AMERICAN PLUCK AND HOPEFULNESS. We are in receipt of a letter from old correspondents of Louisville, Ky., C. H. Francke & Co., written a few days after the late disastrous tornado, by which they were sufferers in common with so many engaged in the tobacco business.

This is the characteristic of the American people everywhere. No disaster daunts them; no destruction, however comprehensive, extinguishes their energies, whether it come by fire or flood, tempest or pestilence.

And so it is everywhere in this country, whether it be on the Atlantic or the Pacific, in the North or the South.

A petition is to be sent to President Harrison. It is to ask him to pull the string attached to Mr. Eaves' appointment, and to hold it back until a second petition can be circulated.

A Missing Woman Found Not Missing. A business man presented himself at the business office of THE CITIZEN yesterday and announced excitedly that Mrs. Mary Rogers had been missing from her home on Woodfin street since the preceding day at noon.

Several well connected young men of Big Lick, Stanley county, were suspected of having a hand in the burglarizing of a number of stores in that vicinity. Before any action was taken the young men got a firm hold on the hireute appendage that grows directly over the brow of old father time and elapsed.

THEY WANT HIS SCALP. POLITICAL WRANGLE FOR REPUBLICANS ONLY. J. B. EAVES' CONFIRMATION TO BE FOUGHT. A Petition to be sent to the President Asking the Withdrawal of His Name.

The republican braves of the fifth congressional district have donned their paint and feathers and have started on the warpath in dead earnest. They are after red, red blood. It all comes about over the long deferred action of the senate on the name of J. B. Eaves, who is up for confirmation for the collectorship of this district.

Then there is another side. It is stated that Mott, while pretending to be an enemy of Eaves is really his friend and that his actions toward him are simply a blind--that he is trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the democratic congressmen from North Carolina.

A sensation spoiled. A business man presented himself at the business office of THE CITIZEN yesterday and announced excitedly that Mrs. Mary Rogers had been missing from her home on Woodfin street since the preceding day at noon.

That there might be some interesting news in the notice was apparent, and at 4 o'clock a reporter was sent to the house to learn if anything had been heard of the missing woman, if foul play was suspected or if it was thought she had committed suicide.

Celia Ray and Fannie Angel, two colored women, were fined $3 each by the Mayor this morning for cursing. Ben Lee, who was charged with fighting, was discharged because of the absence of witnesses.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES. Murphy's new furniture factory is said to be a go. Asparagus is being shipped from Scotland Neck. Bishop Lyman confirmed six persons during his recent visit to Monroe.

Edgecombe county claims she will market 25,000 pounds of butter this year. A Raleigh liquor dealer says business is dull because farmers do not come to the city.

A railway official, who has just arrived from Mississippi, says the negroes who went there from North Carolina are having a hard time of it. A conductor of county teacher's institutes in North Carolina says that not more than half of the ferule welders are subscribers to a newspaper.

Prof. J. B. McCarty, a weather prophet of Cabarrus county, predicts a seven weeks drought, beginning in May and a general failure of crops. A spiritualistic medium in the person of a 14 year old girl has turned up at Tarboro and the town is all excitement over the wonderful manifestations.

Mrs. Mary House, an 84 year old woman of Weidon, was struck by a passenger train on the Raleigh and Gaston railroad and instantly killed. No blame is attached to any one. The constated election case of Boyer vs. Teague, concerning the office of sheriff of Forsyth county, has been argued before the supreme court, but no decision has been handed down.

Mr. B. F. Moore has sued the town of Tarboro for $100. The town offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of a number of housebreakers. Moore captured the gang and now wants the long green. The Durham Sun believes in turning peoples thoughts in a pleasant channel and its latest is the following: "How many that are living to-day will live to see the same time one year hence? Have you ever thought about it?"

Augustus Hennes, formerly of Monroe, was brutally murdered at Tradesville, S. C. His body was horribly mutilated and when found was in a gully covered with branches of dead trees. Rachel Cato, a mulatto, and a paramour of Mrs. Hennes is accused of doing the killing. Messrs. Verdery and Greenbeck, of New York, have purchased the Twigg property opposite Augusta, Ga., in Carolina. It is understood the plan is to build a bridge and have a cable line connecting with the city from a hotel to be built on the summit of the hill.

Edward Martin attempted to outrage Miss Martha Randolph at Reidsville. He was unsuccessful and tried to escape. A body of armed men overtook and captured him, and he was taken to Greensboro for safe keeping. On his way there he tried to suicide and begged his captors to hang him. Fires in Harnett county have done great damage. Much turpentine timber is ruined. The buildings on the farms of Sherrod Patterson, Malcolm McLean, John P. Shaw, Collins McArthur, and Neal McLean have been destroyed. Patterson saved his children at the last moment by placing them in the centre of a ploughed field.

Several well connected young men of Big Lick, Stanley county, were suspected of having a hand in the burglarizing of a number of stores in that vicinity. Before any action was taken the young men got a firm hold on the hireute appendage that grows directly over the brow of old father time and elapsed. The movement on foot at Winston to secure a $50,000 joint stock tobacco factory has met with gratifying success. Already proposals for much more than the amount of stock first proposed for the factory have been received, and now some of those most interested in the enterprise are endeavoring to increase the stock to $200,000 which would make it the biggest plug factory in the State.

MISCELLANEOUS. J. S. GRANT, Ph. G., Of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, Apothecary, 24 South Main St. FOR ALL HEADACHE USE HOFFMANN'S HARMLESS HEADACHE POWDER. They are a Specialty. The State board of education controls over a million acres of swamp land. Winston has now in operation no less than thirty-three tobacco factories. One hundred and twenty persons arrived at Winston in one day recently. For the quarter just ended the receipts of the Durham postoffice were $2,900. The Durham Daily Sun took a day off yesterday and gave its employees a holiday. Edgecombe county claims she will market 25,000 pounds of butter this year. A Raleigh liquor dealer says business is dull because farmers do not come to the city. A company with $50,000 capital will develop the fine brown stone quarries near Sanford. It is proposed to hold a State convention of lumbermen some time during the coming summer. Raleigh is agitating the question of having a chain gang and utilizing its loafers and vagrants. The Rocky Mount Phoenix has already begun to talk of North Carolina's exhibit at the World's Fair. A worm that girdles the trees is said to be responsible for the death of a number of pine trees around Raleigh. Mr. S. G. Barbee, of Durham, is going to make it warm for a teacher who whipped his daughter. That is of course if the law will let him. Tom Dunn, a member of the Raleigh base ball nine, has been tendered a position with the Philadelphia league club. His position is the field. Rev. A. R. Morgan, formerly principal of the Yadkin College high school, is now in Yokohama and writes a glowing letter home to his friends. A railway official, who has just arrived from Mississippi, says the negroes who went there from North Carolina are having a hard time of it. A conductor of county teacher's institutes in North Carolina says that not more than half of the ferule welders are subscribers to a newspaper. The Carolina manufacturing company has been reorganized and will resume the preparation of koolin for market at their factory at Hillsboro at once. Prof. John W. McCarty, a weather prophet of Cabarrus county, predicts a seven weeks drought, beginning in May and a general failure of crops. A spiritualistic medium in the person of a 14 year old girl has turned up at Tarboro and the town is all excitement over the wonderful manifestations.
