New YORK, January 25.—Miss Nellic Bly has completed her trip around the world. She accomplished the task in 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes, having covered during her travels a distance of 23,000 miles. Miss Bly reached Jersey City over the Pennsylvania railroad at 3.57 this afternoon, and was given a hearty reception by a crowd of friends and admirers which had gathered to greet her.

Whistles of steam crafts on the river gave her a noisy welcome as she crossed the ferry, and salutes were fired from Battery Park and Fort Greene Park. Battery Park and Port Greene Park. Brooklyn added to the din. In New York she held a reception at the World office

The Socialist Bill Defeated. RERLIN, January 25.—Herr Beibel, so-cialist, resumed the debate on the social-ist bill in the Reichstag to-day. Upon the conclusion of the debate the bill was put to a vote and it was rejected by 98 in the affirmation to 169 in the negative. Prince Bismarck did not appear in the chamber during the day. After the vote was announced, Herr Von Datticher, chief of the Imperial home office, and representative of the Chancellor, announced the close of the session of the Reichston. Reichstag.

York Comes out on Top.

Washington, January 25.-A delega tion of colored men from Virginia were before the house committee on the elec-tion of President and Vice President to-day to talk about the operations of the election laws in Virginia. There are five persons in the party, as follows: A. W. Harris, Joseph T. Wilson, W. W. Evans, I'. C. Carrigan and Ross Hamilton, They

I'. C. Carrigan and Ross Hamilton. They formed a committee appointed by a convention of colored people held in Richmond December 17th last to present this matter to congress. Harris was the principal speaker and he submitted a written statement, showing at length the manner in which it was alleged the registration laws had been evaded and manipulated in various federal elections. Other members of the delegation made short ad-Washington, January 25.—There was another protracted struggle in the house committee on the World's Fair to-day, bers of the delegation made short ad-dresses, and were closely questioned by various members of the committee con-various members of the committee con-cerning the statemen. Lay made.

The address presented by Harris says:
"The colored people of Virginia feel very keenly the unjust treatment to which they have been subjected, and take this means of protesting against a continu-ance of the same, and of expressing their convictions as to the relations which should exist between the races in the com-monwealth with respect to their moral and material advancement as well as to their political rights. At the same time they protest that the colored people hold their political rights. At the same time they protest that the colored people hold no idea, neither advance nor espouse any principle which they do not believe to be for the best interests of all the people of the State and conducive to her advance-ment in everything which would go to make her strong and potential in the ment in everything which would go to make her strong and potential in the American sisterhood of States. They de-sire, they say, to discountenance the be-lief or idea that they want or favor any organization which is antagonistic to the interest of the white citizens of the State; holding, however, now and always, that as colored men they have the right to meet in conference for their advancement. They declare themselves opposed to mixed schools and interested in every enterprise which adds seathly every enterprise which adds wealth to the State."

The address contained some statistics The address contained some statistics concerning the alleged election frands and outrages said to have been perpetrated in the State of Virginia in the last election. It says that on Saturday before the last election registration day 30,000 legal voters were disfranchised in Virginia. The address carnestly appeals to the law makers of the nation so to change the existing national election law that it shall no longer be in the power of any registrar or other election officer to disfranchise arbitrarily any voter to whom is given the right of ballot by the constitution of this country, and to remedy the wrongs and evils which they complain of by reducing the representation plain of by reducing the representation accorded in the house of representatives to that extent in which the suffrage in the Southern States, and especially in Virginia, is practically denied and sup-

THE SENTENCE APPIRMED.

The Anarchist Herr Most Again in the Tolls.

New YORK, January 25.—Herr John Most, the anarchist whose conviction and entence to one year in the penitentiary was affirmed yesterday by the general term of the supreme court, was arrested to-day by detectives from the central office. He was captured as he was leaving the house of Mrs. Hoffman, who was on his bond pending the decision of the court. He expects his coursel to obtain a further stay of proceedings, and another release on bail while his case is carried to the court of appeals.

Most was convicted of using language tending to incite a riot while making a speech at a meeting of anarchists held in November, 1887, to denounce the hanging of the Chicago anarchists.
