senators who wished to speak. The bill ought to be passed. Finally, amid intense excitement, the decree was read closing the session.

Death of a Prominent Man.

LEXINGTON, Va., July 15.—Col. Charles H. Locke, who died suddenly at Balcony Falls, in this county, Sunday evening of heart disease. He formed the famous James river cement works at Balcony Falls many years ago and was one of the heavy contractors for building the James river and Kanawha canal, and at one time a merchant of Baltimore, Md. During the war he supervised the iron works of the Confederacy at Lynchburg. He was a native of Punktown, a leading Mason and well known in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington and all Virginia cities.

International Socialist Congress.

PARIS, July 15.—The Senate passed the multiple candidate bill to-day by a vote of 213 to 64. The international socialist congress was opened in Paris to-day. There are present 188 French and 189 foreign delegates. Of the latter, 82 are members of the executive committee of the German Reichstag. Leibknecht, who is one of the Reichstag representation addressed the Congress. He declared that working Germany and working France were united in this Congress. It was not a theatrical union; on the contrary, it would result in an alliance which would exercise an influence throughout the world.

A Murderer Recognized.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 15.—This afternoon United States Marshal Storm, and deputy Thomas J. Lyon went to the county jail to see if they could identify Rev. E. Fleming as John Yedell, the alleged South Carolina murderer. Warden Bolton got all the colored prisoners in the jail fixed up with their hats on and marched them in front of the bars in a row facing the officers. The officers stopped a moment and looked along the line and went at once up to Fleming and took hold of his hand. The officers expect no trouble in securing their man when the habeas corpus proceedings are on.

Assignment at Staunton.

STAUNTON, Va., July 15.—James A. Patterson, Jr., of Fayetteville, received an assignment to-day to A. C. Braxton, an attorney of Staunton. His assets are over $60,000, and the debts less than $10,000. Patterson owned and operated the largest flouring mill in the valley and did a large business. He has left the country, and was a prominent and influential citizen and chairman of the Democratic county committee.

No Conference.

LONDON, July 15.—There was no conference to-day between Parnell's counsel, who are expected to appear in the Commission court to-morrow as heretofore.

STORMS IN THE WEST.

STARTLING FREAKS OF ELECTRICITY IN INDIANA.

An Ohio Village is Considerably Damaged by a Young Cyclone—Heavy Loss of Life Reported From Hamilton, Ohio.

CHICAGO, July 15.—A special dispatch from Hamilton, Ohio, says: This city was visited by a heavy rain and wind storm yesterday afternoon, doing much damage. About ten o'clock last night when the power at the electric light station for street illumination was turned on, numbers of the wires which had been blown down charged buildings and pools of water in the street with electricity. Fire not high was emitted in places, causing an alarm to be sounded. The fire department responded; and being unaware of the condition of things, rushed into what was almost sudden death. Horses and firemen were knocked down alike by electricity, others rushing into the building that was violently down. Citizens rushed to the station and met a similar fate and excitement ran high. A messenger hastened to the station and had the electric power shut off, and then the work of rescuing victims. A dozen or more men were found unconscious, but their lives were saved by laying upon the wet ground. Several firemen are yet in a precarious condition.

DESTRUCTIVE WINDSTORM.

Reported Loss of Life and Limb in Butler County, Ohio.

CINCINNATI, O., July 15.—A wind storm which nearly demolished the village of Princeton, in Butler county, came about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Before reaching Princeton it blew the roof off of the barn of John Stinson, throwing it into a cornfield some distance away. The dwelling house of Pinky Whitehead, in Princeton, was carried away, and his wagon making shop near by was demolished. A large brick oven in the village was torn down to the foundations, and the rafters of the house carried two hundred yards by the force of the wind, and lodged on top of a large oak tree, while desks and other furniture were scattered in every direction and the blacksmith shop of Gus Semmer was both leveled to the ground. The house of John Leonard, Rose Miller and Stephens Clawson were completely wrecked, while B. H. Walter lost everything he possessed. The oats and corn crop were ruined, and the village was deluged with water. The destruction at Princeton occurred in twenty minutes. The storm was accompanied by a heavy rain fall. The homeless families were taken in by neighbors whose homes escaped the fury of the tempest.

A report received last night from Hamilton says that fifty people were killed or injured, but this has not yet been confirmed.

The Braidwood Mining Troubles.

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., July 15.—About 7,200 miners formerly employed at the Godley mine went to work Saturday morning. The sheriff received a report that a hundred or more of the strikers are on the way to intercept the men and started for the scene with a posse. Coming up to the strikers he called upon them to disperse, and on their refusing the posse fired revolvers. One striker had his skull fractured by a ball which he received a serious scalp wound. The deputies charged the crowd and put them to flight. Witnesses of the affair claim that the officer was too hasty, but the officer says he intended his men to fire in the air. It is understood that the troubles of the miners will probably be submitted to arbitration to-day. No blood is feared as a result of Saturday's shooting.

What is That Among so Many?

BRAZIL, Ind., July 15.—The executive committee of the miners disbursed Saturday $256, among 5,839 dependents. The dependents have increased by 75 since Wednesday and the relief fund has decreased $300 since that date. Of 25 towns and cities, contribution to the relief fund, 217 mining centres in Hocking Valley, Ohio, were represented, with one in West Virginia and one in Missouri. The latter two States give $19 only. Hocking Valley coal is competing with Indiana black and white. With one hand, operators and miners there are bestowing charity; with the other they are rapidly filling contracts for Indiana black coal with Hocking Valley coal. In a few days, if they can keep the strike, long, they will have captured the year's trade.

Fatal Blow at a Picnic.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 15.—At a picnic at Ream run, on the Ohio river, yesterday Jacob Francis, a wealthy farmer, was assaulted by John and James Rowland and Thomas Cook. Francis' friends took part, and a pitched battle ensued, knives, revolvers and stones being used freely. Francis was stabbed three times in the back, and terribly beaten about the head. His injuries are fatal. One of the Rowlands was shot in the arm, and Cook's skull was fractured with a club. Others of the party received serious, but not fatal, injuries. Cook and the Rowlands were desperate characters. The fight grew out of a family feud.

In Uniforms of Gray.

The Asheville police have decided to abandon the blue uniforms, and will hereafter wear natty suits of Confederate gray. This decision meets with the approval of the police committee of the City Council, and the gray uniforms have been ordered. The reason for the change lies in the fact that the street car line employees, hotel porters and waiters all wear blue uniforms and badges, and the policemen are not known by strangers to be officers of the law simply from their blue clothes and badges. The change is a good one, and the effect will be pleasing.

Death of an Amiable Young Man.

A note from a friend brings us the sad intelligence of the death of a young gentleman, Mr. Chas. M. Norvell, known to many here, and well known and respected at Waynesville, at which place he died on Sunday night at 11.15, after a brief illness. He was well known throughout Western North Carolina, being a commercial traveller for Stern & Co., of Richmond, Va. Mr. Norvell and his brother, has been for some years a well known and most respected citizen of Waynesville. The remains of the deceased was taken to Smithville, Va., last evening.

THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

The Faculty Recently Appointed by the Trustees.

Ex-Governor Jarvis having declined to accept the presidency of the new State Agricultural and Mechanical College, at Raleigh, leaves that institution, so far, without a head. The faculty as appointed by the Board of Trustees with the single exception of president is as follows:

Prof. of Agriculture, Live Stock and Dairying, Mr. J. E. Chamberlain, of Cornell University, now of the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station.

Prof. of Horticulture, Arboriculture and Botany, Mr. W. F. Massey, of the Miller Manual School, of Virginia.

Prof. of Chemistry—pure and agricultural—Mr. W. A. Withers, of Cornell University, formerly of N. C. Experiment Station.

Prof. of English and Bookkeeping, Mr. D. H. Hill, jr. (son of Gen'l D. H. Hill), now Prof. of English in the Military and Agricultural College of Central, Ga.

Prof. of Practical Mechanics and Mathematics—pure and applied—Mr. J. H. Kinley, of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Foreman of Farms and Garden, Mr. B. S. Skinner, of Hertford county.

Steward, Mr. J. N. Hubbard, of Wake.

Matron, Mrs. Susan C. Carrell, of Harrell's Store, Sampson county, N. C.

The State Press.

The Wilmington Messenger has the following kindly reflections on the press of North Carolina:

"We like to see members of the editorial guild warmly and sincerely recognizing each other's qualities. A petty jealousy is contemptible and unworthy of a noble nature. Although surely one of the oldest editors in North Carolina, there is no man who goes before us in hearty recognition of the ability and usefulness of the younger members of the fourth estate. We are always gratified when we see a new brain at work in the State press giving promise of high gifts and influence. We have always been prompt to do justice to the ablest men we have known in North Carolina journalism, and have spoken cordial words whenever in order—men like the two Hales, Holden, Gales, Saunders, J. D. Cameron, Creecy, J. W. Cameron, J. D. Hatham, J. H. Mills and others. We never knew the pang of jealousy and we hope we may never feel it."

Umbrellas.

Keep off the sun and they shed off the rain, useful, and also harmless when properly held, but when carried across the shoulder, like the soldier's "right shoulder shift," they cease to be useful, and become offensive, in fact a dangerous nuisance, for the holders have no consideration for others, and take in a whole sidewalk at a sweep. One has to get out of the way, dodge to save his eye, and the holder of the umbragous weapon sails along in cool indifference to the safety or convenience of others. The ethics of good manners ought to regulate these things. A well bred or considerate person would not willingly run squarely into another person meeting him or her. Good breeding suggests the same consideration in holding the umbrella. Its position should be erect. It then answers its proper uses and imperis no eyes, and allows a fair subdivision of the sidewalk.

A Valuable Publication.

The Centennial Catalogue of the University of North Carolina, published July, 1889, contains: 1. Historical Sketches of the University, by President Battle; 2. Officers, trustees and faculty, 1789-1889; 3. An alphabetical catalogue of students, 1795-1889, with dates, degrees, occupations, addresses, etc., prepared by Mrs. C. P. Spencer; 4. Honorary degrees; 5. Eleven full page views of buildings, society halls, etc.

The Catalogue is a handsome publication of more than 200 pages. The edition is limited. Copies will be sent post paid on receipt of 50 cents by W. T. Patterson, Bursar, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Consecration of the Roman Catholic Chapel.

A large congregation filled the Roman Catholic Chapel on Haywood street, Sunday morning, to witness its consecration. This impressive ceremony was performed by Bishop Haid, assisted in the services by three attendant priests. The sermon was preached by the Bishop, and was mainly devoted to an explanation of many of the usages and ceremonies of the Roman Catholic church. The larger portion of the congregation being non-Catholics, the sermon was instructive and of special interest.

Judson College.

Mr. Richard H. Lewis, A. M. M. D., formerly principal of Kinston College, this State, has accepted the position of president of Judson College, Hendersonville. Mr. Lewis is a graduate of the State University and also of the University of Pennsylvania, and has been connected with educational work in the State for the past twenty-five years, having been co-principal of St. John's College, Oxford, N. C., lecturer for four years in the State University on physiology and hygiene.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Indications for North Carolina—Fair, except showers in eastern portion.

OAKLAND INSTITUTE.

NOBLE SACRIFICE OF INTEREST TO LOFTY PRINCIPLE.

An Institution that Cultivates the Mind, Provides all Weapons for Life's Battle, and Gives the Body Graceful, Healthful Training.

A year ago the Oakland Inn, in Victoria, on the south side of Asheville, and a little more than a mile from the court house, was opened under fine auspices. It was a beautiful building of the most ornate and picturesque Queen Anne style, situated on ground for which nature seemed to have predestined it, a hill sloping away gradually on every side, so gentle as to admit easy approach from the main roads from which was remote enough for perfect seclusion, yet near so high as to give perfect command in all directions to wide prospects, superb and beautiful, of valley extending up and down the French Broad and Swannanoa rivers and of Hominy creek; of mountains close at hand vivid in all the brightness of living green, or of mountain peak or chain fading away into the delicate blue of a distance; of city and mansion, of valley and field and herds and flock, and the peaceful farm house embosomed in its orchard or its groves. Around the hotel were its shades and its grassy lawns and its winding walks; and every external proclaimed the ideal of a quiet, yet elegant hotel. For within, neither cost, nor taste, nor judgment has been spared to make art worthy of the liberality of surrounding nature. Every appliance of comfort, every demand of convenience, every call of luxury was profusely supplied. Water, cold and pure was introduced every where through the house, was introduced fresh from ample basin which received copious uncontaminated springs a few hundred yards from the green valley below; electric lights, through hall and passages, parlors and chambers, made darkness hide itself, furnaces distributed a genial and equable heat everywhere; cool or warm bath refreshed the weary or gave vigor to the strong; elegant parlors, capacious dining rooms, large and comfortable chambers invited to comfort, to social pleasure or to rest; and the Oakland Inn, as a hotel, was the peer of any rival.

FOLKS YOU KNOW.

Who They Are; Where They Are, and What They Are Doing.

Mr. J. A. Porter has returned to the city from a business trip East.

Judge J. G. Bynum of Morganton, N. C., is at the Swannanoa Hotel.

Prof. R. T. Grinnan, of the famous Bingham school, is at the Swannanoa.

Hon. Chas. Price U. S. district attorney, of Salisbury, is at the Battery Park Hotel.

Rev. Leo Haid, O. S. B., left yesterday for the Benedictine monastery at Belmont.

Prof. P. P. Claxton left yesterday for Nashville, Tenn., to attend the National Teachers' Convention.

Prof. E. P. Mangum began his summer school in the Orange street school building yesterday morning.

Mr. Fred E. Rolfe, local editor of THE CITIZEN, has gone to Hot Springs for a few days to obtain a much needed rest.

Mr. J. E. Rankin was seriously ill Sunday night but was much better yesterday and able to be at his desk at the Western Carolina Bank.

Mrs. Platt, of Franklin, N. C., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Troy, for the past two weeks, and leaves to-day for a two months visit in New York.

Mr. Chas. Campbell, of Dallas, Gaston county, is here for a few days. Mr. C. is a son of Chas. H. Campbell, Esq., of this city, and has many friends here.

Superintendent Geo. H. Walker, of the Asheville Furniture and Lumber Company, will leave for Cincinnati to-day on business connected with his enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pulliam and family, and Miss Minnie Bearden, who have been camping out for a few days on Gouche's Peak returned to the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weaver, Misses Weaver, Fagg and Knuff and the Misses Harris, Messrs. D. F. Herndon, F. M. Weaver and P. A. McElroy leave to-day for Caesar's Head to begone several days.

We had a visit yesterday from Mr. Wm. Murdoch, whose fortunes have been connected with the railroads of North Carolina—the N. C. and W. N. C.—ever since the first rails were laid on either. The association has been mutually useful and pleasant. Mr. Murdoch is on a visit of fortnight or so to Asheville and this section generally.

The Springfield (Ohio) Saturday Journal says:

"Col. A. W. Butt, Wm. Edmiston and Joe Heflinger, all well known Springfield capitalists, have organized a lumber company in Asheville, North Carolina, with a capital stock of $100,000. Prominent citizens of that place are also stockholders. Col. Butt is president and Mr. Edmiston secretary and manager. The company expects to commence operations July 1 on an extensive scale. Mr. Edmiston arrived home from the South last evening."

Prof. C. D. Smith returned from a visit to Raleigh on Sunday morning. As a member of the Board, he was in attendance at the organization of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, the particulars of which are given elsewhere in this issue. He much regrets the declination of Gov. Jarvis of the office of president of the college, which was urged upon him by private solicitation and confirmed by the unanimous action of the board. After failing to overcome the scruples or objections of Gov. Jarvis, Dr. Smith says the board agreed at once to make no further present effort to fill the office by election out of other aspirants than before it, but to submit the decision to public opinion to be created by a discussion of the question now first fully brought before it.

The Grison Case.

We had nothing to say about this case. The nature of the testimony revealed at the very beginning; and we think the most judicious of our readers have approved the course we took. The testimony with all its offensive sensation, and with much that was not offensive, is at an end. We take the following from the Charlotte Chronicle, which supplies all the information now needed:

RALEIGH, N. C., July 13.—The evidence in the Grison investigation closed to-day, and the board of directors passed a resolution to subpoena Dr. F. T. Fuller, Assistant Physician, to appear on the stand he having never been summoned by either side. He will appear Monday, and after he has testified, argument by counsel will begin.

"The board decided to-day that the defence should be entitled to the opening speech and the prosecution to the closing. Col. A. M. Waddell and Mr. Speir Whitaker will both speak for the prosecution, and it is understood that speeches will be made for the defence by Col. T. C. Fuller, ex-Gov. Jarvis, and Hon. C. M. Cooke. Some of the finest oratory ever heard in Raleigh is expected."

One thing we omitted in its proper order. A large addition has been necessary to the original structure; and an addition 80x50 feet, to be five stories high when finished, is now being rapidly erected. The ground floor of this, to be used as a gymnasium, physical training being a pronounced feature of the institution; and this room, lofty in ceiling, light and airy, will give ample room for all suitable feminine exercises. Above that

DISTRIBUTING THE FUNDS.

JOHNSTOWN CHARITY TO BE EQUITABLY DISPOSED OF.

The Sufferers Divided Into Five Classes, and to be Paid According to the Losses Sustained—Two More Bodies Found.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 15.—The board of inquiry met to-day, and issued orders for the relief to those entitled to it. The commission at the request of the sufferers as 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, and recommended that immediate payment be made to classes 1, 2 and 3, requiring $496,000. Classes 4 and 5 would require $686,000. As the commission only appropriated $500,000, without intimating when another distribution would be made, the board determined to apportion $500,000 among the five classes, instead of 3 classes, as at first proposed. According to they will be paid on the following basis: Class 1 will get $600; class 2, $400; class 3, $200; class 4, $123, and class 5, $80. All of the money to-day.

Judge Cummin will devote one day to the awards in each ward. To-morrow those in the 4th ward will receive orders and soon throughout the city. Before paying out any money the judge for some purpose of his own will require each person to be qualified to his or her loss.

The meeting of delegates on the question of consolidation was held to-day. Each delegate had canvassed his borough and the reports were nearly all favorable to the project. The board of trade also favored the plan. Col. John Linton was elected chairman, and the question will be placed before the people at the next election.

The board of trade to-day endorsed the action of the citizens' meeting of Saturday, and among other resolutions adopted the valley to unite in an appeal to the general government for aid in restoring the water ways in the Comee-mough valley to sufficient width to carry off all water, and that their beds be dredged and all obstructions to the natural flow of water in all seasons be removed.

Two bodies were found near the Morrell institute to-day.

RANDOM NOTES.

Kept In by Rambling Reporters Roaming Around the City.

The Pythian brotherhood was in session last night.

Two offenders were fined $3 each in the police court yesterday.

There will be a German at the Battery Park Hotel to-night.

The Good Templars will hold their regular weekly meeting this evening.

Marriage license was yesterday issued to E. F. Harper and Minerva Freeman.

The telephone exchange was opened for business yesterday morning. The service is excellent.

A special train of Memphis people bound for Morehead City will pass through the city to-morrow.

The News is the name of a weekly paper just started at Statesville by H. H. Crowson. It is non-partisan in politics.

The next session of the criminal court will be held in this city next week, commencing Monday. The docket is heavy.

A large crowd of people witnessed Rev. R. P. Kumley's administration of the baptismal rite at Smith's bridge Sunday afternoon.

The dedication services at St. Lawrence Catholic chapel Sunday morning were largely attended; and Bishop Haid's sermon was pronounced an able effort.

Abundant showers having fallen daily for several days past, clear sunshine is in order now, or there will be some grumbling in the city about mud and in the country about grass.

There are three times as many guests at the Battery Park hotel as there were last year at this time. The prospects are that there will be a greater number of visitors here this summer than ever.

Considerable complaint has been made of the condition of Patton avenue in front of the Buncombe warehouse. The street was torn up by the Electric Street Railway Company in changing their track and has not since been put in order.

Yesterday afternoon while passing Mr. W. T. Reynold's brickyard, Mr. Walter Spears was struck by some dirt that several boys were throwing at one another. Picking up a brick but Mr. Spears threw it at them, striking Will Smith, a colored boy, on the head, cutting the skin three or four inches, and slightly fracturing the skull.

A Suggestive Relic.

We had occasion the other day to recall incidentally the stirring times of 1840—the days of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." We have temporarily in our possession something that fixes these times as a living reality. It is a badge worn at the Young Men's National Whig Convention, May 14th, 1840. The "Hero of Tippecanoe," mounted on his war horse, is represented, on a medallion, surrounded by the folds of the national flag, and other national emblems, as in the act of making a charge, sword extended, on the ranks of the enemy, emblematic of the effective charge on his political enemy in the ensuing campaign. Beneath are the campaign emblems, chief of which is the famous log cabin.

The badge was exhibited at the Raleigh exposition in October 1884 by Mr. John B. Worsley, then of Greenville, Pitt county, now a resident of Asheville,
