WALKER BLAINE DEAD.

The Son of Secretary Blaine Passed Away Last Night.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—Mr. Walker Blaine, solicitor of the State department, is reported to be seriously ill this morning. He took a severe cold several days ago, and it has developed into pneumonia. His family and friends are very much alarmed at his condition. A consultation of physicians in regard to his case will be held this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 15.—Walker Blaine, eldest son of Secretary Blaine, and solicitor of claims in the State department, died at 8.30 to-night of pneumonia, after an illness of only two or three days. His illness was a complication of the form of bronchial catarrh, of which he was supposed to be recovering. It turned into pneumonia yesterday.

ONE THOUSAND A DAY.

Appalling Result of the Grip in Chicago.

CHICAGO, January 15.—The Tribune of to-day says: The names of the victims of the grippe continue to be sent to the health office, and while the officials there try to belittle the danger by putting on an air of incredulity, the constant stream of people who apply for burial permits gives the lie to the assertion that all is well and that the reports of deaths from influenza are greatly exaggerated. Not only are the deaths multiplying every hour, but the reports of illness in the public schools are appalling. The death permits now number over 1000 per day. Eleven deaths within the past twenty-four hours are to be attributed directly to grip, or its immediate complications.

Cold in Wyoming.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., January 14.—Twelve to fourteen inches of snow has fallen in the west end of the territory. The snow has crusted and with the freezing of the water, cattle, sheep and horses are perishing all over the range. An owner yesterday received word from his ranch in that section that scarcely an animal that could not be fed would survive. Horses have worn their hoofs to the quick trying to beat through crusted snow. Cattle and sheep are helpless, game has been driven from the mountains, and antelope have been killed within the city limits of Evanston, while stock has drifted to the railway. Saturday and Sunday were intensely cold, and two men were frozen to death.

The Confederates at Gettysburg.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—The bill introduced in the house to-day by Mr. Bingham for marking the lines of battle and the positions of troops of the Army of Northern Virginia at Gettysburg, appropriates $310,000 for the purpose. The bill provides for marking with tablets the positions occupied by the Confederates, for the negotiation and purchase of land and avenues, for positions occupied by troops, and for the construction of drive ways, etc., twenty-four miles in length, and for determining the positions of the various commands as they were formed for battle.

Affairs at Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., January 15.—Senator John W. Daniel has designated January 25th as the time of the delivery of an address in this city on the life and character of Jefferson Davis. The address is at the request of the legislature. Governor McKinney has addressed a circular letter to the mayors of cities throughout the State notifying them that the Lee monument will be unveiled at Gettysburg, and that $7,000 exists and urging them to take up collections to cover the same. The program will embrace a parade of military from various parts of the South, civic associations and municipal department.

That West End Scandal.

LONDON, January 15.—The case of the Earl of Euston against Parke, editor of the North London Press, for criminal libel in charging that the Earl was implicated in the West End scandal, came for trial in the Old Bailey to-day. Sir Charles Russell, counsel for the Earl of Euston opened the case, and said he would prove that Parke had published a libel. Lockwood, the counsel for the defendant in reply contended that the Earl of Euston from cross examination at the preliminary hearing until the evidence for the defense had been given.

The Prussian Diet.

BERLIN, January 15.—The Prussian diet was opened to-day. The speech in opening the session said it afforded the emperor and king much joy to announce that the foreign relations of Germany were good in every quarter. The speech was chiefly devoted to matters of the internal reform income tax, requirement of private railways and establishment of lease hold estates for small farmers. The emperor also expressed a hope that lasting peace would be established between mine owners and their employees.

Election Formally Announced.

ANAPOLIS, Md., January 15.—At noon to-day the two houses of the Maryland legislature met in joint session, Hon. John Heister, speaker of the house, presiding. After the roll call of the two bodies the vote for the United States senator cast yesterday was announced, and the speaker declared Hon. Ephraim Wilson, elected United States senator from March 4, 1891 for a term of six years, to succeed himself.

Rules for Catholics.

ROME, January 15.—The pope issued his encyclical which sets forth the principles which shall guide Catholics in their relations toward the state, which in their cyclical say they must obey when such a course does not entail disobedience to the divine laws. In the countries where the state opposes Catholicism, Catholics must combat the enemy but must not tie the church to any political party.

Simply a Formality.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, January 15.—The house and senate met in joint session to-day at noon and formally declared Calvin B. Rice elected to the United States senate. Rice made a brief speech of acknowledgment and was presented to the members in person. The result was declared amid much enthusiasm. The hall was crowded. Many ladies, among them Mrs. Rice, were present.

An Earthquake at Vienna.

VIENNA, January 15.—Several earthquake shocks were felt in Vienna last night. The movement was from the southeast to northwest. A performance was being given at the theatre in Klagenfurt when the shocks were felt. A false alarm of fire was raised at the same time and the audience became panic stricken and fled. No one was hurt.

TAKEN TO JOLIET.

Three of the Crown Murderers Behind the Bars.

JOLIET, Ill., January 15.—When the Crown prisoners, Coughlin, and O'Sullivan arrived at the penitentiary last night they all tried to brace up and make a strong effort to keep from showing any sign of weakness. All managed to succeed very well except Coughlin, who, when spoken to, could not reply, but finally managed to stammer out: "Boys do not speak to me, I am all broken up."

Deputy Speers says he never saw a man so affected as Coughlin. When the Chicago officers made them good bye Burke and O'Sullivan stammered out the most inaudible reply, but Coughlin was silent. The correspondent tried to talk with them all, but Coughlin said, "please do not talk to me." O'Sullivan said, "I cannot speak to-night," and Burke said without any visible signs of emotion, "well, we are in it and it must take our medicine, that's all, but it is not up with yet."

They were put through the remaining preparatory steps this morning at the Chicago penitentiary. Burke was sent to the cooper shop, Coughlin to the stone cutters' shop, and O'Sullivan to the shoe shop.

Run's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, January 15.—The Sun's cotton review says: Futures fell two to three points on a decline of 1-64 to 2-64, in Liverpool but recovered this on demand from shorts and falling off in receipts, and advanced to 1-1/2 on the market. The market was local. The world held heavily yesterday were buying to-day and there was a good deal of exchange of February for later months. Cotton spot was firm.

Destroyed by Fire.

JACKSON, Miss., January 15.—The business portion of Flora, Miss., with the exception of one small store, was burned last night. Flora is on the line of the Yazoo City and Mississippi Valley railroad, branch of the Illinois Central, running from Yazoo City, Miss., to the town is the most important on the branch, having about one thousand inhabitants.

The Suspended Preacher.

RICHMOND, Va., January 15.—After advising with Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore, to-day, Dr. Garland decided to reopen the case of Rev. J. R. Sturgis, who he temporarily suspended as pastor of Trinity church, for the alleged offence of writing a letter too full of affection to a lady member of his charge. This was done that the presiding elder and investigating committee may hear new evidence which friends of the pastor claim to have.

STATE NEWS.

Winston Daily: Mr. Z. T. Hege, brother of Mr. C. A. Hege, of Salem, died yesterday at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Hege. He was 53 years old.

Judge Armfield in his charge to the grand jury at Durham Monday, in the superior court, dwelt upon the matter of the duties of the grand jury, and said that the grand jury should be independent and unbiased, and should not be influenced by the passions and intentions of the United States government. He hoped that it might come soon enough to be of value and of real significance. The resolution went over without further action.

The senate took up the calendar and passed a number of senate bills, among them one granting the use of certain lands to the city of Saint Augustine, Florida, for a public park. The senate then went into executive session and later adjourned.

HOUSE.—The house resumed the consideration of the report of the special committee to investigate the Silcott defalcation.

Mr. Oats, of Alabama, made an argument in support of the majority report, and contended that the proposition to pro rate the remaining funds (as advocated by H. Hege) was not only unjust and unfair and unjust to private depositors. He maintained that the late sergeant-at-arms was the disbursing officer of the house, and that therefore, the members should not be subjected to the expense of the defalcation of its funds. True, there was no express statute declaring him to be such, but it was not always necessary to inscribe under the picture of horse, "this is a horse." It mattered not who stole the money, the fact remained that the money never reached the hands of the persons entitled to it.

Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, expressed himself as in perfect accord with the views of the majority of the committee.

Mr. Herbert, of Alabama, while he had no doubt that the sergeant-at-arms was a disbursing officer, and that the members were entitled to their salaries, objected to a tribunal deciding upon cases of its own members, and he therefore, favored Hemphill's proposition to refer the matter to the defalcation of its funds.

Mr. Morgan, of Mississippi, was an advocate of the majority report, resting his argument mainly on the ground that the salaries of members were unlawfully paid out by the Treasury before they were due.

Mr. Patton, of Illinois, favored the majority report, contending that to all intents and purposes the sergeant-at-arms was the disbursing officer, not only de facto, but de jure. A vote was taken on Hemphill's bill (as substituted for the majority bill) permitting the members to sue in the court of claims. It was defeated by a close vote of yeas 136, nays 138, and a motion to reconsider was offered by Mr. Blodgett, of Missouri, who had voted in the negative in order to enable him to make the motion. It was promptly tabled, however, and the vote recorded on ordering the majority bill appropriated $75,000 to refund the members their last salaries, to be engrossed and read the third time. This having been done, Mr. Blodgett demanded the reading of the engrossed bill, but the speaker held that under the general parliamentary law this was not necessary. The vote was then taken on the bill and it was defeated, yeas 126, nays 142. A motion to reconsider, and a motion to lay that motion on the table were entered, and then at 6:05 the House adjourned.

COLUMBIA, S. C., January 15.—A slight but pronounced earthquake shock was felt generally throughout this city to-night at 6:40 o'clock. No alarm was caused by the disturbance.

A FEW NEWS ITEMS.

Five deaths occurred in Chicago on the 10th from the influenza.

The first vestibule train of the season bound south reached Savannah on the 14th. Travel is increasing.

The recent cyclone swept over an extent of country a thousand miles in length, exhausting itself on the northeast New England coast.

A New York syndicate proposes to buy five of the largest tobacco factories in Winston. This is a new form of "grip" in North Carolina.

Jack the Ripper is supposed to be at his work in Peab, a woman there having been found murdered in the butchers' horrid secundum artem style.

The deaths last week in Philadelphia were 718, an increase of 226 over the previous week. Of these 101 were caused by consumption of the lungs.

Mrs. John F. Cleveland, a sister of Horace Greeley, recently died in New York. She died at quite an advanced age, of pneumonia, after a brief illness.

The contest between the "wets" and the "drys" in Lynchburg, Va., a very bitter one, was also a very close one in results, the latter winning by a majority of seven.

It is understood in Raleigh that the Supreme Court will not convene again until Feb. 1st. This answers the question, often asked, why no action had yet been taken by the court in the Boyle case.

The charges against Dr. Rylance, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, New York, which were once formally withdrawn by the parties making them, are about to be renewed by one of the vestrymen, Mr. Quackenbush.

Three or four thousand negroes are reported by the sheriff of Wilson waiting to be taken off to some new Eldorado, they know not where. At present, though they may become prosperous, there is much suffering among those gathered together to go away from their old homes.

One of the freaks of the late storm at Toledo, Ohio, was to blow a freight car three miles down the track; but this was not as bad as that which happened on a Canada road where a passenger train was blown bodily from the track, turned upside down and burned, with no loss of life, but serious hurts to many passengers.

A party of five Chinamen were seen passing through a street in New York bearing the dead body of one of their countrymen, partially wrapped in a blanket, with head and feet dangling down, and deliberately dumped it into a gutter. After this ghastly barbarity, they scurried back to their lodgings and locked their doors.

A case of yellow fever is again reported at Key West. This is probably a renewal of the report which has become chronic. As there is no winter at that place, there is as good reason for yellow fever in one season as well as in another. But there is no cause for the disease there, except by communication with Cuba, lying close at hand, where there is always more or less of the disease.

Dr. E. C. Fisher, the first Superintendent of the North Carolina Asylum for the Insane, opened, we believe, in 1852, died recently at Staunton, Va., where he was one of the Assistant Superintendents of the Western Lunatic Asylum. He was 82 years old at the time of his death. He was an eminently good man, and in his vocation an able and useful one. He held his position in this State until succeeded by Dr. Grissom in 1868.

The City of Worcester, the steamer which run on the rocks a few days ago in Long Island Sound, will probably be gotten off and saved. She is one of that class of boats for which the Sound waters are famous, the finest of their kind and service in the world beyond any comparison. The City of Worcester cost $500,000. She is 340 long, 80 feet beam, of 2,600 tons measurement, and has engines of 3,600 horse power.

Three negroes are to be hung at Rocky Mount, Va., for firing that town during the last campaign, and burning twenty-seven houses. They were convicted, partly on their own confession, saying they used the tobacco warehouse, to which the fire was first applied, had been denied to Mahone for a time of rearing and speaking. The Roanoke Light Infantry has been detailed to be present at the execution to maintain peace and order.

The New York Tribune has taken time in the midst of its very active labors to publish all sorts of outrage accounts about the South, to direct its eye to the religious conditions of New England, and asks:

"Is religion dying out in New England? Look at Vermont, for instance. Forty-two per cent of its native population live out of the State, and they seem to have carried much of the religion of the State with them, for the regions which are peopled almost exclusively by pure Yankee stock show the greatest religious destitution. In the little town of Halifax there are two extinct churches, and yet in time past this town has sent ten men into the ministry. In Vermont more than one-half of the population are not only unconverted but are absolutely unapproached by any direct Christian efforts."

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE CHARACTERIZED AS SUCH.

Turpie Demands the Recognition of the Brazilian Republic—The House Vainly Attempts to Solve the Silcott Matter.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—The senate took up Mr. Morgan's resolution recognizing the United States of Brazil as a free, independent and sovereign State, and Mr. Turpie proceeded to make a speech in support of it.

He had voted, he said, against the recognition of the resolution, not because he thought that the delay occasioned by the reference was wholly unnecessary. He favored the immediate recognition of the republic of Brazil and was quite willing that congress should declare to-day (as a part of the international common law of the three Americas) that no European power shall interfere in any part of this hemisphere to restore a representative of a monarchy or empire, or to prevent the establishment of a republic, but that any such interference would be regarded as an act unriendly to the United States and would be resisted by all means necessary to effect its frustration. He was not one of those who entertained the opinion that congress was bound by the action or non-action of the executive or of the State department about such a matter as the recognition of the new nationality, especially of a new republic. Congress might co-operate with those authorities, but diplomatic dispatch was one thing, legislative enactment was another, and a thing of more importance, gravity and publicity.

He read extracts from the message of President Harrison announcing a change of government in Brazil, and spoke of the message as a listless, languid resignation to the course of affairs there. The position, he said, of the administration toward the new republic of Brazil was one of strict neutrality and supine indifference. There was not in the message of the President a word of sympathy or encouragement for the republican movement. How long, he asked, would it be before the United States extended to the latest born daughter of liberty words of welcome encouragement? He trusted that the delay in recognition had not already led to a very serious misconstruction of the sentiments and intentions of the United States government. He hoped that it might come soon enough to be of value and of real significance. The resolution went over without further action.

The senate took up the calendar and passed a number of senate bills, among them one granting the use of certain lands to the city of Saint Augustine, Florida, for a public park. The senate then went into executive session and later adjourned.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. S. GRANT, Ph. G.,

Of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, Apothecary, 24 South Main St.

The Old Year has drawn to a close, and with the beginning of the New Year we wish to thank the public for their patronage and recognition of our efforts to do our full duty. We are fully conscious that it is to them that we owe the unexpected success of the past year, in which our business has been more than doubled, and we can only regard it as a new evidence that our business maxims are such as to cause our customers to have confidence in us and attract those who are cautious in dealing with any Pharmacist until they have become fully assured of the nature and extent of his business principles. In our dealing with the public we realize that the most scrupulous care and honesty are paramount in importance. If these are virtues in all ordinary business transactions, they become sacred duties in Pharmacy, and without them no one can be a true Pharmacist. The health, maybe the life, of those dealing with the Apothecary depends upon them. We consider it our most sacred duty to shun adulterations and spoiled as well as inferior drugs. They constitute an evil from which Pharmacy suffers no less than the public. The evil is not a new one, inaugurated in late years; it has existed as long as there were men whose cupidity was stronger than their sense of justice, and it will doubtless continue as long as there may be men with conceptions of business so vague that they expect to purchase gold for the money value of dress. There are no other moral principles required for transacting a Pharmaceutical business than are necessary for any other business. Unwavering integrity that remains unflinched by the visions of gold along the road of questionable or deceitful practices is the only foundation for success that is worthy the name; it is so in every pursuit, and more particularly in Pharmacy, where as a matter of necessity it must be combined with constant vigilance in all directions, so as to secure all possible safeguards.

These are the principles which we have endeavored to live up to, and to which we trust our increasing success is due. We hope our former patrons will show the same kindness toward us in the future that they have in the past, knowing that no action of ours will ever make them regret a continuance of their favors. Yours truly,

J. S. GRANT, Ph. G., Pharmacist, 24 S. Main St., Asheville, N. C.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. S. GRANT, Ph. G.,

Of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, Apothecary, 24 South Main St.

The Old Year has drawn to a close, and with the beginning of the New Year we wish to thank the public for their patronage and recognition of our efforts to do our full duty. We are fully conscious that it is to them that we owe the unexpected success of the past year, in which our business has been more than doubled, and we can only regard it as a new evidence that our business maxims are such as to cause our customers to have confidence in us and attract those who are cautious in dealing with any Pharmacist until they have become fully assured of the nature and extent of his business principles. In our dealing with the public we realize that the most scrupulous care and honesty are paramount in importance. If these are virtues in all ordinary business transactions, they become sacred duties in Pharmacy, and without them no one can be a true Pharmacist. The health, maybe the life, of those dealing with the Apothecary depends upon them. We consider it our most sacred duty to shun adulterations and spoiled as well as inferior drugs. They constitute an evil from which Pharmacy suffers no less than the public. The evil is not a new one, inaugurated in late years; it has existed as long as there were men whose cupidity was stronger than their sense of justice, and it will doubtless continue as long as there may be men with conceptions of business so vague that they expect to purchase gold for the money value of dress. There are no other moral principles required for transacting a Pharmaceutical business than are necessary for any other business. Unwavering integrity that remains unflinched by the visions of gold along the road of questionable or deceitful practices is the only foundation for success that is worthy the name; it is so in every pursuit, and more particularly in Pharmacy, where as a matter of necessity it must be combined with constant vigilance in all directions, so as to secure all possible safeguards.

These are the principles which we have endeavored to live up to, and to which we trust our increasing success is due. We hope our former patrons will show the same kindness toward us in the future that they have in the past, knowing that no action of ours will ever make them regret a continuance of their favors. Yours truly,

J. S. GRANT, Ph. G., Pharmacist, 24 S. Main St., Asheville, N. C.
