Four Years on Crutches.
For fifteen years I was afflicted with rheumatism, four years of which I was compelled to go on crutches. Words are inadequate to express the suffering I endured during that time. During these fifteen years of existence I was not living. I tried every known remedy without receiving any benefit. Finally began on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), which from the first gave me relief, and today I am enjoying the best of health, and am a well man. I candidly believe that S. S. S. is the best blood purifier on the market today.

The Best Snake Gorden of All.
A man who kept a garden near the river Euphrates, had an adventure with a snake many years ago, and involved himself and family in trouble ever since. One result of this adventure was the sentence pronounced against the woman that "in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children." No doubt this sentence included the many ailments consequent on child-bearing, such as weak back, female weakness, tumors, irritations, irregularities, and the like. Divine wisdom, after this sentence, came to the rescue of woman, and provided remedies for her cure. Best of all is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a woman savior—a soothing, sovereign remedy for all such troubles. Millions are using it, and blessing its author. It is the only remedy for these ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of giving satisfaction in every case, or money refunded.

The Stone Age in Pittsburg.
In Pittsburg's salad days wood was regarded as a good building material. A fire disposed of that idea. Then bricks were used. Next, iron was regarded as the proper thing, and the iron block in Fifth avenue, between Wood and Market streets, is, with many others, evidence of the iron city's iron age. But iron had its day and Pittsburgers found stone and brick combined more suited to their growing desire for better building material. The evolution took on a still better stage when natural gas made architectural beauty more possible. Today finds granite, marble and sandstone, and the finest of brick the accepted materials. Light colored granite has the preference, as can be seen at the intersection of Wood street and Sixth avenue, and in other places. This material has come to stay, and the stone age has fairly set in for the iron city.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

The family of Richard Wagner received $2,600 sterling as their share of the profits from the recent performances at Bayreuth.

Opportunity is in respect to time, in some sense, as time is in respect to eternity; it is the small moment, the exact point, the critical minute, on which every good work so much depends.—Spray.

The Irish Pasture McGovern, in whose family tradition has handed down a successful cure for hydrophobia, recently received $12 from the Newry board of guardians for curing four patients sent to him by them.

Lizards present a strange phenomenon. Their tail, brittle and easily broken, lives for a considerable length of time after being separated from its bearer's body; and, more than that, the lost tail is in a comparatively short time replaced by another, similar to the amputated one.

Fire proofing material of all kinds is now so economical in cost as it is serviceable and ingenious in character. There is a building in Chicago constructed wholly of terra-cotta.

Foundations for the new and great library of congress are now building. Gen. Casey, the engineer in charge, has about $6,500,000 allowed him for the structure. The library will be large enough to serve for ninety years, and with small additions for 150 years.

An English paper gives this explanation of a familiar phrase "by hook or crook." About a century ago two celebrated king's counsel flourished, whose names were respectively Hook and Crook (pronounced "Crook"). They were generally opposed to each other in all important cases, and people said, "If you cannot win your case by hook you will by crook." Hence the proverbial idiom which is now so firmly grafted into the English tongue.

The distance in miles at which an object upon the surface of the earth is visible, is equal to the square root of 14 times the height of the observer in feet above the surface, and, conversely, the height in feet to which an observer must be placed to see a distant object, is equal to two-thirds the square of the distance in miles.

In the steeple of the Congregational church at Bingham, Somerset county, Me., there hangs an ancient bell that has been swinging in various bellfries 100 years or more. On its outer surface is stamped "Revere, Boston," and it is supposed to have been made by Paul Revere, who after the peace of 1783, established a foundry in Boston where he cast the first cannon and bells manufactured in Massachusetts. The old bell has a good tone and seems likely to last another century.

A Million of Babies.
Take your pencil and follow me while we figure out what will happen to the 1,000,000 of babies that have been born in the last 1,000,000 seconds. I believe that is about the average—"one every time the clock ticks." Oct. 1, 1890, if statistics don't belie us, we will have lost 150,000 of these little "prides of the household." A year later 300,000 will be keeping company with those who have gone before. At the end of the third year we find that 22,000 more have dropped by the wayside. The fourth year they have become rugged little darlings, not nearly so susceptible to infantile diseases, only 8,000 having succumbed to the rigors imposed by the master. By the time they arrive at the age of 12 years but a paltry few hundred have left the track each year.

After three score years have come and gone we find less trouble in counting the army with which we started in the fall of 1889.

Of the 1,000,000 with which we began our count but 370,000 remain; 630,000 have gone the way of all the world, and the remaining few have forgotten that they ever existed.

At the end of 80, or taking our mode of reckoning, by year 1869 A. D., there are still 97,000 gray haired, shal-ded grannies and grandfathers, too old, too hairless and happy. In the year 1840, 1,000,000 babies with which we started in 1839 will have dwindled to an insignificant 223 helpless old wrecks, stranded on the shores of "Time." In 1892 all but 17 have left this mundane sphere forever, while the last remaining wreck will probably, in seeming thoughtlessness, watch the sands filter through the hour glass of Time and die in the year 1897 at the age of 108. What a bounteous supply of food for reflection!—Cor. St. Louis Republic.

Appeal for Commutation of Sentence of John Wilson.
To every humane man and woman in this county:
A petition may be found in the business office of THE CITIZEN, of which the following is a copy:
"To His Excellency Daniel G. Fowle, Governor of the State of North Carolina.
"Dear Sir: Your petitioners whose names are hereto signed respectfully pray your Excellency to commute the sentence of John Wilson who is now in Asheville jail awaiting execution in Yancey county on February 7 next, from death to life imprisonment in the State Prison.
"Our reason for this petition is that the said Wilson was crazed by liquor, when he committed the homicide, and we think that all the ends of justice will be reached effectively by such commutation."
One of the counsel for Wilson has written me that he will visit Yancey county and procure the signatures of the jury who found the verdict, and I appeal to every man to sign this paper to show that in a child of that Father "whose mercy endureth forever."
I urge every woman to add her influence to show the sympathy which they must feel for the wife of the prisoner, whom they might have seen a few days ago in her dearest affliction, tending her husband in his cell. Let this poor woman and her children at least have the comfort of occasionally seeing the husband and father during his life in the penitentiary.
The prisoner says he has no excuse to make except that he was crazed by liquor to such an extent that he did not know what he did. I believe this to be true, because I do not believe him to be a man of strong mind, and in this I am corroborated by that Rev. J. C. Rankin, who has visited him repeatedly, and to whom I refer.

Three negroes are to be hung at Rocky Mount, Va., for firing that town during the late campaign, and during twenty-seven hours. They were convicted, partly on their own confession, saying they were instigated to do so because the use of the tobacco warehouse, to which the fire was first applied, had been denied to Mahone for a place of meeting and speaking. The Knoxville Light Infantry has been detailed to be present at the execution to maintain peace and order.

DOUGLAS' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory, for you get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L.
