

MISCELLANEOUS. TRADE WINNERS. PURE GOODS, Correct Weights, Best Quality, Low Prices.

POWELL & SNIDER THE LEADERS IN FINE GROCERIES AND TABLE DELICACIES.

AT COST. Gents' Furnishings, and Hats.

THE ENTIRE STOCK OF SEASONABLE GOODS IN THE ABOVE DEPARTMENT AT PRIME COST, TO MAKE A CHANGE.

FIRST-CLASS GOODS! RARE CHANCE! GREAT BARGAINS! CALL EARLY!

30 South Main St. BON MARCHE.

H.T. ESTABROOK'S 22 S. MAIN ST., ASHEVILLE.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, FANCY GOODS AND TOYS.

Views and Sketches. apr 18 d

WILLS BROS., ARCHITECTS, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Office Barnard Building. P. O. Box 554.

Plans, Specifications, Details, &c., for every class of building at short notice.

ARTISTIC INTERIOR DESIGNS A SPECIALTY. Call and see us. apr 16 d 2m

Asheville, N. C., April 11, 1890.

The copartnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the firm name of PULLIAM & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

LAWRENCE PULLIAM, D. C. WADDELL.

To our patrons of the past: I have this day sold my interest and good will in the insurance business in Asheville to Lawrence Pulliam, who will continue the business.

LADIES ATTENTION LADIES' OXFORD TIES in Black, Tan and Fancy colors in great variety.

LADIES' BUTTON BOOTS in the best standard makes from the cheapest to the finest.

Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest.

F. E. MITCHELL, NO. 28 PATTON AVENUE.

Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Gents' Furnishings. apr 21 d 1m

MISCELLANEOUS. $100,000 TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE SECURITY In amounts of not less than $1,000. Apply to A. J. LYMAN, Real Estate and Loans, Nos. 21 & 22 Legal Block. apr 21 d 1w

THE ASHEVILLE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, ROOMS, 26 PATTON AVE., (Y. M. C. A. ROOMS.)

Open daily, except Sundays, from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m., and 4 until 6 p. m.

Officers for 1890—President, Charles W. Woolsey; Vice-President, Thos. A. Jones; Sec. and Treasurer, D. S. Watson; Librarian, Miss E. J. Hatch.

Citizens and visitors are cordially invited to inspect the catalogue and inscribe their names as members. Jan 30 d 1r

English and French BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL, FOR YOUNG LADIES AND LITTLE GIRLS, No. 40 French Broad Avenue.

MRS. BURGYN MAITLAND, PRINCIPAL. (For many years Associate Principal of Mt. Vernon Institute, Baltimore.)

ARDEN PARK HOTEL AND COTTAGES, 10 miles South of Asheville, on A. & S. R. R.

TERMS: Per Month, $10.00; Per Week, $2.00; Per Day, $1.00.

Dinner and Tea Parties on one day's notice, 75 cents.

Thos. A. Morris, Prop., JAMES FRANK, REAL ESTATE.

WALTER B. GWYN, W. W. WEST, REAL ESTATE.

Gwyn & West, (Successors to Walter B. Gwyn) ESTABLISHED 1881

REFER TO BANK OF ASHEVILLE. REAL ESTATE. Loans Securely Placed at 8 Per Cent.

Notary Public. Commissioners of Deeds. FIRE INSURANCE. OFFICE—Southeast Court Square.

CORTLAND BROS., Real Estate Brokers, And Investment Agents.

Loans securely placed at 8 per cent. OFFICE: 24 & 26 Patton Ave. Second floor. feb 11 d 1v

JOHN CHILD, (Formerly of Lyman & Child), REAL ESTATE

AND LOAN BROKER. Strictly a Brokerage Business

Loans securely placed at 8 per cent. THOS. P. HAMILTON & CO., GROCERS, ****

* BIG 22, Patton Avenue.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE. I will offer for sale at the court house door in the city of Asheville, N. C., on Saturday, the 30 day of May, 1890, at 12 m., the following described property:

A lot of land, with the improvements thereon, lying near the old depot of W. N. C. R. R. Co., adjoining the lands of Greenwood & McLellan's old foundry lot, beginning at a stake on the east side of the railroad track, the S. W. corner of said foundry lot and runs with that line N 59 degrees E 100 feet to a stake; thence S 25 degrees E 45 minutes E 150 feet to a stake; thence S 100 feet 50 degrees W 100 feet to a stake; thence N 25 degrees 45 minutes W 150 feet to the beginning, containing about one-third of an acre more or less.

This lot contains a good frame building with brick basement, 14 rooms, and a good well of water, situated near the line of W. N. C. R. R. and the C. E. Graham cotton factory, and other factories near the new depot. It could be made valuable as a boarding or tenement house.

Terms—third cash, balance in one and two years. J. G. MARTIN, apr 11 d 1s

MISCELLANEOUS. ESTABLISHED 1874. W. C. CARMICHAEL, APOTHECARY, 20 SOUTH MAIN STREET, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

For sixteen years I have carried on a Drug and Prescription business in Asheville, striving at all times to buy pure Drugs and sell no goods that are not strictly first-class in every respect. Everything warranted as represented or money refunded. My goods are pure and fresh and my prices as low as the lowest. Prescriptions filled at all hours, day and night, and delivered free of charge to any part of the city.

Mr. J. Taylor Amisiss with me, and will be pleased to meet his friends and customers.

1879. 1889. S. R. KEPLER, DEALER IN FINE GROCERIES.

Purveyor to intelligent and appreciative Asheville and American families. Palates and tastes of people who believe in good living cannot be humbugged by "Cheap John" goods. Cheap goods and first quality are not synonymous. I have in stock and to arrive, all reasonable specialties, comprising in part Fruits, Oranges, Lemons, Cranberries, Raisins, Figs, Nuts, etc.

Miscellaneous—Choice O. K. New Orleans Molasses, for table use, Prime New Orleans Molasses, for cooking, Extra fine Assortment of Crackers. Fine Teas and Coffees a specialty.

Mince Meats—Gordon & Dilworth's, and other brands. Plum Pudding, Cal's Foot Jelly, etc. Pressed and Crystallized Ginger. Shad Roe in kits. Roe Herrings and all other goods in demand for the Holidays. S. R. KEPLER.

Any effort at a positive reform in the balloting system which does not insist upon official ballots, delivered only to the voter in the polling booth, is a delusion and a snare, and is meant only to give an opening for party frauds to put in their finer work. Nor even in States where illiterates are permitted to exercise the franchise, should there be any deviation from the rule or any means by which their educated friends can come in to help them in indicating their preference.

Whereas, The board of aldermen is a perfectly useless and unornamental body, which has become a disgrace to the city; Resolved, That the menagerie be moved outside the limits of the city, where the smells will not offend good citizens.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

This is flippant indeed. Where would New York have been on the scroll of fame if her aldermen had not been around to make her infamous?

A comic turn was given a recent debate in the United States senate in the Montana election case by Senator Vance reading a telegram received from Montana which he read, amid laughter on the democratic side, as follows:

Hurray for honest citizens who vindicate the Hurray for law and liberty; the people won the fight! Republican corruptionists went weeping to their fate. For the voters placed the ban upon the men who stole the State. The mourners speak in whispers, there's a craze upon our doors, good citizens.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE TORREY BANKRUPTCY BILL. The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE SHOE STORE. Herring & Weaver, IN SHOES OF ALL GRADES, FINE HATS. 39-Patton Avenue-39 Asheville, N. C.

THE DAILY CITIZEN. FACTS AND OPINIONS.

The grand May day demonstrations of workmen to be held in the Austrian cities may well cause the Emperor to shudder at the thought of how soon he may find himself without a throne. The cause of labor is republicanizing Europe at a rapid pace.

Gov. Miller of North Dakota thinks that the battle over the lottery question may not yet be ended, and that it may be an issue at the next election. He notices, though, "that there have been no more $150,000 prizes drawn in North Dakota since the bill was killed."

The London Saturday Review, voicing the British "upper classes," says that the Russian was well enough in his way until some evil genius suggested educating him. The "upper classes" read their doom in the new lights that are abroad, but it is too late to shut them off.

International Journalism.—Hip Lung of Chinese newspaper at Peking: "Here's a report of a most awful storm in the United States. Hundreds were killed." Fin Wing (managing editor): "Give it five lines on an inside page; that's the way they treat our disasters."—Puck.

Congress may ponder to political necessities as much as it pleases, but it will never persuade the self-respecting people of this country that anti-Chinese legislation would be included in to so unjust an extent, if the Chinese had votes, and were mean enough to sell them to the party willing to pay the biggest price for them.

Several months ago a man in New York city offered prizes for the best essays on the extermination of mosquitoes. The awards have now been made, and the first prize goes to a woman in Philadelphia, while the second and third honors are divided equally between two men in New York.

Whatever else may come of the deliberations of the Pan-American Congress, the agreement arrived at to hereafter settle all national disputes between any two of the republics of North, South and Central America and Hayti by arbitration will be esteemed as more than justifying all the labor and expense that have attended the sittings of the delegates.

Any effort at a positive reform in the balloting system which does not insist upon official ballots, delivered only to the voter in the polling booth, is a delusion and a snare, and is meant only to give an opening for party frauds to put in their finer work. Nor even in States where illiterates are permitted to exercise the franchise, should there be any deviation from the rule or any means by which their educated friends can come in to help them in indicating their preference.

Whereas, The board of aldermen is a perfectly useless and unornamental body, which has become a disgrace to the city; Resolved, That the menagerie be moved outside the limits of the city, where the smells will not offend good citizens.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

This is flippant indeed. Where would New York have been on the scroll of fame if her aldermen had not been around to make her infamous?

A comic turn was given a recent debate in the United States senate in the Montana election case by Senator Vance reading a telegram received from Montana which he read, amid laughter on the democratic side, as follows:

Hurray for honest citizens who vindicate the Hurray for law and liberty; the people won the fight! Republican corruptionists went weeping to their fate. For the voters placed the ban upon the men who stole the State. The mourners speak in whispers, there's a craze upon our doors, good citizens.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE TORREY BANKRUPTCY BILL. The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

MEET NOW AS FRIENDS. BUT THEN THEY MET AS MORTAL ENEMIES.

A STORY OF YEARS AGO AND ITS HAPPY END.

A Little Incident That Happened a Few Days Ago at the Battery Park—Heartily Laugh Over a Former Serious Matter.

Some time in 1863 or 1864 a gentleman, his wife and mother were traveling the road leading from Saluda to Greenville, S. C., and when descending a hill to a small creek, they came upon two men picking away over the creek on the stones protruding from the water. Into the creek the horses trotted and the parties passed each other so quickly that time was scarce given for a passing glance, which revealed, however, to the man in the carriage that the pedestrians were strangers to the locality, and had even a foreign look. At that time every man able to bear arms was in the Confederate army or could be accounted for at home, so the presence of the two men seemed suspicious. Thinking the matter over the gentleman in the carriage remarked that he believed they were escaped prisoners or spies, and intimated that he should when reaching a neighbor's house further on, let the ladies proceed, and return to investigate. This was so strenuously opposed that he had to give it up. When reaching Greenville, he spoke of it to several, and was informed that some federal prisoners had escaped from Columbia not long before, and the men he had met were very likely of the lot.

Some days ago the same gentleman being in the Battery Park hotel, a friend said, "Carson, you see that gentleman seated over there by the pillar? Well, he was a federal soldier escaped from Columbia, traveled all through the country between here and there, was captured in Haywood county as he was making for Tennessee, and was sent to Salisbury, where he remained in prison till the war closed. He is now a successful Wall street man, and revisits North Carolina for pleasure and recreation and to look again over the ground where, twenty-five years ago, he was a fugitive. Come, I will introduce you, he is a most interesting talker."

"Which way did you travel in coming into the mountains?" asked Mr. Carson, after the subject had been broached. "Up by Saluda, leaving Greenville to our right," replied the gentleman. "By the way, we ran a narrow risk of discovery and capture at a place I shall never remember. It was at a creek on the main highway, and as we were trying to cross, dry shod, a small creek, we met a carriage containing a man and two women; and did not discover the vehicle in time to conceal ourselves, and by the expression in the man's eyes we felt sure he looked upon us with suspicion. We looked for pursuit but we never discovered any, if it was made. For awhile I was very much frightened. We were afterwards recaptured by a squad in Haywood county."

"My friend," said Mr. Carson, "I was the man you met, and I remember the meeting distinctly." And so the two gentlemen laughingly talked over the matter, after the lapse of a quarter of a century, much to the edification of some who can scarcely realize the troublesome times the period embraced.

The gentleman is Mr. Chase, of New York, and he says he has never forgotten what a fine section of country this was when he tramped over them, and now that he has the time, comes back to renew his acquaintance with it, though connected with some of his most arduous experiences. He laughingly discussed all the incidents of his life in the South as prisoner and fugitive and his battle with and final overthrow of fickle fortune since.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE TORREY BANKRUPTCY BILL. The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE TORREY BANKRUPTCY BILL. The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

THE MUSIN CONCERT. It was a Most Pleasant and Enjoyable Affair.

The Musin Concert company played to an appreciative audience at Opera Hall last night. Nearly every one of the eleven numbers on the program were enthusiastically encored. The features of the evening were the violin playing of Ovide Musin and the soprano of Miss Annie Louise Tanner.

The French violinist was of course the star of the entertainment. His playing shows the touch of genius and afforded pleasure to all who were within hearing of his magic bow. He was on the program for two numbers but appeared as many times more in response to encores. Miss Tanner possesses a full rich voice exceedingly well cultivated. Her high notes are remarkable for their purity, and her singing is absolutely free from musical stage tricks. Her first number, "Brilliant Bird," enraptured her in the hearts of the audience. She too was recalled after each number.

Clemente Bologna, the baritone of the company, and Charlotte Nicolai, the contralto, also possess good voices and met with favor with the audience, and Edward Scharf, the pianist, covered himself with glory in his rendition of Paraphrase on Faust, Gounod, Liszt, and a Mazurka, Benjamin Godard, and a Rigaudon, Raff. The company appear again to-night at Battery Park, and M. Musin will execute the beautiful and difficult variations of Rossini's Prayer of Moses in Egypt using only the G string.

THE TORREY BANKRUPTCY BILL. The Torrey bankruptcy bill that has been reported to the national house of representatives is believed to be as great a bill as is attainable. It meets the case of insolvent persons who are dishonest, while it does no harm to the interests of the honorable debtor. It promises sound commercial credit and adds faith to commercial transactions on the part of business men. It presents the principles that should govern in dealing with bankruptcy in an easily understood form in its provisions, and will be accepted by the mercantile world as an important aid in this respect. There is reason to believe that if it become law the abuses now complained of, both by the debtor and creditor, will be relieved, and the new rules introduced in trade will put the business of the country on a better basis of safety and honesty than it has known for years.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES.

Strawberries and green peas are on the Wilmington market.

Mr. John Shore, a magistrate of Old-town, died at the age of 75.

Winston thinks that an English syndicate has its eye upon her.

A. H. Rowland, of Wilson, has been appointed a member of the State board of pharmacy.

James A. Higgs, a Raleigh man, has just paid $27,000 for a cotton factory in Gaston county.

Richard Cooper was fatally stabbed by Julius Potter at Wilmington. The parties are colored.

Aside from Charlotte High Point claims more manufacturing establishments than any town in the State.

The walls of the Tryon Street Baptist church at Charlotte are being frescoed and the interior improved.

Burlington's new bank, established by the Morehead bank, of Durham, will be opened for business about May 1.

The county commissioners of Granville county have appropriated $300 per annum to the Granville Grays, of Oxford.

The 17-year-old son of Mrs. Stewart, of Statesville, seriously wounded his mother while playing with a supposed unloaded gun.

Work on the executive mansion will begin soon and it is thought that the Governor may occupy it before the end of the year.

The seventh annual council of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina has been called to meet at Greenville May 14th.

S. B. Winstead, treasurer of Person county was thrown from his buggy and received serious injuries, although probably not fatal.

W. H. Gray, the Chicago man who purchased Libby prison, passed through Green-boro the other day and bought a $700 lot there.

A number of young men of Charlotte have organized a society, the individual members of which promise to pay cash for all that they buy.

Wilmington erected $310,000 worth of buildings during the twelve months ending March 31st. Two hundred and seven buildings were erected.

A spotted animal twice the size of a dog and with a head like a cat, but bearing the good people around Newton. They think it is a tiger or leopard.

The Wilmington Light Infantry, who were to have attended the unveiling of the Lee monument at Richmond have given it up and will go to Charlotte instead.

A. H. McNeill has discovered on a tract of land near Carter's mills, in Moore county, a rich deposit of manganese. Said to be the finest quality. The ore is worth $75 per ton.

A movement is on foot among the chess-mates and pupils of the late Captain J. E. Dugger, so well known as an educator, to erect a monument to his memory over his grave at Warrenton.

The Electric Light and Street Railway company, of Winston, have purchased eighty acres of land in the northwestern part of the city. Their purpose is to erect a mammoth hotel. The price paid was