$5--DOLLARS!--$5

We will give Five Dollars to the person who guesses nearest the number of Colars humdrum-d during the week ending March 28th, at The Model Steam Laundry, 17 Patton Avenue.

All persons having laundry done to the amount of 25 cents will be entitled to guess.
The first correct guesser will get five dollars should two or more persons during the same hour guess alike and nearest the correct number, the five dollars will be equally divided.

We have recently made some changes in our Laundry. We have a competent and practical Laundryman in charge, and are now prepared to turn out work equal to the very best. Give us a trial and be convinced.

LAND FOR SALE.

In pursuance of the provisions of a certain written contract executed by and between the undersigned and John Brown on the 7th day of October, 1887, and on account of the failure of said contract, and finding that said contract was not being carried out, I, the undersigned, have assigned his interest therein to J. B. Sams, I shall expose to sale at public auction in the city of Asheville at 12 o'clock meridian, on Monday, the 31st day of March, 1890, the tract of land on which the said John Brown has heretofore resided, lying on the west side of the French Broad River and between said river and the Gorman bridge road and the Turkey creek road, adjoining the lands of W. W. Smith, Newcomer and others. For more particular description reference is made to the deed recorded in Book 40, pages 126, 127 and 128 in the Register's office of Buncombe county.

A POSSIBLE NEGRO STATE.

An opportunity seems now presented for illustrating the capacity of the negro for self-government. Oklahoma is the chosen field, and negro immigration is directed to that territory with the view of obtaining a preponderance of negro population and negro voters with the purpose of so dominating the polls that all the posts of trusts and responsibility will fall into the hands of the race claimed by its enthusiastic friends to be equally qualified with the whites for all the grave duties of citizenship, if they were permitted opportunity to illustrate their capacities.
As an experiment we are glad the opportunity is given. It will test the matter thoroughly. Apart to themselves, they come in conflict with no prejudicial or any external obstacles to impede their advancement. In their relations with government and the congress, standing on their own merits, makers of their own destinies, they will be relieved of the patronizing tutelage at once humiliating and embarrassing to any people claiming the rights and dignities of a common manhood. So much is claimed for them, they claim so much for themselves, we should be pleased rather than vexed to see them unobstructed in their aims and objects.
Perhaps, left to themselves, with the training they have had, and the ambitions aroused in their brains and hearts, they may do better than they have done in Liberia, better than they have done in Hayti, better than they have done in Jamaica. But to make the experiment a convincing one they should be left as much as possible to their own mental and moral resources. They should not be groomed by Ingalls or coached by Hoar or coddled by Blair. Otherwise nothing would be proved. There should be no propping or bolstering except through the aid given them for educational purposes. And the government should not meddle with them in the way of aid, encouragement or protection more than it is authorized to do with the negro in any Southern State. Acting independently, relying upon their own resources, exercising their own unaided talents and civic virtues, it will be an interesting study to compare their progress with that of the people of the Indian Territory, now in the full tide of evolution from the savage state which may be regarded as having passed the stage of experiment. The Indians, comprising several tribes, may be considered as the architects of their own civic fortunes. They borrowed much in their initial steps from white civilization. But they invented their own alphabet; they have been largely their own educators, they have conducted their own legislative and judicial systems, and may be fairly said to have worked out their own destinies.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

Wilkesboro wants a military company.

The Raleigh News and Observer is now over twenty years old.

Two Winston news boys deliver their papers while riding in carts drawn by goats.

The Roberdel dam, near Rockingham, was destroyed $6,000 worth by the recent floods.

A Stanley county man claims to be the father of thirty-two children and twenty-five of them are still living.

They don't call it "getting a gag on" now at Raleigh. When one's legs tangle and he gets double, he has "gotten illuminated."

Winston will indulge in a new hotel during the coming summer. It will be a beauty, and is to cost between $75,000 and $100,000.

Captain H. G. Latimer picked up two rattlers, ten miles off Cape Fear. They had been without food for two days and suffered severely from the cold weather.

Captain W. H. H. Tyson, of Chatham, an old Confederate soldier, committed suicide on Tuesday. He has been deranged for some time past.

Raleigh's new cotton factory is now nearly completed and it will be humming and buzzing merrily by the first of August. The plant and building will cost $125,000.

The Raleigh News and Observer makes the authorized statement that Senator Ransom never owned a lottery ticket.
The distinguished gentleman was lately reported to have drawn a $30,000 prize.

During his recent visit to Charleston vice-president Morton occupied the same apartment, which were used by the Princess Louise during her visit to that city several years ago.

Mr. William Whitley, of Stanley county, lays claim to 117 years existence on this vale of tears, and last fall he claims to have cleared two acres of woodland, and to have cut and corded all the wood on it.

The Raleigh Daily Chronicle is the latest aspirant for journalistic honors.
It made its first appearance yesterday.
It is attractive in appearance and new-Joseph Daniels and D. H. Browder are at the helm.

Frank Carter, of New Berne, attempted to force George Williams to leave his mill. He now wishes he had and will until two ugly knife wounds heal up. The assaulter has not been arrested.

Mr. W. G. Upchurch, of Raleigh, has only touched the high places for the past week. He thinks he has found a valuable deposit of granite on his farm and experts tell him that he does not overestimate it either.

The museum department of the State capital is to be enlarged. The walls partitioning off the rooms on the front side of the building are to be taken out. It is a much needed improvement, as the museum is badly cramped.

Ed. Pringle and Walter Reynolds, of Winston, used pistols to settle a little difficulty they had. Neither was hurt, but Reynolds managed to land one ball in his brother's arm. They will explain the affair at the next term of court.

A real mining expert, one of the name blown-in-the-bottle variety, has been noising around Stokes county lately, and the building are to be taken out. It is
seum is badly cramped.
