

WASHINGTON LETTER.

MR. HARRISON SAYS IT WAS NO REBUKE.

Ellis Says It Was Spite—Ex-Secretary Hayard's Marriage—The President Likely to Visit Wilmington—Other Matters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 7. The result of the election is a surprise to even the most sanguine Democrat here. Mahone, backed by the administration and the republican executive committee, staked a great deal on the issue. If he had won, he intended to try to get on the national ticket as the party's candidate for the Vice Presidency.

The long expected and much talked of marriage of ex-Secretary Hayard and Miss Mary Clynor will occur tomorrow. At the last moment the plans have been changed, and the wedding will take place at the residence of the bride's mother 1617 H street, instead of at St. John's church as previously announced.

The inter-State commerce commission has granted leave to the complainant to amend his petition by substituting Richmond and Danville Railroad Company in place of the Piedmont Air Line as defendant. The complaint has been amended accordingly, and a hearing of the case, originally set for today, is postponed to allow defendant the usual time for answering.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland arrived in the city yesterday from New York, to attend the Bayard-Clymer wedding. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson. In an interview last night, Mr. Cleveland said, in speaking of the election: "It is evident that the heaviest tariff reform has at last prevailed the whole lump. The West, which has suffered the most from the unjust burden of tariff taxation, has awakened. The State platforms of both Iowa and Ohio were abstracts of the St. Louis platform on the subject of tariff reform. The people have considered and passed judgment. It was for the people to decide. They are now deciding. It is enough for me to say that I am satisfied at the indications and results of Tuesday's elections. The verdict in Virginia indicates that the South is still faithful to the Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson."

The ex-President appears to be in robust health, and his wife has lost none of her charm and beauty. They deny the current report that they are about to take a European trip.

Sheriff Manning and other prominent republicans of Wilmington have invited the President and Secretary Windom to visit that locality in the near future, and the President has assured Gen. Taylor that after he is through with his counting message to Congress he knows of nothing that can prevent his accepting the invitation. The present programme is for the President to leave here at night, reach Wilmington the next morning, and take Mr. Manning's yacht, which is to be waiting at the wharf, for the hunting grounds near Orton. Mrs. Harrison is anxious for the President to go, and he anticipates a great deal of pleasure from the visit. Gen. Matthew Taylor has given him an enthusiastic description of the wild duck, deer, and other game to be found there.

Gen. Taylor is here for the third time after the position of special agent for the treasury department. Stone Cowan, Esq., resigned the position 10th of last March, and has been filled by his deputy, Mr. Chambliss, since that date. Gen. Taylor expects today a special letter from his brother, William Henry Harrison Taylor, of Minneapolis, which he will take to Secretary Windom tomorrow. This gentleman is the older brother of Gen. Taylor, and partly raised Benjamin Harrison. At the request of the President, Gen. Taylor visits the White House frequently, and a few days ago pointed out to the President and Mrs. Harrison the room in which President William Henry Harrison died. At the time of the death of his great uncle Gen. Taylor was a guest at the White House, and his mother, Lucy Harrison Taylor, was filling the position of first lady of the land for her uncle. They were both there when Gen. Harrison died. It is very probable that Gen. Taylor will get a good position soon under this administration. He is in one of the nearest relations of the President, and with the example of Grant, Hayes, and nearly every other republican President, Harrison can hardly refuse to appoint more of his relatives to office. No later than yesterday his signature procured a position as typewriter in the treasury department for Mrs. Mason, of Virginia, a widow lady who is a fourth cousin of Mr. Harrison. Gen. Matthew P. Taylor is his first cousin once removed, and was always on intimate terms with the Harrisons.

Nashville Races. NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 8.—First race—Thirteen-sixteenths mile: Posteral won, John Morris second, Sena third. Time 1:28. Second race—Thirteen-sixteenths mile: Bonnie King won, Mackie H. second, Donovan third. Time 1:29. Third race—Five furlongs: Kittle R. won, Lake View second, Rimini third. Time 1:05. Fourth race—Mile: Milton won, Carus second, Cecil B. third. Time 1:49. Fifth race—Purse, maiden two year olds, four furlongs: Venango won, Kenilworth second, Revival third. Time 54. Murphy Advance: Ground has been broken and men are at work excavating and making preparations to erect the factory to be put up by Messrs. Brantreth and Fain. The erection of this establishment is looked forward to with much interest, as it is the impression that if it operates successfully, it will prove an incentive and cause other branches of manufacturing to locate here, and if they do there would then be machinery enough here to demand a foundry, a foundry would call for a machine shop, etc., and step by step we would move forward, until the hopes would be realized beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Prominent Kentucky Republicans Kill Each Other.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 8.—Col. William Cassius Goodloe, a member of the national republican committee and collector of the seventh internal revenue district, stabbed and killed Col. A. M. Swope, a prominent republican, at Lexington on Saturday 11 o'clock p. m. The fray occurred in the lobby of the new government building, and grew out of a trouble the two men had nearly two years ago. The men met and hot words passed between them, when Goodloe drew a bowie knife and slashed Swope's forehead in several places. Swope drew a pistol and shot Goodloe in the abdomen. The doctors think he will die. Both men drew their weapons at the same time. Goodloe belongs to one of the oldest and best families in the State. Colonel Swope was one of Kentucky's most prominent republicans, and was formerly collector of internal revenue for this district.

THE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

A Postponement Allowed in a R. and D. R. Case.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—In the case of Geo. D. Sidman vs. the Piedmont Air Line Railroad Company, in which discrimination in the payment of rebates on commutation tickets was charged, the inter-State commerce commission has granted leave to the complainant to amend his petition by substituting Richmond and Danville Railroad Company in place of the Piedmont Air Line as defendant. The complaint has been amended accordingly, and a hearing of the case, originally set for today, is postponed to allow defendant the usual time for answering.

In the case of the Holly Springs Compression and Manufacturing Company vs. the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham Railroad Company, relating to rates previously set for November 14, has been postponed to allow defendant the usual time for answering.

THE CROBIN CASE.

The Doctor's Clothes Found in the Sewer and Identified.

CHICAGO, November 8.—The clothes of Dr. Crobin were found on Evanston avenue about 100 feet from the catch basin in which the body was found at three o'clock this afternoon. On them was an account book containing Crobin's name, Mrs. Conklin, with whom he lived, and identified them as his. At ten o'clock this forenoon attorney Gilbert of the firm of Duncan and Gilbert, made application in Judge Baker's court for the release of Alexander Sullivan from the jail bond of $25,000 given by him last June to answer investigations of the grand jury in the Crobin case.

Assistant States Attorney Elliott opposed the application on the ground that the matter is pending before the grand jury, and is not disposed of. The matter comes up again tomorrow.

TWO NEGROES KILLED.

Deliberately Shot Down Without Any Apparent Provocation.

WILMINGTON, Del., November 8.—A Charleston, Md., special to the Evening News reports that Frank Harris deliberately shot and killed A. L. Truist and Edwin Brown about 11 o'clock last night. The parties were negroes, and the affair happened at a negro entertainment. Harris, who is a steambath hand, was talking with some other negroes, when a boy came out with a small pistol which was to be used in a performance going on. Harris said to the boy, "Why don't you let one that will make some noise?" and pulling a big pistol, fired into the crowd, killing the two negroes named above. They lived long enough to say that Harris had murdered them, but had not life enough to give any reason. All spectators were locked up as witnesses.

LORD WOLSELY.

Will Not be Present at the Unveiling of the Lee Monument.

BOSTON, November 8.—Lord Wolseley, adjutant general of the British army, writes as follows to J. S. Whiting, of Wallston, Mass., regarding statements recently published that he would participate in the unveiling of the Lee statue in December: "RANGER'S LODGE, 1 Greenewich Park, S. E., October 29. J. Lord Wolseley presents his compliments to Mr. Whiting and begs to acquaint him that there is no truth in the statement that he will visit America in December next to assist in the unveiling of the monument to Gen. Robt. E. Lee."

Hanged by a Mob.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Owen Anderson, an eighteen-year-old boy, was hanged in Leesburg, Va., early yesterday morning. Anderson Wednesday evening outraged a respectable seventeen-year-old white girl, who was returning home from school. He was arrested, confessed his guilt, and was locked up in Leesburg jail. A crowd of men obtained admittance to the jail by pretending that they had a prisoner, and when inside overpowered the jailer and secured his keys. They dragged Anderson to a derrick in the neighborhood and strung him up, afterwards ridding his body with bullets.

Cotton Receipts Since Sept. 1.

Table with 2 columns: Location and Receipts. Includes New York, Galveston, New Orleans, Mobile, Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk, Baltimore, New York, Boston, Newport News, Philadelphia, and West Point.

A Recount for Boston.

BOSTON, November 8.—The Globe says that petitions are in circulation to-day and will be presented to the city clerk tomorrow for an entire recount of the vote of the city of Boston for Governor and State officers. Petitions have already been received for recouunts for representatives in wards 4, 5, 7, 12, 19 and 23, and for senators in the Charlestown district and in wards 17, 18 and 20.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Founder of the Ministering Children's League.

An active branch of this valuable order has been long established among our little ones, under the guidance of an excellent, practical lady. These dear children will be interested to read about their lady patroness, and founder, and no doubt would like to have a visit from her.

Lord Braabzon, the Earl of Meath, arrived in Baltimore yesterday and registered at the St. James Hotel. He is accompanied by his wife, the Countess of Meath, who founded the Ministering Children's League, and has made it her life-work, and the Earl is in thorough sympathy with her in her plans. She was first impressed with the difficulty of getting people to pursue philanthropic work, and became convinced that the proper course was to train children to think for others. This was the starting point of the league. Organized in 1885, it has spread over the whole English-speaking world. It has 500 branches, among others at Cape Town, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Jerusalem, and even in far-away India and China. The objects of the league are "to promote kindness, unselfishness and the habit of usefulness among children and to create in their minds an earnest desire to help the needy and suffering;" also, "to aid the necessities of the poor by supplying them with warm clothing and comforts." Its motto is: "No day without a deed to crown it." It is a union of the simplest kind for work and prayer among the young, and is entirely non-sectarian. Quantities of clothing for the poor or for missions are being made by the league, which is also raising money to support beds in children's hospitals. Poor children in crowded cities have been sent by their parents to the country in summer, and a home for destitute boys has been opened in England. A hospital and chapel have been built in this country. It is for the propagation of this kind of benevolence among the young that the Countess has visited this country, and her efforts have been rewarded by an increased membership of the league and an awakening in the young of charitable feelings. She made an address yesterday before a branch of the league in the chapel of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church. In the evening the Earl and Countess visited the fair of St. Michael and All Angels Church at the Lyceum Theatre, where the Ministering Children's League has a department.

FROM MARSHALL.

Revival Services—Devil's Work—Kind Words for the Children.

MARSHALL, N. C., November 7. Editor Citizen—Please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few dots from our quiet little village in the mountains. There is a very interesting revival in progress here, conducted by the Rev. J. C. Stovell. He is an able and eloquent minister, and is laboring faithfully to convert the sinners and revive the Christians. There is much interest manifested. The merchants close their stores for morning and evening services. While God is blessing this community, the devil is putting in his work also. Last night after the services, as some ladies were going home their attention was attracted by something very tall and white rising up from the ground on the hillside; at first they thought it was their imagination, but on looking the second and third time, it was reported that there were three distinct figures standing there in the moonlight; all at once they glided quietly away. It is supposed to have been some reckless person or persons, thinking to frighten the people from going to the evening services. If any clue to the guilty ones can be found, the law will make them pay dearly for it. We must comfort the ladies on their bravery, for out of a crowd of seven or eight ladies, not one scream was heard, and we know, from their description of the scene, their bravery was severely tested. We read your paper every day and always find something to interest and instruct us; I would just as soon miss eating my dinner, as to miss reading the dear old Citizen. Long may it live, is the wish of, Your Ksow Wad.

Must Be Kinfolk.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 8.—Governor Hill today granted a requisition warrant of the Governor of Tennessee for E. P. Smith, now residing in New York City, charged with obtaining money under false pretences from Napoleon Hill, of Memphis.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Karl von Ruck, of the Winyah sanitarium, has returned from the north. Among those at the Swannanoa hotel is Mr. S. I. Rawson, of Baltimore, Md. Dr. William D. Thomas, a prominent capitalist, of Richmond, Va., is now stopping at the Battery Park hotel. Mr. J. W. Whitten of the Scott Paper Company, of Philadelphia, was in the city yesterday and left for Hot Springs. James C. Lavelle, Esq., present auditor of Daviess county, Ind., has arrived in this city with an invalid brother, with whom he will remain for a few days. Mr. Lavelle is a candidate for nomination as auditor of Indiana at the coming democratic convention.

Light Tower to be Rebuilt.

Mr. Adams, of the Fort Wayne electric company, arrived yesterday to superintend the re-erection of the tower which fell some weeks ago. The material is expected to-day and the work of erection will occupy about one week. Strong locust posts will be used for guys, and will be thoroughly anchored to heavy stones buried deep in the earth, so that a repetition of the accident is beyond the pale of possibilities.

Sad News of Ed Nix.

We are grieved to learn that this lad, who was injured by a saw a few days ago, and who seemed in a fair way of recovery, had relapsed yesterday, and at a late hour last night was in a comatose condition, and all hope of life abandoned by his friends.

Christian Church Notice.

The members of the Christian Church are requested to meet to-day in the residence of Mr. Frank McCrary on Woodfin street at 3 p. m., sharp.

TRADE REVIEW.

DUN & CO.'S REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF BUSINESS.

The Business Outlook Continues to Improve—Money is Easier—The Iron and Steel Market Remarkably Strong.

NEW YORK, November 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade for the week says: "The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to improve. All news this week is favorable. For the public eye the decision adverse to the sugar trust and the exposure and proposed reorganization in cotton oil are hopeful signs. The monetary situation has decidedly improved here and abroad, and while the Bank of England rate is still held at five per cent., money is quoted in open market at 2 1/2 per cent. Surplus foreign capital seeks investment here, but in various industrial works rather than in railroads. The business outlook continues to