THE ELIXIR IN ATLANTA.

Test Trials Upon Prominent Citizens Yesterday.
ATLANTA, Ga., August 14.—Browne Shepard's life elixir was tried last night on Col. Isaac W. Avery, a prominent journalist, and for years editor of the Atlanta Constitution. Col. Avery has suffered from worms received during the war, and last winter was run over by a cab in Washington. He is suffering from partial paralysis. Dr. E. H. Greene tried the remedy on him, first taking an injection himself. Col. Avery has experienced no remarkable effects, the only thing noticeable being a stupor like that resulting from opiate. Dr. Greene has high fever and has been sick all day, but is better to-night.

HEREAFTER

We will run two delivery wagons. The necessity for this has been caused by our largely increasing trade, making it impossible to deliver with one wagon. There have been complaints (and justly, too) by some of our customers at not having goods delivered more promptly. With our additional facilities for delivery we hope to increase our already large trade, and promise to meet all competition. Our stock, as heretofore, will be kept up to the highest standard in quality. All goods sold by us guaranteed to be as represented, both in weights and quality.
