SALE OF REAL ESTATE. I will offer for sale at the court house door in the city of Asheville, N. C., on Saturday, the 30 day of May, 1890, at 12 m., the following described property: A lot of land, with the improvements thereon, lying near the old depot of W. N. C. & R. R., adjoining the lands of Woodwood & McClellan's old foundry lot, beginning at a stake on the east side of the railroad track, the S. W. corner of said foundry lot and runs with that line N 55 degrees E 100 feet to a stake; thence S 25 degrees 45 minutes E 150 feet to a stake; thence S 100 degrees 59 degrees W 100 feet to a stake; thence N 25 degrees 45 minutes W 150 feet to the beginning, containing about one-third of an acre more or less. This lot contains a good frame building with brick basement, 14 rooms, and a good well of water. Situated near the line of W. N. C. & R. R. and the C. E. Graham cotton factory, and other factories near the old depot. It could be made valuable as a boarding or tenement house. Terms one-third cash, balance in one and two years. J. G. MARTIN. apr 13 d d s

MISCELLANEOUS. ESTABLISHED 1874. W. C. CARMICHAEL, APOTHECARY, 20 SOUTH MAIN STREET, ASHEVILLE, N. C. For sixteen years I have carried on a Drug and Prescription business in Asheville, striving at all times to buy pure Drugs and sell no goods that are not strictly first-class in every respect. Everything warranted as represented or money refunded. My goods are pure and fresh and my prices as low as the lowest. Prescriptions filled at all hours, day and night, and delivered free of charge to any part of the city. Mr. J. Taylor Amis is with me, and will be pleased to meet his friends and customers. 1879. 1889.

THE DAILY CITIZEN. IT MAKES NO difference how plucky a man may be, his friends will always drop the p in telling of it.—Acheson Globe. THE WEST is trying some curious experiments in legislation. In Kansas City an ordinance has been passed imposing a fine of $2.50 on every qualified voter who does not vote. BY THE laws of Tennessee a man who sends a challenge to fight a duel is forever disqualified from holding office. And yet Congressman Phelan still holds his seat. PRINCE BISMARCK intends to devote the remainder of his days to making himself comfortable. He has dismissed his physician and intends hereafter to smoke as much as he pleases and to drink what he likes. MATTERS are reported to be in a bad way in the Argentine Republic. Trade is depressed, and so many bankruptcies are occurring that the commercial judges have to sit late at night to keep abreast of the work. GENERAL LEW WALLACE has applied for a pension to which he is entitled for service in the Mexican war. He does not need the money himself, and he has announced that if it is granted he will give it to the Montgomery county Orphans' Home. SAMUEL J. RANDALL died a poor man. He never climbed up the ladder of fame on golden runs. Men of less integrity would have made themselves millionaires with the opportunities that were his, but his rugged honesty was proof against money temptations. A WRITER suggests that Edward Bellamy should divide the $16,000 he has made from his novel, "Looking Backward," among struggling authors. This is absurd. Bellamy is not consistently bound to follow such a course until after the year 2,000 A. D.—New York World.

AN INGENUOUS Hungarian recently got up a scheme to swindle a lottery out of the $250,000 prize, and is now languishing in prison. This indicates that time-honored precedents must not be disregarded. The exclusive privilege of lotteries to swindle the people must not be subverted.—Pittsburg Dispatch. "Our loyalty to the truth," remarked the New York Herald yesterday, "overcomes our journalistic diffidence and compels us to say that the Herald to-day fairly outshines all preceding issues." It has long been suspected that truth and diffidence were the distinguishing characteristics of journalism in New York, but it is eminently satisfactory to have this fact established on good authority. THE WORLD continues its exposure of the Georgia convict system. But it has not yet put its finger upon the sorest spot. Judas Platt, the same treacherous boss who cheated us out of the World's Fair, is the boss of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, and that company employs about eight hundred convicts. Thus the republican leader, who poses as the friend of the workman here, prefers cheap convicts in the South. There may have been worse men on earth than Judas Platt, but if so history has neglected to pillory them by name.—New York Metropolis.

THE movement to secure real ballot reform in Connecticut is gathering strength as the successful operation of the system in other States illustrates more clearly the defects of the bogus scheme adopted in that State. The bill which the republican Governor Bulkeley vetoed, in obedience to the demands of the same class of politicians whom the democratic Governor Hill serves in New York, was an efficient bill. With the example of the redemption of Rhode Island before them, the ballot reformers of Connecticut are preparing to compel the adoption by the next legislature of a system which shall accomplish that which it proposes. THE STRING of democratic municipal victories this spring is not without significance, although it should be remembered that the democracy is apt to be strong politically in the centres of population. A review of the recent elections indicates a local drift quite unparalleled in recent years. The slide began in the first week of March, when 11 out of 13 cities in New York chose democratic mayors. At the same time five out of seven cities in Iowa did likewise, while Saginaw in Michigan heralded an almost unexpected success in the Michigan elections of last week, when Grand Rapids, for instance, increased the democratic plurality of 12 one year ago to one of 200. The more recent democratic successes the past week are a familiar story. It is only necessary to point out that democrats succeeded republicans in most of the New York cities, in Milwaukee, Helena, Mont.; Kansas City, Mo.; Bismark, N. D.; in many of the Indiana townships, and, among the rest, in Cleveland and Dayton, in Ohio. In places where the local democracy already held control democratic pluralities were increased. The result in Indianapolis, where a republican majority of 1400 two years ago was changed to one of 2800 for the democrats, is ascribed by the Indianapolis Journal to the poorest organizations the republicans have had in years; while the democrats are not slow to make dissatisfaction with President Harrison one of the causes as well. The Rhode Island election also tends to cheer the democratic heart.

ANOTHER RAILROAD. TO RUN FROM THE DEPOT TO PEARSON'S BRIDGE. TO BE A DUMMY LINE AND WILL COST ABOUT $150,000. IT IS AN ASSURED THING—The Survey has Already Begun, and the Work Will Commence When it is Completed. Asheville has another enterprise that promises to be a great advantage and benefit to the city. Another railroad is to be built, running from the Western North Carolina railroad, at the passenger depot, up Southside avenue and Valley street, across College and Woodfin streets and down the valley of the branch, crossing North Main street, to Pearson's bridge or the railroad bridge, and joining the Western North Carolina road, making a belt road around the city. Work on the survey was begun to-day. The motive power will be steam and both dummy engines and heavy locomotives will be used in operating the line. A depot for the distribution of freights will be located on Valley street, near the county jail. Only the best sixty pound steel rails will be used in constructing the road, and it will be capable of accommodating the heaviest engines and freight. Some of the most prominent and successful of Asheville's business men are interested in the scheme, and it promises to be a great success. A charter has already been granted by the State legislature, and work will begin as soon as possible after the completion of the survey. It is proposed to use the same force of hands and mules now working on the Vanderbilt road and the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as convenient. The road will be well equipped with the necessary rolling stock, and the route is to be about five miles long. The sum of $150,000 is to be invested in the construction and equipment of the line, and it is already an assured fact that the road will be built. When completed and in operation it will materially lessen the cost of drayage to the business part of town. The officers of the road are as follows: Nat Atkinson, president; M. J. Fagg, vice president, and W. T. Pennington, secretary and treasurer. Directors—Nat Atkinson, M. J. Fagg, W. T. Pennington, R. Pearson, C. M. McLoud and W. T. Reynolds.

TWO PLEASANT LETTERS. Their Effect on Secretary Jacobs is Decidedly Exhilarating. Secretary Jacobs, of the North Carolina Humane Society, received two letters this morning which have a tendency to make him very, very happy. The first is from John P. Haines, secretary of the American Humane Society, of New York. It compliments Asheville and Mr. Jacobs on the stand it is taking in behalf of the dumb animals and incloses blanks used in the practical workings of the New York association. Mr. Haines kindly offers to have a seal made for the society similar to the one used by them, with the exception of the wording. Where theirs reads "American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," the seal for the local organization will read "North Carolina Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals." The offer will be accepted. The second letter is from Geo. T. Angell, of Boston, one of the founders of the American Band of Mercy, and president of the American Humane Educational Society and of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It is complimentary in tone and expresses a desire that the local organization may be long lived. SUNDAY MORNING'S FIRE. Two Houses on Baptist Hill Completely Destroyed. Two small cottages belonging to William R. West, jr., and situated on Baptist Hill, were burned to the ground between three and four o'clock Sunday morning. They were valued at $800 and were partially covered by insurance. The alarm was turned in from the box at the corner of Patton avenue and Court Place and the company responded. They could do but little good for the houses were nearly destroyed when they reached the place. Both of the houses were occupied by colored families, although one of the latter were preparing to move and did not sleep in the house on Saturday night. Nearly all of the furniture was saved. How the fire originated is unknown. When it was discovered both buildings were in flames and none of the people can give any explanation of it. Mr. West does not think it incendiary. A Coming Treat. The New York Sun has the following to say of Annie Louise Tanner, who appears with the Ovide Musin Concert company at Opera Hall to-morrow night and at Battery Park on the night following: Annie Louise Tanner sang Lassen's "It Was a Dream," and afterwards the aria from "The Magic Flute." In both she made a very favorable impression, showing a mastery at once over the simple ballad and the bravura style. Two more sharply contrasted pieces than these could scarcely have been chosen, and they call for essentially different vocal gifts. It is to Miss Tanner's credit that she acquitted herself equally well in both.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES. Henderson's latest is a lawn tennis club. The railroad company are building the new depot at Greenville. Rust has made its appearance on the wheat in Gaston county. Whooping cough and forest fires are raging in Sampson county. The capacity of the Reidsville cotton factory will be considerably increased. Shipments of strawberries from Wayne, Duplin and New Hanover counties have begun. Forest fires have done considerable damage in Pitt county within the past few days. It is probable that the Western Insane Asylum at Morganton will soon be lighted by electricity. There were seven hundred persons at the banquet at Wilmington, which concluded the railway celebration. The negroes of Elizabeth City have an educational association, at which they discuss questions of interest to their race. A tent with 3,000 capacity has been provided for the revival meetings which Evangelist Bill Fife will begin at Gastonia May 1th. The saw mill and planing mill of Z. B. Newton, in Cumberland county, have been burned. The loss is $2,000, with no insurance. The State board of education has closed the sale of Vance's Island, containing 4,000 acres, to Congressman Raeburn, of Pennsylvania. Marshal R. H. Bradley, of the supreme court, was called to Tarboro by a telegram which stated that his father, Elias Bradley, was dead. Fifteen ministers and thirty lay delegates attended the session of Orange Presbytery at Burlington. It is the 24th semi-annual session. A company for the manufacture of ice has been organized at Durham with a capital of $20,000. Work on the building will be begun at once. While Captain Pettit, of Nash county, was on a trip to Nashville, leaving no one at his farm, his buildings were fired by unknown incendiaries and completely destroyed. The Sam Jones tabernacle at Charlotte has been completed and the building is ready for the public. A union service conducted by the city pastors was held in it Sunday night. John B. Cagle, an aged and respected citizen of Jonesboro, plowed all day Friday and went to bed in his usual good health. Before morning he was dead and it is supposed that heart disease is the cause. Since Evangelist Fife closed his meeting at Lenoirburg forty-nine accessions have been made to the different churches of the city. Of this number twenty-five are Presbyterians, fifteen Methodists and nine Baptists. William Wright, a negro hailing from Richmond, Va., was arrested at Raleigh, charged with stealing clothing and jewelry near Durham. Nearly all the stolen property was recovered and Wright confessed the theft. It is learned that several Farmers' Alliances in Rockingham county will boycott the market as a tobacco market as long as the dam across the river there is not provided with fishways. By the laws of this State fishways are required at dams. A negro named Allen Nelson was removed from the Rockingham to the Greensboro jail a few days ago. He was imprisoned for an assault upon a young lady in Rockingham county and to prevent his being lynched he was removed. Thus far about four miles of what is known as the Cripple Creek extension of the Cape Fear and Valhalla Valley railroad, between Mt. Airy and the Virginia line, has been graded. This is about half the distance. On this extension 410 convicts are now at work, and by July the grading will, it is expected, be finished. United States District Attorney C. A. Cook, at Southport, is looking into the claim of thirty thousand dollars which the government holds against the estate of Benjamin South. South had the contract in 1893 to build Fort Johnson and failed to complete it. Cook is trying to get hold of real estate to satisfy the claim. An attempt was made by a posse in Nash county to capture Robert Perry, an escaped convict, who is a very desperate fellow. He was at the house of his wife and advanced toward his wife and captors armed with a revolver he had taken from the prison guard. He opened fire on the posse and then fled. Twenty shots were fired at him, two of which took effect, but he escaped.

Col. A. B. Andrews, the second vice-president of the Richmond and Danville railway, was before the investigating legislative committee and testified regarding the Georgia company, which had its alleged headquarters at High Point. Colonel Andrews said he knew very little about the company and had nothing to do with its organization. The company was understood to control the Georgia Central Railway and Banking company. Governor Fowle has appointed the following delegates from North Carolina to attend the National Conference of Charities and Corrections to be held in Baltimore, May 14-21: Dr. E. Burke Hays, Raleigh; J. H. Mills, Thomasboro; Rev. J. J. Randle, Salisbury; Dr. B. F. Dixon, Oxford; Dr. J. P. Miller, Goldsboro; Dr. P. L. Murphy, Morganton; Rev. E. A. Osborne, Charlotte; Dr. Wm. R. Wood, Raleigh; Col. P. F. Faison, Raleigh. An interesting trial has been in progress at Tarboro. It is that of Prince Brown, colored, for the murder of John Early, a young white man. It ended in a verdict of guilty of murder. The jury was polled. Brown cried as each man pronounced the terrible word "guilty." Judge Womack sentenced him to be hanged May 22. The case is a strange one, but the verdict was in accord with the testimony. When Brown was first lodged in jail, March 30, he was suffering from a wound on the head and his left arm was paralyzed. This paralysis yet continues. Brown has appealed and may get a new trial.
