THE HERMIT'S REVERIE.

A dim gleam through a wintry sky
When far the long, low stretch of level sand
Whence to eternity
Up to the silences of an unknown land
For in the glories of a dream solution
I live beyond the hours of ebbing time
Vain words of sympathy, hopes and woe
When good resolution onward hurs the soul
What hope is left when gained the goal?
Only a yearning for the great and true
That still beyond in radiance afar
Silence and solitude have left a peace
Upon the vast expanse of sky and sea
From turbulence and strife a sweet release
Visions of untold love and sympathy
For in the windows of my memory's rest
There is a vision of divinely best
This is my world-wide, unmeasured realm
Steps in splendor in the even tide
And deathless me seem my rocky home
Where winds and rains in reverie abide
But when for far from frame or earthly night
I sense, the angels' harpings of light

OUR LOVE STORY.

"We had been so happy!" I kept saying to myself—"We had been so happy!" And now it was all over—everything was over for me. He would take what he had chosen instead; but—

I burst into tears as I sat on the rock by the spring where we had met so often—where I was waiting for him now—but I never faltered in saying to myself: "We must part. He is neither true to me nor to heaven—we must part."
And what was he? Only the village doctor—Benjamin Rue. And what was I? Only a little school teacher. Our united incomes were far less than anything that the vicarages of society papers declare it was possible to marry on. But we had no fear. He was winning his way, and we loved each other; and as I began by saying, we had been very happy.

But there had come to Johnston, where we lived, a lady of wealth, who gathered about her a certain little clique of scornful, stylish people. They were openly inlaid in opinion all that I had been doing at all. All this would have been nothing to me in my school-room, but now I was to be noticed in the handsome dresses of the ladies when they walked out or rode with their attendant cavaliers, and never have asked what their opinions were, but that soon after their arrival Mrs. Norland was taken ill and sent for Dr. Rue. Ben was handsome, well read, full of bright fancies, and ready to enjoy himself at any time. He relieved the lady of the pain she suffered, and became the family doctor at once. It was a step toward success. Naturally, he did not turn a cold shoulder to his patron when they offered him social invitations.

From the first he was fascinated by the freedom from restraint in thought and action that prevailed in the house. No doubt I was strait laced, but what he thought delightful I thought wrong. It seemed to me, from what he said, that Mrs. Norland was a very immoral woman. Certainly she had no religion whatever. When I saw Ben gradually forsaking all I so cling to, when he refused to go to church with me, and began to beg me not to go, when he said, openly, that when we were married I must give all that up; when, at last, he began to deny the existence of a Deity, and say, as they did at the Norlands, that man had no soul, that all could here, and that to be happy while we lived should be our only object, my heart sunk within me. I loved him so dearly that I was quite willing to marry him if he would let me go on in my own way. I believed that my influence and perhaps my prayers might win him back to heaven.
A young man with good principles would surely do what was right at last. But when he began to talk of forbidding me to listen to the good words I heard in church, or even to kneel in prayer at home, I felt that I should do wrong to promise to obey him, and that there could be no hope for a home divided against itself.

I shall not tell you what particular sect I belonged to—that does not matter. All Christians worship God and try to follow Jesus; and still hoping that by the light of love for me, give me my own way, I could hardly have broken with him—such is the weakness of woman's heart—but that takes reached out that made me feel that he was not true to me.
It was hard for a girl to speak of such a thing as the bequilling of her lover's heart by a wicked married woman; but I had no one to speak for me, and with my first word we quarrelled. He called me an old-fashioned little Pharisee, and said that my husband would be a slave if I had my way—a slave to superstitions of all sorts, that he was a man, and knew what was right and best; that I need not think that he should never look at a pretty face or take a glass of wine with a friend.
At the moment he was flushed with what he had been drinking at the Norlands. He said more than he meant, no doubt, but it spurred me on to do what I had resolved to do, and at last I said: "Benjamin Rue, just here where we now sit I promised to marry you; here I take back that promise. We should only make each other wretched for life."
All he answered was:
"No doubt you are right."
And then I took my ring from my finger and gave it to him. He turned away, and I heard his feet amongst the rustling autumn leaves long after I could see him. And it was all over—all over! And then I lived I wept and wished that I could die just there where I had been so happy.
Time passed, and I grew used to it. As for Ben, he got on well. Fashionable people "called him in." In fact, he was the fashionable doctor of the place, and had an office in the handsomest portion of the town. For my part, I kept my school, and boarded with the motherly old widow who had been kind to me when I first came to the place a stranger.
My happiest day was the Sabbath.

A Little Girl's Mistake.
Little Lizzie may not have made such a mistake after all, when she told her playmate that mamma was ever so much better since she began taking "Golden Medical Discovery." Lizzie meant Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but many a restless sufferer has felt that the discoverer was worthy of a golden medal. Better than all the medals is the consciousness that thousands of cases of Consumption, "Liver Complaint," Kidney Diseases, and diseases of the blood, have been cured by it. Lizzie's mamma was one of a countless army who have learned by experience the virtues of the "Discovery" for diseased livers and consequent impure blood. It cures all Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous Affections, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, Boils and kindred ailments. It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will benefit or cure in all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

"Well, summer's over at last," remarked a man who came in. "Yes, I think it is; I notice you left the door open."

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

Give the Children a Chance.
There is something radically wrong with the health of a child when it seems listless, has no or no appetite, eyes sunken and with dark skin beneath. In most cases showing these symptoms the child has worms, and all that it needs is some simple remedy, such as Hart's Worm Cream, to expel the worms, and the child will soon be in perfect health again. Parents, try it and let your little ones have a fair chance for life.

A man with a bee in his bonnet should be sure of a lively hood.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cts.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by P. L. Jacobs. drow

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourne, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE."

If you are all run down—have no strength, no energy, and feel very tired all the time—take Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla. It will impart strength and vitality to your system.

"It will be better for me in the long run," remarked the cashier, as he lumped himself for the Dominion.

The blood must be pure for the body to be in perfect condition. Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood and imparts the rich bloom of health and vigor to the whole body.

"A house divided against itself cannot stand." The same thing seems to be the matter with the divided skirt.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts., and $1.
SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth.

After a Nevada man had sold a rocky piece of land for a song a silver lode was discovered there. He didn't know it was a lode-od.

"I hear your husband has been out shooting. Did he have any luck?" asked Mrs. Fitzroy of Mrs. Shildress. "Oh, yes; he had luck, if you please to call it so. He saved two fingers of his right hand."

She—(at the piano)—Listen! How do you enjoy this refrain? He—Very much. The more you refrain the better I like it.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cts.
SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis.

A conveyance of real estate signed on Sunday is not legal, and yet we were always taught to believe that "the better the day, the better the deed."

Advice to Mothers.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pains, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

Cobbwiger. When your wife found three pool tickets in your pocket did she say anything before she threw them in the fire? Brown—Yes. She asked if any of them were winners.

S.S.S.

Mrs. Geo. P. Smoot, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 25, 1892: "During the summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver were distressingly deranged. Nothing I ate or drank did me any good. I took cholera medicine, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, but the medicines administered by them never did me any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. In May, 1888, I became disgusted with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all and depended solely on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now."
