FIRE! FIRE!

W. TURNER,

(Successor to James Buttrick.)

Thanks the inhabitants of Asheville for their liberal support during the nine months he has been in business, which is a proof of their appreciation of fair dealing, and begs to inform his numerous friends that he suffered very little damage from the fire on Tuesday morning. While Mr. Buttrick is repairing the building the business will be carried on in Mr. Simmons' store, opposite corner to the Broom Factory, where he hopes the patronage of the public will steadily increase as it has done from the beginning of his business career in this city.

FATAL FIRE IN LONDON.

A Sad Ending of the Old Year to Twenty-six Boys.

LONDON, January 1.—The boys' section of the paupers school in the district of Forest Gate in connection with White chapel and Poplar Unions, took fire last night while the inmates were asleep, and burned with terrible results, twenty-six of the boys, who were in the upper stories being suffocated before they could be rescued. Fifty-eight other boys were safely taken from the burning building amid terrible excitement. Two matrons of the institution escaped in safety by sliding down the water pipes. Several of the boys were injured by the flames. The Superintendent of the school rushed through the flames repeatedly and brought out a number of inmates. There were six hundred persons in the institution. The bodies of those who were suffocated were carried to the main hall of the building where they were profusely decorated with Christmas greens. The fire was started by an overheated stove. The female department in which were two hundred and fifty girls, was not touched. The boys retired last evening in the highest spirits, having been promised presents and a New Year let-to-day. The scenes in the main hall where the bodies of the boys lie are harrowing. The relatives and school-fellows of those who perished are loud in their lamentations.

LONDON, January 1.—Further reports of the fire show that it originated in the clothing-room beneath the boys' dormitory. The smoke and flames issuing from the stove fire alarmed those sleeping on the top floor, and they made their escape. The fire-engines were promptly on the scene. The employees of the adjacent railway station rushed to the scene, and rendered valuable assistance. The cries of boys who were unable to escape were terrible. The bodies of two boys were badly burned; but it is believed that they were suffocated before they were burned. The ages of the boys are from seven to twelve years.

Milk Works Burned.

NEW YORK, January 1.—The Liberty Silk Works, at Nos. 617 to 625 West Fifty-seventh street, were burned to day. The fire involved losses to a number of other manufacturing concerns. The fire started early this morning in the engine room of the building, and as the engine on duty has not since been made to start, the firms who lose by the fire are: The Liberty Silk Works, $150,000; Mohler & Co., manufacturers of silk ribbons, $30,000; Persian Carpet Company, $10,000; J. & J. Morrison, manufacturers of plaster ornaments, $3,000; Eastern Manufacturing Company, $2,000. The building is damaged $30,000. The missing engineer was seen to go into the engine rooms as the flames burst forth. The watchman and his daughter, who were on the upper floors, had a narrow escape. A large number of persons are thrown out of employment by the consequence of the fire, the Liberty Silk Works alone having employed 250 hands.

Murders in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C., January 1.—Two murders were reported from Darlington county yesterday. On December 29th, Easterling, colored, while sitting in his dining room with his family, was shot dead through the open door. The assassin escaped. On December 29th Geo. Windham, aged 18 years, white, and Robert Kelly, aged 17, colored, got into a drunken quarrel in a wagon in which they were returning together from a neighboring town. Windham stabbed Kelly to the heart, drove home, unhitched his horses, and then fled, leaving the body in the wagon, where it was found next day.

A Pleasant Religious Outlook.

ST. PETERSBURG, January 1.—The Novia Vremya says that the appointment by the Pope of bishops for Russia shows evidence of a conciliatory spirit on the part of the papacy. A Russian paper says: "The czar is always tolerant in religious questions. The Catholics in Russia enjoy equal rights with Protestants, Armenians and Gregorians. The settlement of the Episcopal question in Russia will certainly be an advantage to the Vatican, and will prove that the Pope was right when he condemned the clergy's interference with politics."

The City of Paris in Collision.

LONDON, January 1.—While proceeding up the Mersey to Liverpool this morning the Inman steamer, City of Paris, captain Atkins, from New York, December 25th, collided with an outward bound steamer. The City of Paris lost her bowsprit and the other steamer one of her masts. The passengers on the City of Paris were greatly alarmed, but nobody was hurt. A heavy log prevailed at the time of the collision.

Emancipation Day in Norfolk.

NORFOLK, January 1.—The twenty-sixth anniversary of the emancipation proclamation was celebrated by the colored people here to-day. The procession, which was a large one, was composed of military and civic orders, and was reviewed by the mayor. Judge of the corporation court and the city council. The exercises closed with an oration, reading of an original poem, music and benediction.

Mill Closed Down.

READING, Pa., January 1.—The sheet mill of the Brooke Iron Company, at Birdsboro, this county, employing over 1,000 hands, closed down this morning in consequence of the strike of 150 millers, who asked for the restoration of the ten per cent. reduction made in wages some time ago. The millers' demand is equal to about three cents per leg. The sheet mill has too much iron on hand to continue with the mill factory idle.

Danville Tobacco Sales.

DANVILLE, Va., January 1.—The sales of new leaf tobacco in this market for the past six months were $4,974,442 pounds, an increase over the same period of the previous year of 4,357,532 pounds. The output of manufactured tobacco for the year 1889 was 7,582,854 pounds, an increase over the previous year of 2,551,771 pounds.

A Palace on Fire.

BRUSSELS, January 1.—The royal palace at the Laeken, a suburb of this city, is burning. Princess Clementina, daughter of the King, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. Her governess was burned. All the royal collection has been destroyed. The fire has been prevented from reaching the King's private rooms.

The Czar Still Sick.

PARIS, January 1.—The Siecle has advised from St. Petersburg that the Czar is still confined to his room, and that his doctors fear complications in his case.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

THE NEW YEAR RECEPTION AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

It is said to have not been surpassed by any of its Predecessors—Shaking Hands With Six Thousand People.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 1.—New Year began with a magnificent rain which continuing through the day, naturally had a depressing effect upon those who had prepared a program of visits. The White House was as usual, the central point of interest. There have been of course, many similar occasions at the White House reception, but those whose memory and experience add weight to their judgment, agree that no one of its predecessors has exceeded in brilliancy the first official reception given by the head of the present administration; certainly never before has there been at the White House reception, such large numbers of distinguished representatives from other nations of the world. This was due to the presence, in addition to the regular diplomatic and consular officers of other countries, of the delegates to the international maritime conference, and the delegates to the American conference. The presence of these distinguished foreigners was naturally the leading feature of the reception.

The mansion had been specially prepared for the occasion, and when the reception was at its height, presented a most striking and splendid appearance. The full Marine band, in gray uniforms and red and blue, was stationed in the vestibule just inside the main entrance, and with but few intermissions, played lively and inspiring music from the time the President took his stand at the head of the receiving line, until the last of the callers had taken their departure, a period of little over three hours. The interior decorations, while not elaborate, were very effective, consisting of a liberal distribution of tropical and flowering plants where they could be displayed to advantage.

The general room also brightened by the brilliant illumination of all the parlors; bright gas light being reflected from myriads of iridescent crystals and numerous French plate glass mirrors. Tall India rubber plants mingled with delicate ferns and ivy lined the main corridor, and the east room opposite the corridor was a huge bank of tropical plants tastefully arranged, reaching nearly to the ceiling, and many broad mantles of the east room were ornamented with choice plants in gilded pots. The red and green colors contained a profusion of plants and flowers; but the blue and white where the reception was actually held, gave indication of having received the greatest share of attention from the decorators. In this room, in addition to the liberal display of rose plants, ferns and other plants, a profusion of cut flowers, including white poinsettias, tulips, carnations, hyacinths, azaleas, carnations, japonicas and begonias. These were banded in bright designs upon the mantels and served to form a huge bouquet on the central divan.

The large door-way at the back of the room was connected by a number of tall large leaved plants which formed a beautiful background for the receiving party. The reception proper did not begin until eleven o'clock; but the vice-president and members of the cabinet, with the lady, Grandly, aged 17, colored, got into a drunken quarrel in a wagon in which they were returning together from a neighboring town. Windham stabbed Kelly to the heart, drove home, unhitched his horses, and then fled, leaving the body in the wagon, where it was found next day.

A FEW NEWS ITEMS.

During last year thirty men and four women committed suicide in the New York Central Park.

In Yazoo City, on Sunday last, 600 bales of cotton and several loaded freight cars were destroyed by fire.

Robert Garrett, the once rich proprietor of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, continues in very poor health, but seems to have regained his sanity.

Commodore Vanderbilt's old home, No. 10 Washington Place, New York, has been sold to a fair dealer for $210,000. It belonged to William K. and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Alexander Hamilton, grandson of Gen. Alexander Hamilton, of revolutionary fame, killed in the duel with Aaron Burr, died at Irvington, N. Y., on the 30th, aged 74. He had none of the great qualities of his ancestor.

Dr. Talmage receives $12,500 a year as his salary as editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. His salary as pastor is the same, and we presume he has a large income from his weekly published sermons. Verily, his lines have fallen in pleasant places.

At Mt. Sterling, Ky., a man who refused to testify in a case on trial, was ordered by the judge to be handcuffed and chained to the floor until he gave evidence. This was one of the ideas, "the bird that can sing and won't sing must be made to sing."

An indulgent father in Kingston, N. Y., bought for his nineteen-month-old boy a hobby-horse, a cart, a stuffed monkey, &c. On Christmas morning the little toddler looked at his toys in a matter-of-fact sort of way, and then picked two china claws from the table and played with them all the morning.

It is said that the sentiment for the annexation of Cuba to the United States is growing on the island. We do not think it is growing in the United States. We hear enough of "the problem" at home to deal with. If there is danger that Cuba will fall into English or German hands, it will be time to look after it. Until then, let "the ever faithful isle" remain true to her Spanish allegiance.

The absence of the electric lights in New York, caused by the cutting of the wires by the city authorities, is the thieves' opportunity, particularly on water front. It is like London used to be before the times of gas, when to go out alone at night was invitation to robbery if not to murder. New York has been too much accustomed to light to willingly return to darkness, especially when there is so much peril in the change.

An old woman, scantily and shabbily dressed, daily perambulates the streets of Sacramento, peddling newspapers. Twelve or fifteen years ago she wore silks and satins and diamonds, and lived in gorgeously furnished apartments. She was rich. But her husband was a gambler, ill luck overtook him. He lost everything. He lost even his manhood and deserted his miserable partner, and she is the miserable creature the public daily sees in her miserable rags.

In noticing the selection of Mr. Cleveland to be chairman of the judiciary centennial celebration, the Mail and Express says: "He who was Executive of these United States for four years, with great credit to himself and satisfaction to a majority of his own party and of other parties as well, can be safely trusted with the chief executive management of the great celebration in commemoration of the organization of the third, co-ordinate and last branch of our constitutional government." There is a hope for Elliot yet.

INDIANS NOT SATISFIED.

Their Children Die at the Hampton and Carlisle Schools.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 1.—The Post this morning says that it is understood the Sioux chiefs had rather a turbulent interview with the commissioner of Indian affairs, over the subject of Indian schools. Mr. Irvine Miller, secretary of the Sioux commission, when questioned upon the subject, said: "It is natural that the Indians should be dissatisfied with the schools at Hampton and Carlisle. In the first place, from thirty to seventy per cent. of the pupils of Carlisle and Hampton die within four years of their return home. They die like sheep with the murrain, principally from the presence of the Indians, which is due either to the effect of eastern climate or to the enervating influence of closed houses after an outdoor life. It may be that going back to the hills and rude teepee of their parents, after the comforts of civilization is the cause of the great mortality; but the death rate is fearful, and the Indians object to the eastern schools."

"Another objection is urged, that several years in the East teach young Indians to despise their kinsmen, to lose the natural gratitude and affection due their parents, to ignore the duties and wretchedness; and their education makes a gap which cannot be bridged, while, if the schools were at the agency, the children would take home some evidence of civilization and a better mode of living, and lift their parents to a higher level."

"The old Indian expressed himself very poetically to the Indian commission when speaking of logs which are frequent at Hampton. 'The breath of the earth,' said he, 'rises up and poisons our children.' The commission favors an agency school plan, and it seems to have the weight of argument."

Governor Inaugurated.

RICHMOND, Va., January 1.—Hon. P. W. McKinney took the oath of office today as Governor of Virginia, and J. H. Tyler as Lieutenant Governor, in the presence of the legislature assembled in the house of delegates, and Lunsford L. Lewis, president of the supreme court of appeals.

Influenza in Germany.

BERLIN, January 1.—The rapid increase in influenza has caused a special necessity for the erection of several temporary hospitals. There are 40,000 cases in Munich. The epidemic is spreading in Leipsic.

PERSONAL MENTIONS.

Gen. P. M. P. Young, of Savannah, Ga., is in the city.

Miss Mollie Baird is here on her spending the holidays.

Col. Frank Case and family are at the Battery Park hotel.

Mr. D. M. Van der of the Asheville Democrat, has returned from his trip to New York.

Dr. Chas. E. Hilliard has returned from Florida, where he has been visiting Mr. J. Adger Clarke at his orange grove at Orange Lake.

Mr. G. W. Pearson still leads the Battery Park orchestra as violinist accompanied by Fred Phoenix cornetist, and a new man, Mr. Solomon pianist, completes the trio.

Mr. Henry Redwood is here from Richmond, and reports his business at that place as improving daily. With a flourishing business at both Richmond and Asheville Mr. Redwood has his hands full.

Mr. Monaghan returned last evening from a trip in the western counties in the interest of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. He reports business as rather dull, but little stock having been sold and money scarce.

Mr. E. E. Brown returned yesterday from Dayton, Rockingham county, Va., where he was called by the illness of his father, Mr. Isaiah Brown, of that place. Mr. Brown was with his father several days before his death.

Mr. Chas. H. Coe who was here two years ago, proposes together with his brother starting soon a weekly paper in Highlands, Macon county, N. C. Mr. Coe has recently written two able articles on Western North Carolina in the American Field and the American Agriculturist, a fuller notice of which will appear in a later issue.

ODDS AND ENDS.

We note with pleasure the issuance of a patent to our townsman, Mr. O. F. Hageman, for a self closing bibb or water faucet.

Mr. Justice presented us yesterday, January 1, with a large cluster of fully expanded peach bloom. Something Mr. Jas. E. Reed tells us he witnessed just twenty-nine years ago. But it is something that does not happen more than twice in a lifetime.

Yesterday a raw southeast wind prevailed, with a cloudy sky and light misty rain, with the mercury at 38 most of the day. It was muddy walking and most decidedly unpleasant.

The colored people in their celebration showed their characteristic love of pomp and show in their liberal selection of officers. There was a president, nine vice-presidents, one chief marshal, mounted, and fifty-four mounted assistant marshals, besides chaplain and secretary.

Mr. Crawford, as announced in our advertising columns, has opened a photographic studio in the McAfee building on Patton avenue. Mr. Crawford was born and brought up in Western North Carolina, but has been for the past fifteen years in Brooklyn and New York perfecting himself in his business.

Marriage Again Arranged.

LONDON, January 1.—The Star says that the marriage between Miss Caldwell, of America, and Prince Murat has been again arranged. Prince Murat, the Star says, will accept any allowance that Miss Caldwell may grant him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. S. GRANT, Ph. G.,

Of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy,
Apothecary, 24 South Main St.

The Old Year has drawn to a close, and with the beginning of the New Year we wish to thank the public for their patronage and recognition of our efforts to do our full duty. We are fully conscious that it is to them that we owe the unexpected success of the past year, in which our business has been more than doubled, and we can only regard it as a new evidence that our business maxims are such as to cause our customers to have confidence in us and attract those who are cautious in dealing with any Pharmacist until they have become fully assured of the nature and extent of his business principles. In our dealing with the public we realize that the most scrupulous care and honesty are paramount in importance. If these are virtues in all ordinary business transactions, they become sacred duties in Pharmacy, and without them no one can be a true Pharmacist. The health, maybe the life, of those dealing with the Apothecary depends upon them. We consider it our most sacred duty to shun adulterations and spoiled as well as inferior drugs. They constitute an evil from which Pharmacy suffers no less than the public. The evil is not a new one, inaugurated in late years; it has existed as long as there were men whose cupidity was stronger than their sense of justice, and it will doubtless continue as long as there may be men with conceptions of business so vague that they expect to purchase gold for the money value of drugs. There are no other moral principles required for transacting a Pharmaceutical business than are necessary for any other business. Unwavering integrity that remains uninfluenced by the visions of gold along the road of questionable or deceitful practices is the only foundation for success that is worthy the name. It is so in our business and most particularly in our business, where the quality of necessary goods is so constant as to secure the best results. We are fully conscious of the principles which we have endeavored to live up to, and to which we are our increasing success is due. We hope our former patrons will show the same confidence to us. We are sure that no one can afford to neglect the things that no one can afford to neglect, and we make them regard the importance of their favors. Yours truly,
